ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. G. W. Jefferson entertained Saturday at a luncheon honoring Miss Serene Turnage, bride-elect of Farmville.

A three course luncheon was served. Mrs. R. A. Fountain, Jr., delightfully rendered a musical reading. The home was attractively decorated with a profusion of spring flowers in pastel shades.

Shaving honors with Miss Turnage, was Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, who is also a bride-elect of Farmville. Both were presented with gifts by the hostess.

Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. C. H. Arrington of Rocky Mount, and Mrs. Hayward Smith, Mrs. Henrietta Williamson and Mrs. Joel Moyer of Nashville.

Social Courtesies Accorded Miss Serene Turnage, Bride-Elect And Brides Of The Month

Affairs of Week Continue To Center About Prominent Young Women.

The social life of Farmville continues to center about prominent young women, who have been married during the past few weeks or whose weddings are set for early dates in May.

The hostesses at parties and at regular meetings of the week have used a profusion of spring bloom as a setting for these affairs.

Among the largest and most delightful of social spring events here was the luncheon and linen shower of Monday by Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson and Mrs. Joel W. Moyer, in compliment to Miss Serene Turnage, whose marriage to Archibald Wilton McLean, of Lumberton, will occur on May 4.

Corsage with special place card arrangement marked the places of the sixty guests in attendance, and a barbecue luncheon was served at one o'clock. A cargo of lovely linens was delivered to Miss Turnage from a heavily loaded ship, piloted by little Miss Jeanne Moyer, of Maury. Embroidered pillow slips were presented to Miss Turnage by the hostesses and Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, bride-elect, was given a lemon fork in her chosen pattern of silver.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. U. H. Casart and Mrs. C. E. Moore, of Wilson; Mrs. W. B. Murphy, of Snow Hill; Mrs. C. H. and Mrs. L. A. Moyer, of Maury; Mrs. E. Bruce Beasley and Mrs. George W. Jefferson, of Fountain, and Mrs. C. H. Arrington, Rocky Mount.

Mrs. George W. Jefferson and her daughter, Miss Ann Marie, of Fountain, were hostesses at a lovely luncheon honoring Miss Serene Turnage on Tuesday. Greeting the guests as they arrived were Mrs. E. B. Beasley, the hostesses, Miss Turnage and Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith.

Mrs. G. E. Trevathan directed the guests to the reception and living rooms where ten individual tables were appointed with corsages and place cards. Assisting in serving the luncheon were: Mrs. J. N. Fountain, Mrs. H. O. Johnson, Mrs. J. A. Mercer, Mrs. J. M. Horton, Mrs. J. L. Peele, Mrs. Gertrude Owens and Mrs. M. D. Yelverton. Between the courses Mrs. R. A. Fountain, Jr., rendered vocal selections with piano accompaniment by Mrs. E. W. Hunt.

Miss Turnage was presented with a service plate in her pattern of china and Miss Smith, Mrs. Carey Gaynor and Mrs. W. Parker, recent brides, received gifts of linen from the hostesses.

Misses Serene Turnage and Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith were honored at a handkerchief shower on Tuesday evening by Misses Martha and Cleo Lewis and Mrs. John Erwin Wilkerson. Following a series of contests and games little Miss Doris Erwin directed the honorees to the living room, where the shower was arranged. A salad course was served.

Mrs. John Daniel Dixon, Mrs. Charles Millard Griffin, of Wilson, brides of the month, and Miss Serene Turnage, bride-elect, were complimented at a dinner party, given on Wednesday evening by Mrs. J. L. Shackelford and Miss Evelyn Horton.

Corsages and appropriate favors marked the places of the honor guests and table appointments and refreshments carried the bridal motifs. Covers were laid for thirty-two guests. The honorees, Miss Frances Person, of Pikeville, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, bride-elect, were presented with gifts.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Hubert Taylor, Mrs. C. T. Dixon, Mrs. Plato Monk, Mrs. H. L. Wilson, Mrs. H. A. Young and Miss Edna Wolfe, of Wilson, Miss Person of Pikeville, Mrs. J. H. Harrell of Greenville, Mrs. R. A. Fields, Jr., of Rocky Mount, and Mrs. George W. Edwards of Snow Hill.

Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, a special guest, recounted visits to gardens at Charleston and Middleton, S. C., Chapel Hill and Wilmington, and spoke of features which are notable characteristics of other gardens of the United States, in an interesting talk made to members of the Junior Woman's Club and to the hostess, Miss Elizabeth Davis, this week. Miss Serene Turnage, another special guest, delighted the group with her rendition of La Campanella by Paganini-Liszt, and Sonata in A Major, by Scarlatti.

The Junior women voted to assist in the Cancer Control campaign and heard reports of local welfare work, given by Mrs. C. N. Bostic, and of Junior activities by Mrs. J. I. Morgan, Jr. Poems were read by Mrs. William Fisher in observance of National Garden Week.

Miss Turnage was remembered with a gift of linen by the hostess, who served a variety of sandwiches, fudge cake and iced tea after the presentation.

Plans for Poppy Day were laid at the American Legion Auxiliary meeting, at which Mrs. J. W. Joyner was hostess, and Mrs. P. E. Jones was appointed as sale chairman by the president, Mrs. B. LeRoy Rollins. The program, based on "Child Welfare," was devoted with papers by Mrs. J. Frank Harper and Mrs. Emma Fields, who presented the fact that $41,000 children of veterans and 39,000 other children were assisted during the year by the co-ordinated efforts of the Legion, the Forty and Eight and the Auxiliary, working through school conferences and juvenile courts. A sweet course was served after adjournment.

"The Personality of the Home," discussed by Mrs. Plato Monk, of Wilson, guest speaker, at the Merry Matrons meeting held on Tuesday with Mrs. W. Leslie Smith as gracious hostess, and vocal selections by Mrs. Daisy H. Smith and Mrs. John D. Holmes, with piano accompaniment by the president, Mrs. J. M. Hogbood, were features of the program.

A delectable salad course was served during the social hour. In addition to those taking part on the program Mrs. Smith had as special guests Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. L. E. Walston, Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst and Mrs. S. A. Roebuck.

Mrs. Minnie S. Warren was hostess at a delightful meeting of the Literary Club this week, which was featured with a visit and talk by Mrs. John Stanley Smith, Sr., of Virginia Beach, Va., the organizer and first president of this club, which celebrates its thirty-fifth birthday in August. Mrs. W. C. Askew, the only active charter member, is serving her third term as president.

Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson reviewed William Seabrook's book, "Asylum", at this time. An original contest, prepared by the hostess, was based on the names of books being circulated by the members of the club this year.

Mrs. J. M. Christman and Mrs. B. S. Smith were special guests. A sweet course was served.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
 The Methodist Orphanage singing class of Raleigh will give a musical program next Sunday evening at the regular worship hour, 8 P. M. Mrs. Nanny Rives and Mrs. A. W. Fridgen, both of the orphanage will have charge of the program.

The public is most cordially invited to attend this service.

D. A. CLARKE, Pastor.

MRS. NANNIE FRIAR ROUSE
 Nashville, April 27. — Mrs. Nannie Friar Rouse, 71, widow of the late A. N. Rouse of Nashville, died Sunday morning at her home here after an illness of two weeks following a stroke.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church in Nashville at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon with the Rev. W. C. Wilson, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. L. D. Hayman, a former pastor, and interment was made in the family plot in the local cemetery.

Mrs. Rouse was a daughter of the late George and Mary Evans Friar, pioneer settlers of Nashville. She was one of the oldest members of the Methodist Church here.

Surviving Mrs. Rouse are three daughters, Mrs. M. W. Lincke of Nashville, Mrs. Sam W. Hill of Nashville, and Mrs. Harry M. Rouse of Hopewell, Va., and three sons, G. A. and T. B. Rouse of Farmville, and Troy W. Rouse of Greenville.
