HOSTESS AT GOING AWAY PARTY

Miss Iona Greene was charming hostess at a lovely party on Friday evening in compliment to Miss Tiny Leach, who left the following day for her home in Shelbyville, Ky., Miss Leach has been a resident here for several weeks, her father being on the tobacco market.

Games, contests and dancing were enjoyed during the evening, and ices cake and mints were served at the close of the enjoyable event.

ANNOUNCE DATE OF LUNCHEON

Miss Elizabeth Lang entertained at a lovely luncheon on Wednesday honoring Miss Edna Lurline Bass and announcing her engagement to Mr. James Monroe Wheelers, Jr.

Guests were greeted upon arrival by the hostess and directed to a silver tray bearing cards decorated with a wedding ring centered with the announcement, "Lurline and James, December 31." Miss Bass received in the living room, where fruited punch was served.

Gold and white chrysanthemums and snapdragons were used in decorations throughout the home, and these colors were observed in place cards and table appointments. Yellow candles, tied with valley-lilies and silver ribbon were in crystal candelabra and crystal bowls of mixed flowers were used as centerpieces for the dining table and the five individual tables. A corsage, and a golden slipper marked the place of the bride-elect, and miniature corsages were given as favors to other guests.

A turkey luncheon was served at one o'clock with covers laid for twenty-six.

Out-of-town guests were: Miss Koma Lee Owens, Fountain; Miss Sallie Lovelace, Maclefield; Miss Ruth Robertson, Fuquay Springs; Mrs. Henry Harvell, Greenville; and Mrs. Julian H. Rumley, Goldsboro.

WEDDINGS

MURPHY-TURNAGE

The Farmville Christian Church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Thanksgiving Day when Miss Carmen Urcel Turnage became the bride of Clarence Edward Murphy, of Wilson.

Rev. C. B. Mashburn, pastor of the Church, who had married the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Calhoun Turnage, officiated, with the Rev. Mr. Griffin, Adventist minister, of Raleigh, assisting. The ceremony took place on the 68rd wedding anniversary of the bride's grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Turnage, who were present.

Ferns and floor baskets of white chrysanthemums, interspersed with standards of cathedral candles, provided a beautiful setting.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Mary Thorne Tyson at the piano, and by the Rev. and Mrs. Griffin, who sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "I Love You Truly." "To A Wild Rose" was used during the ceremony by Miss Thorne, with the wedding march from "Lohengrin" being played as a processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as a recessional.

First to enter the church were the ushers, Bruce and Laurie Murphy, brothers of the groom, Sam Flanagan and Lester Turnage.

Miss Evelyn Hope and Miss Carrie Speight Turnage, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore rose and blue taffeta gowns, fashioned on similar lines, and carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

Little Misses Bayle Cheek Flanagan and Miriam Murphy, the flower girls, wore lovely pink dresses and scattered rose petals from dainty baskets.

The bride entered the Church with her father, Aaron Calhoun Turnage, who gave her in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of white duchesse satin, empress style, with puffed sleeves and long, flowing train, and a veil illusion, caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of bride's roses and valley lilies.

The groom, entering from an opposite aisle with his brother, A. L. Murphy, of Wilson, as best man, met the bride at the altar.

After a wedding tour of two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will be at home in Wilson. Mr. Murphy is connected with the Hackney Body Company of that city.

FARR-MASHBURN

The following invitation has been received here during the week; "Rev. and Mrs. Cleophus Bowen Mashburn request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Louise Revere, to Mr. Geo. Farr, on Saturday, the fourth of December, at five o'clock, First Christian Church, Asheville, North Carolina.

Miss Mashburn is the charming daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Mashburn, of Farmville, and lived here prior to accepting a position as a librarian in Asheville.

An account of the wedding will be given in these columns next week.

BULLOCK-MURPHREY

The marriage of Miss Cathene Gertrude Murphrey, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Murphrey, and Nathan Alfred Bullock, son of Mrs. Lucy Mayo Bullock, of Greenville, and the late C. T. Bullock, was solemnized on Sunday, November 28, in Courtland, Va., in the Baptist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Floyd P. Davis, officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by a few relatives and intimate friends.

The bride wore a sapphire blue ensemble of transparent velvet with white flowers and accessories.

After a wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Bullock will be at home in Greenville, where Mr. Bullock is employed as manager one of the Home Grocery stores.

MERRY MATRONS

The fortnightly meeting of the Merry Matrons was held on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. B. S. Smith, in whose home chrysanthemums were pleasingly arranged. During a business session, Mrs. Wesley R. Willis, the president, appointed as a nominating committee Mrs. J. W. Parker, Mrs. B. S. Smith and Mrs. J. O. Poliard.

Featuring the program was a splendid review of Mary Ellen Chase's "The Goodly Heritage," given by Mrs. J. M. Hoggood. A delicious course was served after adjournment.

STOCKS-AVERY

Miss Annie Lou Avery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Avery, was married to Allan Stocks, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stocks, of Lizzie, on Wednesday, December 1, at the Christian parsonage by the Rev. C. B. Mashburn, pastor of the Farmville Christian Church. The ceremony was witnessed by a few intimate friends.

TO MEET WITH WASHINGTON WOMEN

Mrs. J. M. Hoggood will appear on the Christmas program of the Washington Women's Club on Friday of this week.

Screen Stars

Mervyn LaRoy has resigned from Warners and is to be with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in the future. It is understood that this is an attempt to fill the vacancy created by Irving Thalberg's death.

Differences between the studio and Rudy Vallee have been straightened out and he is to begin work on "Gold Diggers in Paris" sometime in December.

Gladys Swarthout has completed "Romance in the Dark" and is making a concert tour.

Gale Sondergaard is to have a part in "One Was Beautiful." "Condemned Women" is being re-written to include Anne Shirley in support of Barbara Standwyck.

Ernest Booth has joined the writing staff of Warners and is preparing the screen play of "Penrod's Double Trouble." Mr. Booth wrote stories and articles on crime while in a California prison. One of the more widely read articles was entitled "We Rob A Bank" Prisoners are now prohibited from writing and the one of the provisions of Mr. Booth's parole was that he should write nothing about crime.

Channing Pollock's novel, "Synthetic Gentleman" will be called "The Midnight Intruder" when it reaches the screen.

Pathe News celebrated its twenty-seventh anniversary this month. Hereafter, all news and sports events with the exception of talks, will be accompanied by music from a fifty-piece orchestra.

Sally Eilers will play the lead in "Nurse from Brooklyn."

A film is to be made from the story of Madame Curie's life.

Irene Dunn may have the lead in "After 'Buccaneer' is completed Cecil B. DeMille will make another spectacular film which will romanticize the Hudson Bay Company. Fred MacMurray is being considered for the lead.

Irene Dunne will have Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy in her next comedy film.

Robert Taylor does not like the fog in England. When he returns to Hollywood in December, he says he expects to stay there.

Charles Farrell is also back from abroad after an absence of two years.

Edward G. Robinson is a native of Rumania and when he arrived in the United States he knew not a word of English.

Mary Astor is leaving shortly for New York to appear in a play. It is reported that she is dissatisfied with recent screen assignments.

Gary Cooper refuses to have his baby daughter photographed for a movie magazine.

Ginger Rogers and her estranged husband, Lew Ayers, have dined together recently—in fact they have dined together twice.

Sister acts are quite the thing in Hollywood now, Olivia de Havilland and Joan Fontaine comprise one. Another is that of Lola Rosemary and Priscilla Lane, and now Joan Blondell's younger sister, Gloria, has been given a picture contract. Jeanette MacDonald also has a sister who has been taking screen tests recently. She is Mrs. Warren Rock in private life. Helene and Dolores Costello are sisters as are Loretta Young and Sally Blane.

Answer Filed In Big Suit

Greenville—An answer has been filed in the offices of the Pitt County Clerk of Court to the $50,000 damage suit brought by C. Herber Forbes, of Charlie Heber Forbes, Jr., deceased, against W. A. Allen Jr., administrator of Dr. F. Marion Davis, deceased.

Both Mr. Davis and Charlie Heber Forbes were killed in an automobile accident near Morehead City on Sunday, November 15, 1936. The complaint contended that the automobile was being driven at an excessive rate of speed under the direction of Dr. Davis and the tires on the automobile were worn to such an extent that they were unsafe.

After admitting preliminary sections in the complaint, the answer alleges that the accident was due to no act or fault upon the part of the part of the defendant's interstate, but "was occasioned when a tire blew on said car unexpectedly and without warning blew out; that the bursting of said tire, in the exercise of ordinary care, could not have been reasonably foreseen by defendant's interstate," and was an accident "pure and simple and in no wise due to any negligence" upon the part of the owner.

It further contends that if the tire was in a weakened condition, "such condition was well known to plaintiff's interstate, who had on many previous occasions ridden in said car with defendant's interstate."

In affirmative defense, the answer contends that plaintiff's interstate and defendant's interstate at the time of the accident were engaged in a joint enterprise, wherein the expense of the trip were being borne equally.
