LOCAL BOY ON HONOR ROLL

Friends will be interested to learn that Lyman M. Bass, a Cadet at Fork Union Military Academy, Va., made the honor roll for the past month.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mrs. Mary T. Burnette wish to express their sincere appreciation to friends for their many acts of kindness and other expressions of sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved mother.

BRIDGE HOSTESS

Entertaining at bridge on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. S. A. Roebuck was hostess to a group of friends honoring Mrs. Grover C. Webb, a member of the Farmville's "tobacco colony," who returned the next day to her home in Pinetops.

Potted plants, holly and other evergreens made a lovely setting for the tables. Mrs. Webb was presented with a bowl of narcissus and Mrs. L. E. Satterfield and Mrs. Frank M. Davis Jr., were awarded similar gifts as table prizes. Congealed tipsy cake was served after the games.

Mrs. Roebuck's guests were; Mrs. Webb, Mrs. L. E. Satterfield, Mrs. Frank M. Davis Jr., Mrs. L. T. Pierce, Mrs. Wesley R. Willis, Mrs. W. Leslie Smith and Mrs. P. E. Jones.

COMRADES IN REUNION

Last Friday night Watt Parker, S. M. Pollard, J. B. Johnson and J. B. Mobley and Peyton T. Atkinson, all past commanders of James Thomas Smith Camp No. 17, United Spanish-War Veterans, were assembled together at the home of Mr. Atkinson, which is a hundred years old and located on the hard surface road from Farmville to Bruce.

We doubt if any more appreciated moments were spent in this vicinity throughout the Thanksgiving season than those enjoyed by this little band of comrades, who feasted on fruits and conversation, breaking camp at a late hour and skiing for their own dugouts.

LITERARY-ART DEPARTMENT

At the December meeting of the Literary-Art Department, held on Wednesday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. J. Sterling Gates with Mrs. John D. Holmes acting as joint hostess, a delightful Yuletide program was developed by Mrs. I. E. Satterfield, who read a selection, "If I Were Santa Claus," by Mrs. L. W. Herring, and by Miss Mary Harrison Benson, who read Beatrice Plumb's "Gifts of Bells." The program was concluded with the vocal rendition of "O Heart of Mine"—Galloway, and "Song of Love"—La Forge, by Mrs. Daisy H. Smith, the piano accompaniment being played by Mrs. Haygood Smith.

Seasonal greens and decorations lent a festive air to the Gates home, and the salad course carried the Christmas colors and motifs.

Special guests were Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, Miss Mary Harrison Benson and Mrs. David T. Harris.

BALLOON CAUSES DARKNESS

Clubs in Delightful Meetings Preceding Holidays

Holiday Motifs Carried Out by Hostesses; And Greenery adds to The Christmas Spirit.

At the December meeting, held on Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Robert D. Rouse, members of the Rebecca Winborn chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy enjoyed a Christmas program, which was featured with a delightful story related by Mrs. Haywood Smith, and concluded with a report of the recent General Convention of the Daughters, held in Richmond, by Mrs. J. W. Parker, a delegate, who also reported the organization of a local Children's chapter during the preceding week.

Christmas cheer for associated institutions and individuals were planned under the direction of the president, Mrs. R. H. Knott.

During the social hour a Christmas tree contest was conducted by Mrs. W. M. Willis, in which Mrs. Parker was winner. A salad course was served.

The initial meeting of the Lieutenant George W. Parker chapter, Children of the Confederacy, organized recently with fourteen members at the home of Mrs. J. W. Parker, sponsor and leader, was held on Tuesday, at the home of the president, Mrs. Alice Harper Parker. The opening exercises were conducted by the chaplain, Cornelia Knott, who read the Christmas story. Data for application papers were turned over to the leader, Mrs. Parker, who announced that the mother chapter, Rebecca Winborne, would present the new organization with a charter. A package of nuts were presented Frances Howard for "cracking the most nuts" in a Christmas contest, which was followed by refreshments. In addition to the above named officers elected at the time of organization were; James Wilson, vice-president; Helen Rouse, recording secretary; John Parker, treasurer, and Frances Howard, Historian, with Jack Paylor being appointed as chairman of the program committee and Bill Carr heading that which will give publicity to chapter activities.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst was gracious hostess to the Contract Club, entertaining in her home, in which greenery, flowers and motifs were artistically used to suggest the Christmas season.

Mrs. Lath Morris, scoring high, received a table mat; Miss Edna Lurline Bass, bride-elect, was presented with a Postoria plate and Mrs. W. M. Kittrell, of Robersonville, an out of town guest, was remembered with a flower container. A red and green salad, sandwiches, cut and decorated to resemble wreaths, candies and favors of miniature potted poinsettias, further emphasized the season. Special guests were Miss Bass, Mrs. Kittrell, Mrs. J. Y. Monk and Mrs. Robert Lee Smith.

Mrs. Whitehurst entertained at bridge on Tuesday evening in compliment to Mrs. David T. Harris, a recent bride. The high score prize, a towel, was won by Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson, and a Maderia tray cover was presented to Mrs. S. A. Roebuck as runner-up. The guest of honor was given linen towels. A sweet course was followed by black coffee, cheese wafers and nuts. Guests were Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. D. R. Morgan, Mrs. R. C. Ruffin, Mrs. S. A. Roebuck, Mrs. Frank Davis Jr., Mrs. Alton W. Bobbitt, and Mrs. Grover C. Webb.

The Junior Woman's Club was delightfully entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Miss Lurline Bass. Christmas wreaths, forest greens and red candles made a colorful setting for the meeting. Mrs. David T. Harris, Miss Hazel Mank and Mrs. Mac Carraway were appointed by the president, Mrs. Jesse Moye, as a committee to entertain for Christmas activities, outlined at this time.

Current events among Juniors were presented by Mrs. J. Ivan Morgan, Jr., and an interesting paper on interior decoration, under the subject of "The American Wing of the Metropolitan Museum," was read by Mrs. LeRoy Parker.

Fruit Cake, topped with cream and cherries, was followed by cookies and black coffee.

On Wednesday afternoon the Literary Club was entertained by Mrs. J. W. Joyner, with her president, Mrs. W. C. Askow conducting a short business session, when a report of the local Tuberculosis Seal Sale was given by the chairman, Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, which revealed that seals amounting to $76.66 was sold the first week. Miss DeVisconti also spoke on the subject of the conversation of Christmas greens.

Mrs. J. Y. Monk had charge of the program for the afternoon and gave a splendid review of the life and works of William Gilbert and Arthur Sullivan, reading excerpts from the writings of these authors in illustration of their respective styles.

Mrs. Joyner, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Joyner, a special guest, served plum pudding topped with cream, followed by coffee and cookies, the latter designed to suggest the Christmas season, which suggestion also observed in the house decorations of Christmas trees and greenery.

MARMALADE IS GOOD AT XMAS

"Marmalade is good for breakfast, and it has its place in the school lunch. But have you ever thought of it as a dessert?" asks Cornelia C. Morris, State College extension economist in food conservation. "Spread marmalade on hot, buttered pancakes, roll them up and dust with powdered sugar. Your family will like this dessert and call for it again."

"Marmalade will help stretch the Christmas dollar. Small jars of marmalade, attractively wrapped, make good Christmas presents, they help out in planning Christmas menus."

Marmalade is easy to make, Mrs. Morris stated. The best fruits to use are oranges, grapefruits, and lemons. Select fruits on which the skin is clear and free from blemishes.

(One orange, one lemon, and one grapefruit will make enough marmalade to fill six 10-ounce jars.

Cut fruit into very thin slices with a sharp knife. Re-sharpen knife frequently while slicing the fruit. Measure the sliced fruit, then add three times as much water.

One orange, one lemon, and one grapefruit will make about a quart of fruit. So add three quarts of water.

Boil fruit and water for 30 minutes or until fruit is tender. Let it stand overnight, then boil again for 20 minutes. Measure the mixture and add an equal amount of sugar. Then cook rapidly until the syrup begins to jelly when poured from the side of a spoon.

Let the finished marmalade cool for a minute or two, then pour it into the jars. (If poured in immediately, the fruit will rise to the top.)

PEACE TALK

You talk of peace, while on a Distant sand, cannons boom and Brave men die, heroes of their land.

You talk of peace, while on a Distant sea, ships are sunk By submarine piracy.

You talk of peace, while dictators Do declare, build more guns, Train more men and send them over there.

You talk of peace, while all the World, preparing for a fight Which shall decide or shall divide As to strength and might.

Don't put up with useless PAIN Get rid of it

When functional pains of menstruation are severe, take CARDUL. If it doesn't benefit you, consult a physician. Don't neglect such pains. They depress the tone of the nerves, cause sleeplessness, loss of appetite, wear out your resistance. Get a bottle of Cardul and see whether it will help you, as thousands of women have said it helped them. Besides easing certain pains, Cardul aids in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.

CONSERVING CHRISTMAS GREENERY

The habit of decorating our houses, churches and other buildings for the holiday season is one we should regret to see abolished, but all lovers of nature should awaken to a keener appreciation of the beauties of our state so that we may enjoy appropriate decorations during the Christmas holidays without excessive use and waste of plants which are in danger of extinction.

The supply of holly, cedar and long leaf pine is limited so can't we use other materials than these? The short pine and evergreen in our own yards together with ivy will make attractive decorations.

Dr. J. S. Holmes, in a radio talk last week, urged that we plant hollies in our yards and prune them as needed and not distress land without regard to whom the trees belong to. He says 60 per cent of the holly sold on the market is stolen goods.

Don't be a thief—Don't buy these trees unless you are sure they are sold by the owner. We should have a better regard for property rights. The old idea that everything that grows in the woods is free, no longer holds. Each holly and cedar has a money value and many people are planting them for a money crop.

These trees are as much private property as fruit trees. Besides the beauty of the holly its berries provide food for birds; the robins and cedar wax wings are especially fond of them.

The living Christmas Tree is growing in favor. Used indoors and then planted out serves a double purpose by continuing to give forth beauty any joy in the years to come and no tree has been sacrificed.

Our decorations may be of the simplest things and come from our own yards if we will plant Christmas Greens Gardens. Most evergreen trees and shrubs need some pruning and will not be injured if we take off the straggling tips and ends of ungainly branches.

Conservation is simply the intelligent use of those natural resources, which if made properly, will still be a source of National wealth and beauty. Centuries hence, they should still exist, having yielded through the ages annual benefits; so if you will plant evergreens it will not be necessary to devastate the woods.
