NOTE OF APPRECIATION
I wish to express my sincere appreciation to my friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and other expressions of sympathy extended me during the death of my beloved husband.
Mrs. Virginia B. Howerton.

JUNIORS OBSERVE ART WEEK
In effort to cooperate with both the State and National Federated programs, the Farmville Junior Woman's Club observed National Art Week by decorating a window of the Rouse Printery with copies of famous paintings by noted artists.
The lovely basket of chrysanthemums in artistic arrangement and blending of colors, added a note of living color and form to the window, which attracted numbers of passers-by.

ARMISTICE DAY ONE OF PRAYER

November 11, Armistice Day, was observed by Episcopalians here as a Quiet Day of prayer for the peace of the world through fellowship, the local Church being kept open by the women of the Auxiliary for a season of quiet meditation and petition.

PROGRESSIVE BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Jack Smith delightfully entertained the Progressive Bridge Club on Thursday afternoon in her home, which was artistically decorated with bowls and vases of roses and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. L. T. Pierce, who compiled high score, was presented with a lovely candy jar. Following the usual number of progressions a marshmallow salad course was served. Mrs. Claude Barrett was a special guest of the hostess.

P. T. A. POSTPONED

Because of the N. C. E. A. District meeting which is to be held in Greenville on November 19-20, the Farmville Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening, Nov. 18, at 7:30 P. M. At this time there will be a special program, a feature of which will be a Thanksgiving play by Miss Margaret Lewis's third grade.

WEEK OF PRAYER

Members of the Methodist Missionary Society have observed this week as a Week of Prayer, setting it aside for prayer, Bible Study and an intensive survey of missionary districts and their needs by various leaders among the women.

Meetings were held each afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church. Offerings collected during the week will be sent to missions.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Members of the Junior Woman's Club held a delightful meeting on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Jack Lewis as hostess. Beautiful fall flowers lent color for the occasion to the Lewis home near Farmville.

Mrs. Jesse Moyer presided at the business session when, in continuation of the club project for the year, the members decided to donate readers to the third grade of the Farmville school.

Featuring the program for the afternoon was a discussion of "The Efficient Kitchen," by Mrs. W. H. Moore, Jr.

A delicious salad course was served during a pleasant social hour.

U. D. C.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy, Rebecca Winborne chapter, were delightfully entertained on Friday by Mrs. G. M. Holden, in which fall flowers were used with artistic effect.

Mrs. R. H. Knott presided and the devotional exercises were led by the chaplain, Mrs. T. W. Lang.

Business matters of note included the decision of the Daughters to present the Farmville Library with a set of books, "North Carolina in the War Between the States," and the appointment of Mrs. J. W. Parker as a delegate to the national convention in Richmond this month. A report of the recent state convention held in Raleigh, was given by Mrs. Parker.

Miss Mary Frier Rouse read a splendid paper reviewing the progress of the Daughters from 1864-65.

Following adjournment a delightful salad course was served.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Frank M. Davis Jr., entertained at a lovely bridge luncheon on Tuesday morning at the Holden home on Contentnea street, having as guests the New Deal Club members and additional friends playing at five tables, arranged in a sitting of colorful autumn flowers.

Mrs. S. A. Garris scoring high for members, and Mrs. R. H. Knott for guests, were awarded crystal ball necklaces, and Mrs. D. R. Morgan and Mrs. I. E. Satterfield won fruit juice glasses as prizes for second high.

Table appointments carried the Thanksgiving motifs and a sumptuous turkey luncheon with mince-meat pie was served after four progressions.

MERRY MATRONS

The Merry Matrons held an interesting meeting on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Hobgood as the gracious hostess, and Mrs. Wesley R. Willis presiding.

The program for the afternoon, dealing with adult education, was presented in splendid talks by Mrs. J. I. Morgan Sr., who reviewed Dr. James Morsell's book, "Streamline Your Mind," and by the president, Mrs. Willis, whose subject, "Modernization of the Mental Power Plant," was developed by an outline of Walter B. Fittkin's "More Power To You."

A delectable salad and coffee were served after adjournment to members and special guests, Miss Edna Robinson, Mrs. L. R. Ennis and Miss Annie Perkins.

Fall flowers and foliage were in pleasing arrangement throughout the home of the hostess.

We may be mistaken, as we often are, but it seems to us—well, maybe we are mistaken!

IN THE WAKE OF FLOOD

This scene was enacted many times in refugee centers established by the Red Cross during the Ohio-Mississippi Valley flood. Inevitably floods bring the danger of disease as drinking sources become contaminated and large groups of people are thrown together. The medical-health service of the Red Cross serves thousands each year, and is maintained by membership funds contributed to the organization at the time of its annual Roll Call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving.

LITERARY-ART DEPARTMENT

Associate hostesses for the November meeting of the Literary-Art Department of the Woman's Club were Mrs. W. J. Rasberry and Mrs. J. W. Bass, with the meeting being held in the home of the former on Wednesday and presided over by Miss Annie Perkins. Handsome chrysanthemums in the autumn colors, from the garden of Mrs. George W. Davis, added charm to the Rasberry home.

An interesting sketch of the life of Stephen Foster was given by Mrs. A. Hywood Smith. Others appearing on the program were Mrs. John D. Holmes, Mrs. J. Sterling Gates and Mrs. Daisy H. Smith; Mrs. Holmes singing "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair," and the trio rendering a group of Foster's favorite compositions. A Contest on composers was conducted by the president after the program.

A frozen salad course was followed by black coffee and mints, with Misses Lurline Bass and Mary Alice Beaman assisting the hostesses in serving.

Special guests at this time were Mrs. John T. Thorne, Mrs. Batchelor Mrs. J. R. Shearin, Mrs. F. M. Davis, Sr., Mrs. B. M. Lewis, Mrs. Anne Riggsbee, Mrs. H. B. Johnson and Miss Georgia Howard.

INVITATIONS ISSUED

The following invitations have been issued to out-of-town friends this week, with friends of Farmville and community being invited to attend without formal invitation:

Mr. Lyman Lewis Eason requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of his sister, Sarah Elizabeth, to Mr. David Thurman Harris, on Wednesday, the twenty-fourth of November, at ten o'clock in the morning, Christian Church, Farmville, North Carolina.

Notice To Milk Customers

This is to notify my customers that after December 10, I will not be allowed to sell any milk or milk products in any form.

I have given my time and energy to make sure that milk sold by me was as pure and wholesome as could be produced and I appreciate your patronage these many years, and still more, your confidence in continuing to buy milk from me since it has not been graded.

Will not deliver milk after November 30.

Sincerely,
MRS. J. D. GATES.

DUKE GIRLS NAMED TO CHAPEL CHOIR

Friends of Miss Helen Willis, the popular and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley R. Willis, who is a freshman at Duke University, are congratulating her upon being recently named among the twenty-four girls selected from the Glee Club there for honor posts. A limited number of selected voices are chosen from the 150 men and women making up the Glee Club each year for the Duke Chapel choir, which is one of the largest college choirs of mixed voices in America. Each Sunday they sing before 2000 people and present a program of special music at Easter, Christmas and commencement.

Miss Willis did outstanding work here in the Glee Club and also in the Farmville Symphonic Chorus, and her distinct talent for music has been recognized by teachers and friends here since childhood.

In addition to making the Glee Club at the opening of the fall semester Miss Willis entered French 3 as a freshman, having had only two years of study of this language, and was made a member of the circulation department of the University's weekly paper.
