WHAT CAN I GIVE.

Lord Jesus, what birthday gift Can I lay at your feet? I've thought of lots of things, But none seem quite complete.

Precious stones and ointments I could not buy. And they are not worthy of you, Who for me, was willing to die.

I'll kneel down and pray. Words are so incomplete. I feel more than I can say.

Your answer comes to me,

WHELESS DRUG CO. FARMVILLE, N. C.

The dawn of Christmas Day thrills the heart of a weary world. Many have been disturbed by grief and failure. There vises in the human heart this common spirit of cheer and confidence. All earth takes on a new glow. Defeat is transformed into victory. Why this new experience? But what is the meaning of all

Indeed, the message of Christmas is a message from the Son of God and tte Savior of Men. There is still a great need in the lives of men for the message of Christ. Sin still has a destructive grip upon the world, bringing wreck, unhappiness and ruin. As much as ever should we realize the emptiness of our desires, for we need to be saved from ourselves as even from our sins. Christ came, not only as a great prophet, but as a messenger, that God might be with us. This then is the meaning of Christianity. He is our Light. He is our Hope.
