Miss Helen Eason Weds G. McAdams

Ceremony Was Performed In Christian Church Here.

The marriage of Miss Helen Elizabeth Eason to Mr. William Graham McAdams was solemnized at the Christian Church here, Friday morning, Aug. 12, at ten o'clock, in a ceremony impressive in its charming simplicity and in its culmination of a childhood courtship. The Rev. C. B. Mashburn officiated.

The Church was decorated in green and white, an abundance of white summer flowers interspersing the greenery and floor standards of cathedral candles.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Daisy H. Smith rendered a program of nuptial music, including "A Dream," by Bartlett, "On The Holy Mount," by Devorak, and Elbert C. Holmes, baritone, sang, "Oh, Promise Me." Mrs. Smith used the Wedding March from Lohengrin as a processional, "Indian Love Call" during the ceremony and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as a recessional.

Mrs. Smith wore a black net dress, tucked and trimmed with white, with hat to match. Her shoulderette was of pink roses.

Miss Elizabeth Carrio, of Greenville, was maid of honor. She wore a beige costume fashioned with a soft green velour of velvur. Her hat matched her dress and she carried an arm bouquet of asters in mixed colors.

Ushers were Milton Eason, Jr., Matthew Gibbs, David T. Harris and Pierson Hassell.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother Milton L. Eason, who gave her in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, H. C. Mills, Jr., of Durham.

The bride was attired in a traveling dress of Arhi blue with navy accessories. Her hat was an autumn off-face model with veil and she carried a bride's bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley with corsage center.

Mrs. McAdams, attractive and of pleasing personality, is the youngest daughter of the late Wyatt and Mrs. Victoria Joyner Eason. She was graduated from the Farmville high school in the class of '35, and since that time has held a position with the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company, being at present junior supervisor of the Greenville office.

Mr. McAdams is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. McAdams. He was graduated from the Greenville high school and continued his studies at Wake Forest. He is connected with the Farmville Water and Light Department, of which his father has been Superintendent for a number of years.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a motor trip to Western North Carolina, the Valley of Virginia and Washington, D. C.

Miss Nell Eason, of Greenville, sister of the bride, entertained the McAdams-Eason bridal party on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. David T. Harris, following the wedding rehearsal.

The bride's table was decorated with a low silver bowl of white flowers in a mixed arrangement, and illuminated by white candles in silver candelabra. Punch and sandwiches were served, followed by tea and cakes.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Little Dorothy Lucas, attractive daughter of Chief and Mrs. L. T. Lucas, entertained twenty-five of her friends at a swimming party on Thursday afternoon at the municipal pool, in celebration of her sixth birthday.

After enjoying the pleasures of the pool and playing games in the park ice cream was served and the huge birthday cake was cut in the outdoor dining room at the park.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

On Sunday, August 14, Mrs. Melton Allen and Mrs. John Hardy gave a lovely surprise birthday dinner, in observance of the forty-fifth birthday of their mother, Mrs. Charles H. Mottage. The dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Allen.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Mottage, Charles Aaron, Anne, Edward and Dorothy Mae Mottage, Charles Melton and Thomas T. Allen.

Honors Guests at Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. Lang and Mrs. Monk Hostesses On Tuesday.

An outstanding and lovely social event of the late summer was the bridge luncheon of Tuesday, given by Mrs. E. O. Lang and her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., at the home of the former, in honor of Mrs. Lang's sisters and sister-in-law, who were house guests; Mrs. Angustue Rogers, of Lake Alfred, Fla., Mrs. W. H. Whitmore, of Wilson, and Mrs. J. T. Keel, of New York City.

The Lang home on Belchen street was decorated with quantities of garden flowers, and blue bud vases with pink roses centered the thirteen tables, arranged with luncheon appointments on the spacious veranda.

As the guests arrived they were greeted by Mrs. Lang and Mrs. Monk, and presented to the honor guests.

A barbecue plate with iced tea was followed by chess play.

In the games of progressive contract, Mrs. E. H. Knott and Mrs. William R. Burke won high score awards of brass bridge bells and Mrs. M. V. Jones retained the slam prize. The honorees were presented with pottery and figurines, and Mrs. Charles M. Griffin, of Wilson, formerly Miss Janie Davis of Farmville, was remembered with a lovely gift.

Out-of-town guests were: the honorees, Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. H. L. Watson, of Wilson; Mrs. J. H. Harrell and Mrs. Travis Hooker, of Greenville; Mrs. Grover H. Webb, Mrs. R. A. Bynum and Mrs. Vines Cobb of Pinetops.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION RECEIVES CHARTER

The Farmville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association entertained its membership Thursday evening at the Rotary rooms with a supper, at which time a Charter was presented by William L. Dowell, of Raleigh, by the Executive Secretary of the North Carolina Merchants Association.

Guests and speakers for the evening included W. F. Dowdy of New Bern, President of the North Carolina Merchants Association, who emphasized the importance of organizing a local Merchants Association, and the benefits to be obtained from such an organization.

Mr. Dowell stressed the importance of connecting the local association with the State Association thereby bringing about a State wide co-operation as merchants, and mentioned several of the benefits derived from the State Association, together with the vital and important things which with the Association is striving to accomplish during coming years.

ROTARIANS ENTERTAIN LADIES

Tuesday night was Ladies Night with Farmville Rotarians, who entertained their wives and sweethearts at the outdoor dining room of the municipal park, where a barbecued chicken supper was enjoyed.

John H. Moore, newly elected president, rang the supper bell and after supper was put on the table turned the meeting over to W. J. Rasberry, who after he had had supper assumed his job as the general leader of the program. John B. Lewis welcomed the ladies, and other guests, with Mrs. George W. Davis responding to his cordial expression. Manly Liles gave the principal address of the occasion, speaking on "The Objects of Rotary." Mr. and Mrs. John D. Holmes rendered several vocal duets and John gave a reading.

Charles Edwards, of Hoboken, N. J., a former member of this group, was a special guest at this time and held the prize ticket of the evening.

A diving and swimming exhibition in the municipal pool was later put on for the entertainment of the Rotarians and their ladies by Julian Smith, Horton Bountree, "Pop" Wellons and Edward Harris, the first three being life guards at the pool, with Harris acting as substitute this season.

FARMVILLE QUEEN RETURNS FROM COASTAL FESTIVAL

Miss Eva Mae Hardy, who represented Farmville as its lovely vicereine Beauty Queen, has returned from Morehead City and Atlantic Beach, where she attended the annual Coastal Festival as the guest of promoters of the festival.

Farmville citizens in attendance report that Miss Hardy made a splendid Queen and are unable to find out why she did not win first place. Anyway we think she should have easily captured first honors in beauty, personality and charm.

REUNION

Last Thursday about one hundred descendants of the family of the late Charles Harris met at the Piney Grove Free Will Baptist Church and perfected an organization. The pastor, Rev. Wollard, was master of ceremonies. Dinner was spread on the grounds and duly enjoyed. This seemed to break the ice and soon everybody was acquainted, mostly relatives, immediate families and close friends were present. This was their first get-together and the Slogan, "I have heard of you but never saw you before," was in vogue.

Miss Bessie, daughter of the Rev. Joseph Harris, Los Angeles, California, who was on her first visit east, was the most active in her friendly socialistic manner in making everybody welcome. Heber Trip of Texas, grandson of Mr. Harris, also a new come, who had not been home in over thirty years, kept busy making pictures of groups, buildings and individuals at the old historical church where the most of these old pioneers worshipped many long years in the past.

The writer recalls sixty-five years since he saw his mother, aunts and uncles washing feet as the whole congregation sang the old familiar hymns "Come Ye, That Love the Lord," and "There Is A Foundation Filled With Blood." About 2:30 o'clock they sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" and the benediction was pronounced. Most of the immediate family went to the old homestead and made more pictures as they surveyed the once happy threshold of young Harris and Nicholas, broods.

Cons but not forgotten.
