Farmville Clubs Meet For Regular Sessions

Building of Club House to Begin Here at Once

Officials of Country Club Busy With Construction Plans and Course Improvement.

George W. Davis, president of the Farmville Country Club and his building committee are busy these days with plans for the construction of a club house and improvement of the grounds of the local golf course, as a result of a recent notification by Congressman Lindsay Warren that the President had approved the project and that an allotment of $8,568 had been granted. This fund is to be supplemented by a fund raised locally of $4,540.00.

The plans as approved by the building committee, composed of W. S. Royster, B. O. Taylor and L. T. Pierce, call for a house 84x31 feet with a 10 foot porch. The inside lodge room will be 30x45 feet with fireplaces at either end. A ladies' powder room, men's lounge, lockers, showers and a kitchen.

The building, actual construction of which is expected to be underway within two weeks, is to be a frame structure of rustic finish and with cypress ceilings and walls. It will be located near the present site of the caddy house.

There are approximately sixty members of the country club organization at the present time but it is the desire of the board that the membership be increased to a hundred within the next few weeks as it is intended that this be a community wide proposition with unlimited benefits to those citizens, who while not keenly interested in golf, may enjoy the privileges of the club house.

SEPTUAGENARIAN BRIEFS

New Year greetings, social meetings, friendly feelings among all human beings should set the star of hope to gleaming while twilight mellow the glow of evening as the curtain of night prevents the revealing of our individual seeming, while the night hawks begin their screaming as we lie peacefully dreaming of things that sometimes really have no meaning. Then sometimes when we open our weeping eyes and find it was only the results of our wandering minds; but what of that? When we count back the scores of years behind us, that is the one thing that should remind us, as we ask ourselves will another year find us, or will our friends be as kind to us as those that now surround us. We, who have older grown have long since known this wicked old world is not our home; but when we were young and in our prime we seemed to never find thoughts like these running through our mind. Now my comrades far and near let's get out and put in all we can in this God-given year.

Diversifies

A. M. Frazzelle of Richlands, One-leaf County, has decided to add incomes from poultry, beef cattle and swine to his present income from tobacco. Recently he sold 175 capons in Philadelphia for 24 cents a pound. He bought a pure bred Angus bull with the money. He has 925 capons now three months old and will trade his grade cows for Angus heifers. Harefooters, Mr. Frazzelle has depended upon tobacco alone, but he told his farm agent that such dependence is too risky now.

Large Tournament Held By Home Demonstration Group No. 1.

One of the best attended and most successful of recent benefit bridge events held in the community, was the tournament, sponsored by the Farmville Home Demonstration Club number one, with Mrs. Herman Baker as committee chairman, and held on Friday in the new club house, built during the past few weeks on the Farmville-Fountain highway by clubs number one and two.

Twenty-three tables were arranged for bridge, rummy and set back games in the afternoon and evening, with prizes being awarded as follows:

In the afternoon, high score prizes of home baked cakes, demonstrating the culinary skill of the club members, were won by Mrs. J. B. Eagles, Mrs. Mac Carraway and Mrs. R. O. Lang. Mrs. Wesley R. Willis was presented with the consolation and Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, next to low, received a prize also. Table prizes of canned fruit, pickles, jams and relishes, were won by Miss Hazel Monk, Mrs. S. A. Garris, Mrs. Edgar Barrett, Mrs. Wesley R. Willis, Mrs. Jack Smith, Mrs. D. R. Morgan, Mrs. Earl Trevathan, Mrs. Mack Horton and Mrs. Lonnie Pierce.

In the evening, home baked cakes were awarded Dr. Fitzgerald, Mrs. R. O. Lang, and Miss Sara Nichols for high scores in bridge; to G. A. Rouse, Mrs. Raymond Shearin and Horace Lewis as crack rummy players, and to Earl Trevathan, Herman Baker, Bonnie Allen and Sam Lewis, who scored high in the set back games. Consolation prizes were presented to Miss Martha Lewis, Mrs. D. R. Morgan, Mrs. Charlie Joyner and Jack Lewis.

A chicken salad course was served on both occasions.

Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Bill Worthington were gracious hostesses to the Junior Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. W. Leslie Smith. Featuring the program was a splendid paper read by Miss Elizabeth Davis under the topic of "Marguerite of Navarre," with the 16th Century queen being depicted as a colorful and interesting character by the program leader.

A report of December activities in relation to the club's welfare project, was given by Mrs. Melvin Rollins, and Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr., read a selection, "Advice to the Juniors," from the State publication.

A nominating committee, composed of Mrs. Jack Lewis, Miss Mary Friar Rouse and Mrs. W. H. Moore, Jr., was appointed by the president, Mrs. J. M. Wheelless, Jr.

A variety of dainty sandwiches and hot tea were served during a pleasant social hour.

Mrs. R. H. Knott was a gracious hostess at the New Year meeting of the Rebecca Winbourne Chapter, U. D. C., when Miss Annie Perkins conducted the ritualistic opening and Mrs. T. W. Lang the devotional exercises.

Mrs. F. M. Davis, Sr., presided and extended a cordial welcome to Mrs. E. L. Barrett as a new member. Mrs. G. S. Yought, guest of the chapter, spoke on the lives and careers of General Lee and General Jackson.

A delectable salad course was served after adjournment.

day at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden with Mrs. Wesley R. Willis presiding.

Mrs. E. Bruce Densley, of Fountain, as guest speaker, gave an interesting review of Miller Brand's biography, "The Outward Room," which describes her life as an inmate of an institution for the mentally sick.

A delectable salad course was served followed by cookies and salted nuts. Mrs. Holden presented members with calendars to mark the first meeting of the New Year.

The New Deal Club members have played contract twice this week, being entertained by Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., and Mrs. P. E. Jones.

Mrs. Davis was hostess on Thursday, when Mrs. L. E. Walston, topping all scores, won the prize, a potted plant. A delicious salad course was served after play by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Agnes Blount. Mrs. Robert Lee Smith was a special guest at this time.

Mrs. Jones entertained on Monday at the regular meeting and presented Mrs. R. A. Parker as winner of high score, with a set of glass towels. A delightful sweet course with salted nuts was served. Special guests of the hostess were Mrs. J. H. Paylor and Mrs. L. T. Pierce.

The January meeting of the Literary-Art department of the Woman's Club was featured with a reading and review of Paul Green's play, "The Lost Colony," by Mrs. J. H. Rose, of Greenville, a special guest of the club, whose interpretation and discussion of the play was received with enthusiasm and appreciation by the members.

Miss Annie Perkins presided and introduced the guest speaker of the afternoon.

After adjournment the hostesses, Mrs. L. E. Walston and Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., served golden glow salad, sandwiches, olives, Russian tea and home made candies. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Walston, in which potted plants and ivy were used with pleasing effect.

The Wednesday Afternoon Club held a delightful meeting with Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., as hostess. The high score prize, novel table numbers, was won by Mrs. W. Alexander Allen. In a brief business session, Miss Elizabeth Davis was elected to succeed Miss Mary Alice Beaman as president of this group.

Delicious strawberry shortcake and coffee were served after play.

Stevens Will Preside In Lenoir This Month

Kinston, Jan. 10. — John S. Davis, clerk of Lenoir Superior Court, today announced that the Sixth District's new judge, Henry L. Stevens, will hold his first court in the district in Kinston the week of January 23. He will exchange with Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, who will go to Raleigh. Stevens is at the Capital this week, in his first term. The week of the 30th will find him presiding over court in his home county, Duplin. Duplin courts are held at Kenansville. Judge Stevens' residence is at Warsaw.

Col. Ruppert Given Final Church Rites

New York, Jan. 10. — Col. Jacob Ruppert, multi-millionaire brewer and owner of the world champion New York Yankees baseball club, was reported critically ill at his home tonight by a spokesman for his family.

The 71 year old sportsman and Manhattan real estate magnate was given the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church. He suffered from a complication of diseases recurring from an attack of phlebitis.

His health has been failing steadily since last April although he was able to come out of confinement for a time.

Improving Domestic Demand for all fruits, according to the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics, is expected to experience further improvement as a result of additional increases in consumer incomes.
