NOTE OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to friends for their many acts of kindness during the illness of our husband and father, George H. Burnette.

Mrs. G. H. Burnette and Children.

HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Pace Fuller, of Durham, who was a popular member of Farmville's "tobacco colony" again this fall, entertained at a lovely bridge luncheon on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden. Yellow chrysanthemums, which were in evidence throughout the home, marked the places of the guests at six tables, and a yellow and white motif was carried in the sumptuous turkey luncheon served at one o'clock.

In the games of progressive contract, which followed the luncheon, Mrs. H. H. Bradham Jr. won a handsome hostess' plate, and the runner-up, Mrs. Lath Morris, was awarded a lovely bowl.

LAMAD CLUB

Mrs. Ted L. Albritton delightfully entertained the Lamrad Club on Tuesday at the apartment of Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., which was lovely with its artistic arrangement of chrysanthemums. Delicious refreshments were served after several progressions to members and the special guests, Mrs. J. G. Spencer and Miss Edna Foust Harris.

GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. J. I. Morgan Sr., was gracious hostess to the Garden Club on Monday afternoon. The chairman, Miss Bettie Joyner, presided over a short business session, in which she reported having delivered 2100 bulbs for fall planting, and requested the members to sell 100 bulbs each in furtherance of their beautification program.

In response to an invitation by the Woman's Club to present the program at its next meeting, Mrs. J. I. Morgan Sr., was appointed chairman of a committee to serve in this connection.

A splendid program was developed as follows: a selection, "Fall Work in the Garden," read by Miss Tabitha DeVisconti; a talk, "How to Make a Compost," by Miss Bettie Joyner, and a reading, "Over the Garden Wall," by Mrs. B. S. Sheppard.

The hostess, assisted by her small son, Bob, and special guests, Mrs. J. I. Morgan Jr., Mrs. R. H. Knott, Mrs. G. M. Holden and Miss Edna Robinson, served delicious refreshments.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Continuing their chosen program of study for the year, "The Home," members of the Farmville Junior Woman's Club heard an interesting discussion of "The Fundamental and Basic Principles of Architecture," by Miss Kathleen Holtzclaw, Home Ec instructor at E. C. T. C., Greenville. Miss Holtzclaw illustrated her lecture with colored slides, being assisted in this connection by Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, a Farmville student at the Greenville college.

Mrs. Jesse Moyer presided, introduced the guest speaker, and in a brief business session found the Club in favor of assisting in the local Christmas seal sale and in supplementing lunches of children in one of the primary grades.

Mrs. James Smith was cordially welcomed as a new member. Upon arrival the club members were served delicious refreshments by the hostess, Mrs. J. I. Morgan, Jr.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Mrs. C. A. Tyson and Mrs. O. G. Spell were joint hostesses at a delightful meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary on Monday afternoon at the home of the former.

Mrs. R. LeRoy Rollins, in charge of the program, based on "Membership," listed among the many opportunities offered women for service as members of the organization; that of working for peace, the disabled, rehabilitation, child welfare, and the perpetuation of American ideals.

Mrs. George Ballew and Mrs. E. F. Gaynor read selections relating to the November holidays, Armistice and Thanksgiving.

Veterans at Oteen were sent special gifts this month according to reports and committees were appointed at this time to assist two needy cases and in the local Christmas seal sale.

Stuffed angel cake and Russian tea were served after adjournment by the hostesses and their special guest, Mrs. W. A. Frost.

MISS EASON WEDS DAVID T. HARRIS

The wedding of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Eason to Mr. David Thurman Harris, was solemnized in a ceremony of impressive simplicity in the Christian Church on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, with the pastor, the Rev. C. B. Maahurn, officiating.

The center of the pulpit space was banked with ferns and on either side were floor baskets of white chrysanthemums flanked by tall standards of cathedral candles.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. M. V. Jones rendered a lovely program of wedding music, using Schubert's "Serenade," selection from "Samson and Delilah," "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and "To a Wild Rose" during the ceremony.

Mrs. A. E. James, of Robersonville, sang "At Dawning," and a duet, "The Want of You," was rendered by John D. and Elbert C. Holmes. A vested choir sang the "Bridal Chorus" from the "Rose Maiden."

The wedding party led by Edward Dixon, of Wilson, Richard Harris, B. S. Smith Jr., and James Darden, ushers, entered to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin."

Miss Mae Anderson, maid-of-honor wearing a blue transparent velvet with veiled turban to match and carrying yellow roses, preceded the bride to the altar.

The bride, gowned in a smart beige travelling model, with a close fitting hat of brown and accessories of the same shade, entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Lyman Lewis Eason, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom, attended by his uncle, John D. Dixon, of Kinston, as best man.

Mrs. Harris, a vivacious and charming young woman, is the daughter of the late Gaston Eason and Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth People, and received her education at the Fountain High School and Greensboro College, at Greensboro.

Mr. Harris, a son of Mrs. Louise Dixon Harris and the late W. Howard Harris, is connected with the municipal light and water department.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris left for a motor trip to New York and other northern cities, expecting to return by way of the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia.

Miss Mae Anderson delightfully entertained members of the Harris-Eason bridal party following the rehearsal on Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. D. R. Morgan, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a white and green color note emphasized throughout.

The dining table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a large tiered wedding cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom, and flanked by lighted tapers in silver candelabra. Ices, salted nuts and mints were served.

At the close of the evening members of the bridal party were presented with lovely gifts from the groom-elect.

CLUB LUNCHEON

Mrs. W. C. Askew entertained the Progressive Bridge Club at a lovely luncheon on Wednesday at one o'clock at the Holden home on Contentnea street. Following the luncheon the club members played cards with Mrs. Jack Smith compiling high score and receiving an attractive piece of pottery filled with chrysanthemums.

Farmville Edges Win Over Ayden 13-12

The Farmville-Ayden game was so hotly contested that Ayden kicked off to Farmville, the ball was received by Smith, who brought the ball to midfield. The ball exchanged hands several times, neither team being able to gain much territory. Rashberry was substituted for Harris, who was injured on tackling an enemy. The ball was in Ayden's possession on Farmville's forty yard line when the quarter was called.

An Ayden punt was returned by Smith which brought the ball to midfield in Ayden's possession. Ayden's fumble was recovered by Willis Teele intercepted the ball and ran for a touchdown, but the ball was called back; the referee saying that Teele dropped the ball. Ayden was given the ball on their forty yard line. With successful driving and a penalty on Farmville, Ayden made a touchdown by a pass to the ten yard line. The ball was carried over. Extra point was no good. Farmville received a punt on kick-off. Several punts found the ball on Farmville's twenty-one yard line. Smith's kick was blocked. Ayden recovered and passed, which was good for a touchdown. Extra point was no good. Ayden kicked off but the half was called after the next two plays.

Things looked bad for Farmville, who was trailing 12-0. The Farmville band played several numbers during the half, which was very good. Farmville kicks off to Ayden in their deep territory, Ayden punts and Farmville loses the ball on downs. Ayden punts on Farmville's forty yard line. Excellent running by Judy and Smith and a pass from Smith to Judy for thirty yards gave Farmville its first touchdown. Extra point was no good.

Farmville kicks to Ayden who punts the ball back to Farmville's forty, where the ball was received by Judy who with good blocking makes Farmville's second touchdown. Extra point was good and put Farmville ahead one point. The remainder of the game had no outstanding action to it. The ball was almost the entire time between the thirty yard lines. Neither team did such outstanding playing. The ball was in Ayden's territory when the game was ended. The final score Farmville 13-Ayden 12.

NEW DEAL CLUB

The New Deal Club met for several interesting rubbers of contract Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. S. A. Garris, which was lovely with fall flowers and foliage. Mrs. Frank M. Davis Jr., as winner of high score was awarded sheer hosiery. A delightful salad course was served after play.
