Built Like an Automobile
You have never seen a mower like this
It is Really New and Different

Come in and go over the entire mower. You'll agree that you have never seen anything like it.

McCormick-Deering
No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower

WE are anxious to have all of our friends see the New McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower. We think it is one of the finest pieces of farm equipment we have ever sold!

Everybody who has seen it says they never had any idea that a mower could be built as this one is.

For example: The entire operating mechanism, including drive gears, differential, and countershafts, is assembled compactly in an oil-tight gear housing and runs in a bath of oil. There are four high-grade roller bearings. Operation is so smooth and noiseless that you can scarcely hear the light hum of the sickle!

Special oil seals at the ends of the main axle and fly-wheel shaft, and the oil-tight gear box prevent leakage and protect all working parts against the entrance of dirt and other abrasive materials. Floating action of cutter bar provides ample play without disturbing knife registration.

This compact nest of enclosed gears runs in a bath of oil—full yellow. The cover, B, makes the gear case dust-proof and oil-tight. Clutch is thrown in and out by lever, A.

Good Dairy Cows
Pay Best Profit

Ten good cows are more profitable than 20 low producers.

In fact, low producers are often an expense rather than a profit, declared R. H. Ruffner, head of the animal husbandry department at State College.

A cow giving six quarts of milk a day just about pays for her feed, Ruffner said. She pays nothing for stable rent or for the labor required for her care and milking.

But a cow giving 10 quarts of milk daily will yield a net profit of $40 a year. Ten such cows will produce a clear profit of $400 a year. Cows giving more milk produce an even larger return.

The exact figure, of course, will vary with local conditions, the price of milk, and the cost of feed, Ruffner added.

Many dairymen who did not make money last year are thinking of buying high-priced cows. In many instances they would do better to sell their lowest producers and endeavor to raise the efficiency of their better animals.
