A LIMIT TO AIRPLANES

Reading about the spectacular speed of modern airplanes and the miraculous heights to which the airman ascend, we sometimes wonder whether there is a limit to the development of aircraft in these respects.

The answer, according to Professor William F. Durand, of Stanford University, is that the limit is about five hundred miles an hour and that the airplane will not be able to climb much higher than sixty thousand feet. Already, planes have gone 56,000 feet in the air and at speeds of more than 440 miles an hour.

Evidently, if the professor is right, the development of airplanes will henceforth proceed along more utilitarian lines.

ARGUMENT FOR ARMAMENT

The argument for increased American armament rests upon the following grounds:

That there are powerful nations in the world today, devoid of all sense of decency in regards to their relations with other powers.

That regardless of the moral rights involved, these powers would ruthlessly take, by force of arms, that which belongs to other peoples.

That while these powers are not, perhaps, today ready to attack the United States, they are preparing for war upon such a scale that tomorrow they may be anxious to do so in the hope of greater spoils.

That no nation can wait upon the beginning of hostilities to begin to prepare for war. It requires years to secure the necessary material and equipment for modern armies and navies.

Facing an uncertain future, not knowing what group of powers will be dominant in the world a few years hence, the United States, to play safe, must be prepared to defend itself against a possible combination of ruthless and unprincipled aggressors.

Will Can Produce

Farmers of Pasquotank, Perquimans and adjacent counties will grow 1,000 acres of tomatoes and 200 acres of Lima beans for a cannery at Cheriton, Virginia, this season. If the project with the beans is successful, it is expected that contracts for 10,000 acres of this crop will be let in 1940.

Yams

Sweet potato production in 1938 was slightly larger than in 1937, although there was a sharp decrease in the Central Atlantic Coast states. Prices advanced seasonally in recent weeks.

More Beef

E. H. Crabtree, of Bahama, Route 1, has purchased 100 acres of his father's farm and is starting a small herd of quality beef cattle. The permanent pasture on the farm will be increased. Carl Woodard of Spring Hope, Route 1, has also selected beef cattle for a 4-H club project.

Wise men sometimes keep their mouths shut; foolish individuals broadcast their views.

She was accompanied to Baltimore by Mr. and Mrs. Eric Copeland and Miss Mattie Lee Eagles.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. SPEIGHT

Funeral services for Mrs. R. L. Speight were conducted Tuesday afternoon in the Baptist Church by the pastor, Mr. M. L. Johnson, assisted by Rev. H. M. Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Music was furnished by members of the chorus of both churches and Mr. Elbert Holmes and Mrs. Daisy Holmes Smith of Farmville. Interment followed in Fountain cemetery.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Fountain Woman's Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. G. W. Lane. This was not the regular monthly meeting but a business session to discuss plans for erecting a community building.

Following several discussions the president appointed committees to make investigations and report at the regular meeting in February.

Better Corn

Forty-nine of the '58 corn club members of Greene County completed their projects and records for the 1938 crop and produced 2,500 bushels on 49 acres or an average of 51 bushels to the acre. The corn cost an average of 35 cents a bushel to produce and is valued at 60 cents a bushel.

LET UP — LIGHT UP A CAMEL

RALPH S. WILLARD'S analytical work puts a premium on steady hands, steady eyes. He's a specialist in industrial chemistry—a job that causes plenty of strain on nerves. Says Mr. Willard: "I've found that tension doesn't 'get' my nerves when I rest them regularly. My rule is a simple, enjoyable one—it's to let up and light up a Camel when I can. A moment's pause and a refreshing Camel help smooth out that feeling of tension."
