CANTOR'S SOUND ADVICE

Eddie Cantor is known to millions of people in this country and other nations through his performances on the stage, the screen and in front of the microphone. The Jewish comedian has brought laughter to many and his reputation is built upon comedy. At the same time, he has another side seldom seen in public.

Recently, he addressed an audience of Jews, speaking to them about the persecutions which are being directed against his people in some nations. Mr. Cantor urged his hearers to answer Hitler with "our self-respect, our love of God and man," saying "I am certain that if we Jews cling to our faith and practice leading honorable lives, helping our fellow-men whoever they may be, irrespective of race, color or creed, we will again triumph over our enemies as Moses did in times gone by."

Mr. Cantor's advice to Jews, with slight alterations to suit other religious faiths, can be followed with considerable profit by people everywhere.

WALSTONBURG NEWS

Mrs. Carl T. Hicks spent Tuesday in Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Shirley were Wilson visitors Sunday.

Mrs. W. A. Marlowe spent Tuesday in Kenly with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Revell.

Rev. and Mrs. L. B. Scarborough were in Walstonburg Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Jennie Lane of the local school faculty spent Saturday at her home in Wilson.

Miss Ruby Taylor, Miss Louise Shackelford and Mr. W. V. Nix were Farmville visitors Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. C. T. Hicks, Mrs. Carl Cobb, Mrs. Albert Bundy and Miss Lillian Corbett were Goldsboro shoppers Friday.

Mrs. J. M. Bailey, Mrs. J. C. Gardner, Miss Mae Brown, Miss Bettie Grey McKeel and Miss Dorothy Gardner were Farmville visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Ida Burch and Miss Ruby Burch attended the presentation by the choral clubs of Snow Hill, Goldsboro, Hookerton and Farmville at the Farmville Methodist Church Sunday.

Friends will be glad to know that Mr. W. V. Reddick has returned to his home here much improved, after spending several months in a hospital at Southern Pines.

Mrs. W. H. Hobbs of near Walstonburg was winner of the turkey given by the local Christian church. Chances were sold amounting to $21 on the bird. The winner was announced Wednesday night at the senior class play given in the school auditorium.

Little Ann Rogers, sixteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Rogers, died in a Wilson hospital on Sunday afternoon. Suffering all her life with some disorder which medical science was unable to cure she became worse and was taken to the hospital on Tuesday, where she died Sunday. Funeral services were conducted at the home Monday afternoon and burial was in the family cemetery.

Mrs. Nell Coffman, Greene county public health nurse was in town on Tuesday. Public clinics are held the third Wednesday of each month on prenatal care and baby health. The importance of good health is being more clearly recognized now than ever before. It is the duty and privilege of every public-minded citizen to give to our health officers full co-operation. In this way we can help to raise health standards, especially of the underprivileged and less educated people.

BLOOD—CATSUP

Philadelphia.—When Frank Trommer, Jr., lurched from the wreckage of an automobile and a truck, his hair, face and clothes were streaming blood red. Police called an ambulance although Trommer insisted he was unhurt. The policeman looked into the wreckage and saw—shattered catsup bottles.

WRONG HOUSE

Camden, N. J.—Answering an alarm, firemen broke into a house but could find no fire. As they were leaving, a truck driver shouted, "Hey boys, when you get through with that fire, there's another around the corner." The firemen had the wrong house.
