Literary Clubs Suspend Activities For Summer

Number of Bridge Clubs Meet During the Week

Following the general custom of women's clubs prevailing throughout the State, of suspending activities during July and August, the last meetings of the Farmville Literary Clubs were held during this week.

Mrs. W. M. Willis was hostess at an interesting meeting of the Literary Club, at her home on Wilson street, which was decorated with quantities of summer flowers. Mrs. J. W. Joyner presided and read the year book message of the state Federation president, under the subject of "What Is Democracy?"

Mrs. W. C. Askew, program leader, reviewed the book of current fiction, "Yes My Darling Daughter," reading portions, which illustrated the humorous situations and sparkling dialogue, woven into the plot by the author, Mark Reed.

Bringing the program to a delightful close were two vocal numbers, "Sing, Sing, Birds On The Wing," and "The Rosary," by Mrs. M. V. Jones, with Mrs. J. W. Joyner as accompanist.

A delicious sweet course was served after adjournment.

Special guests of the hostess were; Mrs. Lath Morris and her house guest, Mrs. T. H. Morris, of Houston, Texas, Mrs. Agnes Blount, Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. J. W. Bass, Mrs. L. E. Walston, Mrs. M. V. and Mrs. G. A. Jones.

Mrs. Wesley E. Willis was hostess at a delightful meeting of the Merry Matrons, presided over by Mrs. J. M. Hobgood. Gladioli predominated in the floral arrangement of the home on Walnut street.

Mrs. R. H. Knott, chairman of the program committee, announced the proposed study of "The Modern Woman's Bookshelf" for the new club year, beginning in September.

Mrs. G. M. Holden as program leader, presented Mrs. Cherry Easley, who gave a synopsis with enjoyable readings from Frederick Prokosh's book, "The Seven Who Fleed."

Mrs. C. N. Bostic rendered two vocal selections, "Smiling Through," and "Who Is Sylvia" with Mrs. Hobgood at the piano.

An ice course was served during a pleasant social period. Special guests of the hostess were; Mrs. Easley, Mrs. Bostic, Mrs. Frank Davis, Sr., Mrs. John B. Joyner, Miss Bettie Joyner, Mrs. T. W. Lang, and Mrs. J. H. Harris.

Members of the Progressive and New Deal Clubs enjoyed playing at a joint meeting of the groups on Thursday morning, with Mrs. P. E. Jones as hostess. Lovely summer flowers were used in harmonizing arrangements in the rooms where progressive games were played.

When the guests arrived the tables bore appointments for refreshments, with each being centered by a hostess plate containing a variety of dainty sandwiches and cookies, with which a refreshing beverage was served.

Mrs. R. O. Lang, of the Progressive Club, and Mrs. L. T. Reese, of the New Deal Club, won prizes of glasses in attractive holders. Mrs. Elbert Joyner won the guest award, a novel watering pot, and her house guest, Mrs. Sara B. Bishop, of Aurora, was remembered with a linen handkerchief.

The June meeting of the Garden Club was held with the president, Miss Tabitha DeVisconti as hostess. Flowers from her own garden were used with artistic effect by the hostess in decorating the home on South Main street.

As guest speaker, Mrs. J. M. Hobgood addressed the group on "What A Woman's Club Means To A Community," outlining the benefits and far-reaching influence of a live woman's organization.

Mrs. A. C. Turnage discussed the growing of roses; Mrs. Lester Turnage read a poem, "An Old Garden," and Mrs. W. C. Askew brought the program of study to a close with a selection, "The Silent Garden Partner."

A musical program of beautiful vocal solos was rendered by Ray Weisenfuh, of Lewistown, Pa., orchestra leader, with Mrs. J. M. Hobgood as accompanist.

Delicious refreshments were served on the veranda of the home. The Couple Club held an enjoyable meeting on Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. Hubert Joyner as gracious hosts. Gladioli and bowls of mixed garden flowers greeted the guests and end tables.

Mrs. W. E. Joyner was winner of the award for ladies, a berry can, and J. W. Joyner won the men's prize of socks.

A delectable fruit salad with leaf tea, saltines, cookies and nuts was served.

Mrs. James Smith was hostess to the Ace of Clubs Pleasing Flowers arrangement was observed through out the home. Mrs. Mae Caraway, compiling high score, was presented with a set of glass beverage glasses.

Sandwiches in a variety of designs, cookies, wafers and nuts were served with a beverage and play.

Mrs. George Moore, Jr., entertained the Lamard clubmembers and additional guests. Mrs. Ed Sykes and Mrs. bride, being presented after play with Wheelers, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moore, George W. Davis, W. J. Raseberry, Mrs. Daisy H. Smith and Mrs. J. R. Shearin.

WINNERS IN WATER CONTESTS WEDNESDAY

Adults and children alike gained much pleasure from the contests conducted by the municipal pool management on Wednesday afternoon, and contestants, who had been practicing daily for the events took a lively interest in the outcome.

Winners, who received season tickets at half price, as awards, those winning two contests being given a whole ticket were; Boys—midget, free style, Charles Willis Shackelford; Junior, free style, Billie Jones; senior, free style, Emerson Smith; Junior, plunge, George Warren; senior, plunge, Emerson Smith; senior back stroke, Graydon Liles; junior, dive, George Warren.

Girls—Midget, free style, Jane Turnage; senior, Cornelia Knott; midget, diving, Jane Turnage; senior, diving, Frances Greene.

Manager Harrell and life guards Robert Pierce, Tommy Willis and Edward Harris are making plans at this time for future contests and the pool bids fair to continue to be the chief center of recreation for the young people and for many of the older folks as well, during the summer months.

Members of the Junior Woman's Club entertained their husbands and sweethearts at a supper in the out door dining room Wednesday afternoon, and a large number of out of town people have also enjoyed the screened enclosure, which with its many conveniences, make picnic suppers enjoyable events for private families as well as organizations.
