REHEARSAL PARTY

Following the rehearsal of the Newton-Case bridal party on Monday evening, Mrs. Haywood Smith delightfully entertained the contracting parties, Miss Vivian Dale Case and Rev. Pliny Foster Newton, members of the bridal party and others assisting in the wedding.

Misses Dorothy and Mary Elizabeth Smith and Ruth Hayes Turnage served punch as the guests arrived, and Miss Verona Lee Joyner invited them into the dining room, where ices were served from the table by Miss Annie Perkins and Mrs. Haywood Smith. The table was centered with the lovely wedding cake on which stood the miniature bride and groom, flanked by tall white tapers, the other appointments also carried the bridal motif, with the wedding party in miniature arranged on the buffet. Assisting in serving the ices, mints and nuts were Misses Frances Bivens Smith, Lillian White Gardner, Joyce Faircloth, Doris Rouse and Frances Faucette.

Little Miss Ann Jones directed the guests into the reception hall, where Miss Margaret Lewis and Miss Alice Wooten presided over the bride's book. Miss Mary Thorne Tyson played while refreshments were served, and violin, piano and vocal music were rendered later in the evening by various members of the bridal party.

Honest And Truthful

Charlotte, N. C., May 25th, Farmville Enterprise, Farmville, N. C. I am writing this in regard to my good friend, Colonel Ed Flanagan, who served in the House of Representatives in the years of 1881 and 1883. Allow me to say of all the men I knew in the course of those two years, I do not know of anyone who impressed me more with honesty and truthfulness. He is a credit to the State and also the County he represented. I am writing this without the knowledge or consent of Colonel Flanagan. As I am growing old I wish to pay this tribute to a friend.

Yours very truly, UNCLE TOM HARRIS

NEWTON-CASE

In an impressive ceremony, characterized by great dignity and beauty, Miss Vivian Dale Case became the bride of Rev. Pliny Foster Newton, of Kenly, Tuesday morning, at ten-thirty o'clock. The vows were spoken at the Methodist Church, with Rev. O. B. Newton, of Norfolk, Va., brother of the bridegroom, officiating.

An artistic background for the wedding tableaux was created with Boston ferns and ivory floor baskets of lilies in stately arrangement within the rail enclosed pulpit space, which was lighted with cathedral candles in tall standards entwined with lace fern.

As the wedding party assembled, a program of lovely nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Haywood Smith at the organ. Preceding the entrance of the bridal party Mr. Jennings East, of West Virginia, and a Duke University student, played violin solos, "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "Traumeri," John D. and Elbert C. Holmes sang a duet, "The Want Of You." Mrs. M. V. Jones rendered a solo, "At Dawning," and a vested choir sang the Bridal Chorus from "The Rose Maiden," and at the conclusion of the ceremony sang the three fold Amen. The Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the recessional, with McDowell's "To A Wild Rose," played softly during the ceremony.

The ushers, Shoman Holloway, Augusta, Ga., senior at Duke, Herbert Grizzard, Jr., and William Edger-ton, of Kenly, and James Wilkerson, took their places as the processional began. Next came Mrs. E. B. Dale, of Portsmouth, Va., and Mrs. W. E. Waters, of Rocky Mount, dames of honor. Mrs. Dale wore a pink all-over lace dress with blue hat and accessories. Mrs. Waters wore blue lace with pink accessories and a flower trimmed leghorn hat. Both carried arm bouquets of pink snapdragons and blue delphinium.

Little Misses Betsy Willis Jones, Mary Leah Thorne, Martha Moore Dale and Adelaide Lehman were flower girls. They wore identical costumes of pink tulle, Colonial fashioned, with rosebud halos and carried Colonial nosegays.

The bride entered the Church with her cousin, H. L. Dale, of Portsmouth, Va., who gave her in marriage. Her lovely gown was of white lace and her cap fitted two-tiered veil was held in place with seed pearls and caught in the back with a cluster of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses showered with valley lilies.

They were met at the altar by the bridegroom attended by his brother, Rev. C. E. Newton, of Chino Grove, as best man.

The bride, attractive and of charming personality, is the daughter of Mrs. George Case, of Farmville. She is a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, and has been for several years a member of the Farmville school faculty, and active in church and community affairs.

Rev. Newton is a native of Missouri. Educated at Duke University he has held the Walstonburg and Kenly Methodist charges since his ordination. After the ceremony Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Newton left by motor for a wedding trip to Western North Carolina, and the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia.

Quotes Laws Regard Labor

Number of Violations Child Labor Law Reported in County

The District Inspector of the North Carolina Department of Labor, W. G. Watson, has just completed a number of visits in Greenville and Pitt County in the matter of employment of children under sixteen years of age. He reports a number of violations of the child labor laws.

K. T. Futrell, welfare agent, gave the following information regarding the employment of children:

"It is a violation of the law to employ a child under sixteen years of age without employment certificate, also employment of children under sixteen for more than eight hours per day and the employment of children under sixteen after seven p. m."

"Employment certificates may be obtained at the Welfare Office without cost. Failure to secure an employment certificate is a violation of the law for which the employer may be fined or imprisoned. Full information concerning the child labor laws may be had upon application and also a copy of the Child Labor Regulations may be had upon request."

"It is not the desire to bring prosecution against anyone but unless conditions improve in Pitt County, in matters of employment of children without being properly certified it will be necessary to bring legal action. The full cooperation of parents is earnestly requested to the end that employment of children may be safe-guarded as well as protect the employer under the child labor laws of the state."

HONORED AT TEA

Mrs. W. J. Rasberry and Mrs. George W. Davis entertained on Thursday afternoon at one of the loveliest of a series of spring parties, which have honored a trio of recent brides, this affair taking the form of a tea and honoring Mrs. W. G. Waters, of Rocky Mount, formerly Miss Emma Dale, and Mrs. W. A. Allen, Jr., the former Miss Margaret Davis.

The pink and green color motif was effectively carried throughout the attractive Rasberry home in mass arrangements of roses, sweetpeas and lark-pur, the dining room being particularly lovely with the table bearing a centerpiece of carnations, painted daisies and fern, flanked by crystal candelabras with tapers in the prevailing colors.

Receiving the guests as they arrived were Mrs. J. M. Wheelless and Mrs. John T. Thorne, with Mrs. J. H. Harris receiving in the music room and introducing them to the receiving line composed of Mrs. W. J. Rasberry, Mrs. C. W. Davis, Mrs. W. G. Waters, Mrs. Pattie Dale, Mrs. W. A. Allen, Jr., Mrs. F. M. Davis, Miss Vivian Case, Miss Alice Dale, Mrs. Lucille Forbes, of Wilson, Miss Margaret Waters, of Rocky Mount, Mrs. T. E. Joyner, Mrs. Fred E. Davis, Mrs. Lynn Eason, and Mrs. J. H. Moore.

Satterfield, Mrs. H. Haywood Smith received, and Mrs. John D. Holmes and Mrs. John T. Bynum presided over the bride's book.

A musical program was rendered during the afternoon by Mrs. John D. Holmes, soloist, Mrs. Haywood Smith, Mrs. M. V. Jones, Mrs. Daisy H. Smith and Mrs. I. E. Satterfield, pianists.

Good byes were said by Mrs. J. B. Shearin, Mrs. John E. Joyner and Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck.

More than two hundred guests called during the designated hours, from four to six o'clock.

Septuagenarians To Meet Saturday

Plans are being made for the annual meeting of the Septuagenarians, according to Watt Parker, organizer and promoter of the organization.

The program, which will be presented in the school auditorium at ten o'clock, will include local speakers, Mayor Lewis and Superintendent H. H. Moore, with John Hill Taylor acting as master of ceremonies. The program will be brief this time, primarily, as the Septuagenarians find that they tire of lengthy addresses, and the dinner with basket affairs, served picnic style.

Rev. Ryan Addresses Literary Club Here

In a thought provoking talk on "Peace," Rev. William A. Ryan, Christian minister of Greenville, urged members and guests of the Farmville Literary Club, at their meeting on Wednesday, to "think and talk Peace—read about it, be informed, and help strengthen public opinion in regard to it." "For," he declared, "public opinion can enforce anything. It is the most powerful of all laws." Enumerating the destruction of lives and property during the World War, as given in statistical figures, Rev. Mr. Ryan pleaded for conferences rather than bullets in settling difficulties between nations and individuals.

Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck gave echoes of the recent Council Meeting of the General Federation in Miami, and the program was brought to a delightful close with the rendition of vocal selections by Elvira Tyson, Farmville high school senior, winner in the alto class in the spring State musical contests at Greensboro. Mrs. Roebuck accompanied the young singer.

Mrs. J. I. Morgan and Mrs. J. Y. Monk were given rising votes of appreciation for their services of several years as treasurer and librarian respectively, and Miss Edna Robinson and Mrs. Mimie S. Warren were elected, upon their resignation, to these offices.

The hostess, Mrs. B. S. Sheppard, was assisted by Mrs. Jack Smith and Miss Tyson in serving a delightful ice course. Garden flowers in harmonizing shades and artistic arrangement were used in the home.

Sales Tax Nears 10-Million Mark

Levy Expected to Yield Estimated Amount; Road Revenues Maintain Lead

Raleigh, May 27.—Revenue receipts to date indicate that sales tax collections for the current fiscal year, the first year during which the levy has been applied to all groceries and meals, will approximate $10,000,000, with a possible differential of $100,000 each way, said commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell yesterday. The $10,000,000 figure was the final estimate of the levy's yield before it was voted into law.

The latest report of the Department of Revenue, dated May 23, showed yesterday that the exemptionless tax had yielded $9,290,097.43 up to that time, as compared with only $6,992,509.83 during the same period in 1934-35. A gain of $2,297,587.60 has been shown. During the month to date, the sales tax has yielded $814,580.26. If the next month's receipts approach that figure, the goal of $10,000,000 will be reached easily by the end of the fiscal year on June 30.

Commissioner Maxwell's forecast on highway revenues also appears certain to be fulfilled in the year-end report. Though auto license tag collections have been cut from $7,156,548.30 on May 23 to $6,437,010.36 during the same period in 1936 as, the result of the cut in rates by the last Legislature, an increase in gasoline taxes from $15,959,434.39 to $17,437,947.50 during the same comparative period seems certain to cause a net increase in road revenues.

REPORT ON STATE AND PITT COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS CLINIC

This clinic was held in Pitt County last week, beginning Monday and closing Friday. There were three clinic centers, Ayden, Farmville and Greenville. The clinic was under the direction of Dr. Alban Papineau, of the State Sanatorium, and Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, County Health Officer.

The number of white adults examined was 96, colored 40, total 136. New, that is not discovered before, white 3, colored 10, total 13.

Old cases, that is, previously diagnosed, white 16, colored 2, total 18. The number of patients examined for tuberculosis but found to have some other disease and referred to their family physician for same were, white 9, colored 4, total 13.

Number of new cases who have already applied to the Sanatorium for admission are white 2, colored 1, total 3.

Patients negative for tuberculosis, white 66, colored 23, total 89.

Number of children given tuberculin or skin test were white 52, colored 25, total 77. The figures on the results of these are not available at present.

The total number of adults attending the clinic was 136, total number of children 77, making a grand total of 213 persons served by the clinic, as compared with a total of 131 persons served at the spring clinic held last year.

The Health Officer, Dr. Ennett, states that the increased interest in tuberculosis, as shown by attendance at this clinic, was encouraging. Last year's clinic showed a total attendance of 131 persons against 213 for this year's clinic, a gain of something over 62% in attendance. He expressed the belief that while the citizens in general were more interested, he felt that the physicians of the County were primarily responsible for the large increase in attendance, because many of them not only advised their patients to come to the clinic but urged them to come.

In speaking of the value of this diagnostic clinic to the County, the Health Officer called attention to the fact that in the control of tuberculosis that diagnosis was simply one step, the first step, that the next step, of course, is proper treatment, which means proper care for the patient and proper protection for the family.

Out of the 31 adults with active tuberculosis who attended the clinic, only a small number will be able to get into the State Sanatorium. The others who cannot afford a private sanatorium must stay at home, probably infecting other members of the family, unless the County can make some provision for proper segregation. This matter of segregation is the crying need in our effort to control tuberculosis in Pitt County.

Attractive Program For Opening Swimming Pool

WPA Activities In This District

(Continued from last week) WPA has also operated in Pitt County a County Wide Lunch Room Project for the two-fold purpose of giving employment to women on relief rolls and to help the schools serve lunches to the needy children enrolled. Ten women have been employed on that project and with the assistance of these women 33,140 lunches have been served at a total valuation of $1,098.61.

The Register of Deeds in Pitt County has long been anxious to initiate a project for indexing the records of vital statistics in his County. We were able to secure an approved project application for this work and five women, experienced in clerical work, have been given employment on this project. This project will be invaluable to office holders, Attorneys and other citizens who have occasion to use the Vital Statistics Records. Much of the credit for the successful operation of this project is due Mr. J. C. Gaskins, Register of Deeds in Pitt County.

Probably no work done by the Women's Division in the State has had more favorable comment than that being carried on in Book Mending and Library Projects. In Pitt County fifteen women have been employed to mend books for the schools and libraries all over the county. These Women have mended and restored to the book shelves in excellent condition approximately 2,849 books at an approximate valuation of $2,403.27. All materials used on this project have been furnished by the County Board of Education and the various Library Boards in the County. WPA again believes that much of the success of this project is due the County and City Board of Education and the officials connected with the Sheppard Memorial Library. Mrs. W. C. Vincent, Librarian has at all times worked untiringly for this project.

In addition to the above mentioned projects, four Federal projects have been carried on in the County. Ten unemployed teachers have work under the Emergency Education Program, ten professional and white collar workers have been employed on the Federal Census, Federal Theatre and a District Wide Farm Survey project. Forty-three youths have been given employment in Pitt County under the National Youth's Administration.

In District No. 2, of which Pitt County is one of the twelve counties, $225,665.49 has been allotted to Women's Work and 1,389 women have been given employment. There has been turned over to the twelve County Welfare Departments 138,133 garments at a total valuation of $98,167.32. 11,190 books mended at a total valuation of $7,741.06 and 478,467 lunches served to undernourished children at a total valuation of $3,812.98.

The unemployed women have been given equal consideration with the unemployed men in the WPA program and 40% of the number employed in District No. 2 are women. Excellent work has been done by the men on these projects and Mr. Hill, Director WPA of this District, wishes the general public to know about these accomplishments. Every citizen in Pitt County interested in its women is urged to go by the Library in Greenville this week and see what these women can and have done when given the opportunity.

Friends and relatives here will remember that three years ago young Mr. Donald then sixteen years of age, a grandson of the late Dr. and Mrs. Sam Morrill, and a nephew of Dr. D. S. Morrill, of Farmville, won a scholarship to Wofford college, in a state wide competitive contest.

GARDEN CLUB

The members of the Garden Club, with Mrs. Josie McArthur, Mrs. Plato Monk, Miss Annie Perkins and Mrs. J. E. Warren as additional guests, were delightfully entertained by Mrs. J. M. Hobgood on Monday afternoon. American pillar roses, displayed in an exquisite white vase, daisies in brown containers and an artistic arrangement of sweetpeas, enhanced the loveliness of the home.

Miss Bettie Joyner, chairman, presided and told of the progress made at Moye's Park as a recreational center for children, with the recent donations of sand piles, seats, swings and bird houses, and of the work done there in the past few weeks.

The names of the members having attended four meetings since the first one in the fall, and thus becoming eligible to attend a luncheon to be given by the Woman's Club, were announced during the business session.

Mrs. Frank Harper read a fine article on the cultivation and care of azaleas, giving a list of the best varieties to plant. Miss Tabitha M. DeVisconti read a selection, "Symphonies In My Garden," and Mrs. D. R. Morgan, president of the Woman's Club, talked on Highway Beautification, expressing the thought that the country as a whole faces the need of educating its people to the view that God-given beauty must not be destroyed, but kept unspilled because it belongs to everyone.

"The approach to a town is its introduction," she said, and urged that the town greet travelers and guests with trees and flowers instead of trash heaps, automobile grave-yards and bill boards. "Lets make our highway a parkway and eliminate these unsightly objects," she said in closing, and made the suggestion that the Paul's Scarlet Climber rose be planted on the highways through the town.

The hostess, during the social period, served a tempting course of refreshments, consisting of sherbet and sandwiches with pansies decorating each plate.

Some Timely Farm Questions Answered At State College

QUESTION: Will Landlords or farm owners share in the soil-conserving payments for land taken out of production of soil depleting crops?

ANSWER: Yes. This payment will be divided among owners, share-tenants, and share-croppers in the same proportion as the principal soil-depleting crop or the proceeds from this crop is divided under the lease or operating agreement. Soil-building payments, however, will be made to the producer who incurred the expense in following out the soil-building practices. If two or more producers incurred this expense then the payment will be divided between all parties.

QUESTION: Can a grower reduce his food and feed crops and receive soil-conservation payments?

ANSWER: Where such crops have been produced in excess of home-consumption needs for the farm, payments will be made only with respect to the chifting of all or any part of this excess production. Where these crops are grown with a soil-conserving crop no deduction will be made from payments due unless the food and feed crops are in excess of the needs for horse consumption on the farm.

Sheep growers of Mitchell county are marketing their lambs and wool in cooperative pools.
