Crop Classification.

The principal changes with respect to crop classification are:

Land planted to oats, barley, rye, emmer, spelts, or mixtures of these crops will not be classified as soil-depleting when such crops are used as nurse crops for legumes or perennial grasses of which a good stand is established in 1939, and the nurse crop is cut green for hay, and is not harvested for grain.

In recommending this change, producers pointed out that the use of a nurse crop for legumes or perennial grasses, the nurse crop to be cut for hay, is a sound conservation practice.

Home vegetable gardens will be excluded from the soil-depleting classification.

Change with respect to wheat have been indicated above.

Restoration Land.

The restoration land program in the Great Plains States will be continued in 1939 on approximately the same basis as in 1938. In 1939, however, a deduction at the rate of $3.00 per acre will be made for each designated in 1938 or 1939 as restoration land which is plowed or tilled in 1939 for any purpose other than to protect the land from wind erosion or in preparation for the seeding of perennial grasses.

The deductions for the plowing up of native sod and failure to prevent wind and water erosion will be essentially the same in 1939 as in 1938. In counties subject to serious wind erosion in the Southern Great Plains area at least 30 per cent of the maximum payment for each farm is to be earned by carrying out soil-building practices. The purpose of this provision is to encourage adoption of wind erosion control measures in this area.

Soil Building Practices.

In general, the soil-building practices approved for payment in 1939 will correspond to those approved in 1938, although some changes will be made to better fit the program to the local needs of the States and regions.

The actual appropriation for the 1939 AAA Farm Program has not been made except the $212,000,000 appropriation for price-adjustment payments. The 1939 program, therefore, is dependent upon the action of Congress. In 1936, Congress authorized an annual appropriation for carrying out a program under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act.

The range program will be continued in 1939 on about the same basis as in 1938.

Administration.

The administration of the Agricultural Conservation Program in the States and counties, as in 1938, will be through State Agricultural Conservation Committees, and the county and community committees of the County Agricultural Conservation Associations. The Extension Services of the Land Grant Colleges are represented on the State and county committees.

YOUTH

Youth is the Season Mother Nature has slated, For all living creatures to become mated.

This is the time when all mankind begins to develop their body and mind. We journey through youth, seeking fame and glory After passing through infancy and leaving child's story.

We garner from Wisdom's riches some information As we learn more and more of God's creation. Our characters are formed for weak or woe, To accompany us wherever we are prone to go.

There is no greater lesson we ever will learn Than to do our duty when service come. In youth our friends sometimes around us linger To adore, criticize or in scorn point a finger.

Temptations arise like unto the fair blue skies To test our will power, also our eyes. In Youth the bloom of passion begins to burn, Until nature speaks in silent tones or terms, The gifts of the gods the bliss of fate, Reign upon us while we do or hesitate.

Our parents implore us, our teachers inform us, Our preachers persuades us, our friends surrender, Our enemies ridicule us, our foes abuse us, But only One who dwells on High excuses us.

The days of youth should be only sublime For they soon pass and cease to shine, The works of nature, the works of science or art Go hand in hand until they have to part.

Nothing can ever excel, the famous Golden Rule, Which all youths should learn in life's school. No pen can write, no Scion can ever tell The chaos of a youth's life not spent well. —Uncle Watt.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

At noon, on August 13, 1938, Mrs. S. T. Lewis slipped away to join that celestial band of loved ones and friends who sing praises to the Most High. Those that knew her best could say, "she has fought a good fight and has kept the faith" for she had an abiding faith in God that could not be taken from her.

The members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Farmville Methodist Church, of which she was a member, feel very keenly their loss in her going but rejoice in the fact that she has entered a richer and fuller life beyond. We therefore wish to express our very deep appreciation of her beautiful life and character which was held in high esteem by all that knew her.

Be it therefore resolved: First, That we bow in humble submission to an all wise Father whom we know doeth all things well.

Second, That by her devoted and unselfish life, her friendly smile of greeting, her encouraging words of comfort and cheer to all who touched her presence, by these and many other spiritual qualities, she has set an example that we should strive to follow.

Third, That we extend to the bereaved family our heart felt sympathy and commend to them the love of our Heavenly Father who alone is able to give grace in the hour of sorrow.

Fourth, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, that a copy be sent to the North Carolina Christian Advocate, that a copy be sent to the Farmville Enterprise and that a copy be recorded in the Minutes of our Auxiliary.

Looking at Washington

(Continued from page one) more than its share of gold and silver. Moreover, this country sets an artificial price for both of these metals, above the world market, and thereby makes it possible for foreign buyers to get more American products for less metal.

Looks Odd to Us. It seems somewhat screwy. It would seem that a nation trading in the world market, would want to get as much in exchange for its products as possible. Under present economic conditions, however, with various nations interfering with natural laws by the imposition of tariffs, quotas, restrictions and limitations, world commerce is in an upside-down condition. The nationalistic course, as followed in several nations, aims at disposing of goods to foreign countries as cheaply as possible without regard to the effect upon domestic consumers, who are required to pay higher prices.

The reader may not be able to answer the puzzle outlined in this article. Neither can the writer. None the less, the course being pursued, in part by this country, and in toto by several countries, does not seem to make sense to us.

Where is the guy who said he wanted some hot weather?

Less Monthly Discomfort Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking GARDOL, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Send, please by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.
