You reach a certain level of intelligence when you are ready to admit that you don't know all the answers.

It begins to look like it will take a few thousand additional Italians to win the Spanish war.

In life it is well to remember that death strikes with warning and so, you might as well live your best now.

A good rule to follow, in developing your personality, is to express yourself honestly. It isn't always done.

The bright school child wants to know if there is any reason why "being educated" should be a tedious process.

The law should recognize no difference between persons and violations should be punished without exception.

In that future day, when all secrets shall be revealed and all things made known, a lot of men will have to flee the country.

When the wage scale ascends the moral tone moves upward. This is one argument for a higher standard of living for all the world.

ABOLISH THE "FIXER."

Every reader is familiar with the enormous loss of life through highway accidents in this country every year and many have seriously pondered the problem of safety.

Recently, an experienced police officer declared that one of the greatest handicaps in enforcing traffic regulations was the "fixer." The officer said, "Nowadays almost everyone, from the ditch-digger to State Senator, has a friend in the police department or knows someone who has." Given a ticket for violating traffic regulations, they appeal to the friend who, too often, finds it hard to refuse them.

In conclusion, this official expresed the opinion that we would soon have better drivers and safer highways if everyone knew that there would be no "fixing" of a traffic summons. This observation is essentially sound. Unless those who violate traffic laws are apprehended and punished, the fatalities on highways and streets will continue to increase.

"TOADSTOOLS" POISON WOMAN

Lucaston, N. J.—A physician sought to save the life of Mrs. Christian H. Toth, 70, a victim of toadstool poisoning. He had been summoned to her bedside by a note tied to the collar of a pet white poodle.

DIES DESPITE PRECAUTION

Abilene, Texas.—When Riley Swift, 38, went fishing he always took the precaution of tying himself to a tree to protect himself from drowning. However, his body was found dangling from a rope tied to a willow tree, his head submerged in a creek. Had the rope been six inches, he would not have drowned.

State College Answers Timely Farm
Questions

Question: How can peanuts be stacked to prevent soilage?

Answer: The stack should be built so that the nuts are not exposed to the weather and finished in such a way that water will not run down the center. Canvas hay caps are recommended for use on top of the stack. Nail two cross arms on the center pole 12 inches from the top to keep the vines off the ground.
Loose soil in the stack will also cause damage to the pods and nuts and for this reason the ground should be fairly dry when the peanuts are dug.

Question: May skim milk or buttermilk be substituted for the dried milk recommended in the poultry laying mash?

Answer: Yes. Where milk is produced on the farm this substitution can be made with a big saving in feed cost for the average farm flock.
When only the dried milk is removed from the mash, one gallon of skim milk or buttermilk should be fed daily to 100 hens. When skim milk or buttermilk is fed at the rate of three gallons a day for the 100 birds, it may be substituted for all of the dried milk products, one-half of the fish meal, and one-half of the meat meal recommended.

Question: How can I control cattle lice on my calves?

Answer: The following remedies have proven effective in controlling this insect. A four percent solution of creolin applied with a spray pump or brush; Cotton seed oil and kerosene, equal parts, and ground sabadilla seed and flowers of sulphur, equal parts, applied in powder form. A dip or liquid remedy should be applied in an even layer over the entire body of the animal. Oils, however, should not be used on very warm or very cold days. When powder is used, the hair should be clipped from the affected parts of the body and the powder applied only on the clipped places. A second treatment should be given within fifteen days to kill lice which hatch after the first treatment.

There are children who have already had enough of school.

DO SMOKERS APPRECIATE CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS?

THE BEST ANSWER IS:
CAMELS ARE THE LARGEST-SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA!

IS it good business to spend millions more for costlier tobaccos? Well, the fact that Camels are the largest-selling cigarette shows that men and women do find something choice—something different—in Camels. Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

DEVOTION TO PARENTS

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
That to himself has never said "My Father, my Mother who brought me here Shall ever be cherished in memory dear?"

If there be such a one, mask him well,
Of them, let justice and honor tell Their doom, their shame, their unhallowed name

To the world, to destiny, from whence they came.

Like unto birds that are of a feather, Who are always found flocking together, Let men be true and mingle with one another

Standing ready to defend Father and Mother.

No human, living mortal being, Living on God's earth, without a feeling
That they owe to their Father and Mother

More gratitude, more honor than to any other.

Let conscience smite, then, like a snare Until they realize, from whence they came and where.

Life's speedways are not all gilded in gold;
No man should forsake, nor forget the aged and old.

When Life's morn is swiftly going,
And the bells of evening are tolling, Twilight with dew is gently falling And a distant voice is heard calling.

Like King David we should pray, As we live through from day to day, Oh, God forsake us not when we are old,
But take us into your sacred fold.

No words that human life has ever spoke
No thoughts, no poems man ever wrote

Can recompense for our gifts, from one another, Nor the debt we owe to our Fther and Mother.

When we live three score years and ten,
We may be numbered as old women and men;
But we should never forget from whence we came

Nor ever regret the gift of our name.
—Watt Parker.

COW WRECKS CAR

Wickenburg, Ariz.—Mrs. Elmo Maize's car was demolished when a cow, sailing through the air, draped itself around the front of her automobile, sending both the cow and the car into the ditch. The cow had been hit by a bus traveling in the opposite direction, which hurled it into the path of the oncoming automobile.
Result: A wrecked car, a disabled bus and a dead cow.

ple superphosphate is being used are
