MISS WARD HOSTESS

Miss Russell Ward was hostess at a lively bridge party on Saturday evening, in compliment to Miss Alice Coggins, at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. LeRoy Rollins, which was aglow with bridge lamps and colorful with arrangements of snapdragons and other cut flowers.

Four tables were in play, the ladies' high score award, a heart-shaped box of sweets, was won by Mrs. W. N. Spruill, and the men's prize, a carton of cigarettes, was won by A. P. Burton, of Wilmington.

The hostess was assisted in serving a delicious sweet course and salted nuts by Mrs. R. LeRoy Rollins, Mrs. W. N. Spruill and Miss Marguerite Johnson.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

Miss Evelyn Horton was hostess at bridge Wednesday afternoon, entertaining her card club and several additional guests. Japanese quipes and ivy were used in the decorations.

Mrs. J. G. Spencer won the high score prize for members, pepper and salts, and Miss Pennie Keel Lang was awarded the guest prize, a flower bowl.

At the conclusion of the games the hostess served Bavarian cream and angel cake, followed by coffee, cheese crackers and salted nuts. Special guests were Miss Mary Elizabeth Humphrey, of Goldsboro, Mrs. W. Alexander Allen, Jr., Miss Pennie Keel Lang, Miss Edna Foust Harris, Mrs. Fred E. Davis and Mrs. Julian H. Ramley.

Lenten Services Episcopal Church

Your attention is called to the fact that the Lenten season will commence with Ash Wednesday, on February 10. During the season services will be held weekly, these services to be directed toward a re-estimation of spiritual values in the light of each individual's experience, and an effort made to discover, for each one, his or her place in the great program of the Church of the Living God. The definite aim will be to interest each one in a determination to a deeper loyalty to the cause of the Kingdom of God.

Jesus found it necessary to spend Forty Days in the Wilderness thinking through the problems of everyday life in their relation to God. So you and I need to spend some time thinking over the problems of life by which we are confronted, and to devote some special attention to the things that are spiritual and of timeless significance.

On February 17, at seven-thirty o'clock, Rev. George Gresham, of Goldsboro, will be the speaker at Emmanuel Church; Rev. B. F. Huske, of Kinston, February 24; Rev. W. R. Noe, Wilmington, March 3; Rev. Stephen Gardner, Washington, March 10; Rev. Worth Wicker, Greenville, March 17.

Farmville and surrounding community are invited to attend these meetings, which will be conducted in a most informal and helpful way. Seek and you will find new power for personality development, and a door opened into large fields of worthwhile service.

Jack R. Rountree, Rector.

CONTRACT CLUB

The Contract Club was delightfully entertained Tuesday afternoon, by Mrs. G. S. Vought, at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden. Jonquils, narcissus and table appointments in the yellow and green were features of the decorative scheme, these colors being emphasized also in the salad course served after the games. Mrs. Robert Lee Smith compiled high score and was presented with a boudoir novelty.

Additional guests of the hostess were Mrs. Robert Lee Smith and Mrs. J. G. Spencer.

PROGRESSIVE BRIDGE CLUB

Members of the Progressive Bridge Club and special guests, Mrs. S. A. Roebuck and Mrs. M. V. Jones, were delightfully entertained on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. L. T. Pierce, at her home, in which spring flowers were arranged in artistic combinations. The high score award, a hot roll cover, was won by Mrs. S. A. Roebuck. A delicious congealed salad, sandwiches, rolls, sand tarts and coffee were served.

LITERARY CLUB

Mrs. J. I. Morgan, Sr., was hostess to the Literary Club on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden, in which spring flowers were pleasingly arranged.

During the business session communications from various representatives were read, regarding recommendations presented by the club, relative to certain legislative measures.

The study of "Angels and Amazons," begun in the fall by this group was concluded at this meeting with papers by the president, Miss Tabitha DeVisconti and Mrs. J. H. Darden, relating to suffrage and women in trade unions, temperance, business and medicine.

At the conclusion of the program a delicious salad plate was served.

BLACK-DRAUGHT A GOOD LAXATIVE

BUYERS PAY EXTRA FOR Good Feel

Buyers pay extra prices for tobacco that has a smooth, velvety feel that means quality—Extra prices mean Extra profits to the grower . . .

POTASH has a greater influence on quality than any other element in tobacco fertilizer. Heavy yields and best quality are obtained when tobacco is fertilized with 700-1,000 pounds per acre of mixtures containing 8 to 10% potash, according to Southern experiment stations. Use plenty of potash. The investment in growing tobacco is too great to take a chance on mixtures which may not give the desired yield and quality. You will be surprised how little it costs to get more potash in your tobacco fertilizer.

Consult your county agent or experiment station for the right mixture for your own farm conditions . . . Write us for further information.
