The Presbyterian Auxiliary members observed Thursday, November 2, as an all-day study conference, which was conducted by Rev. J. Norton Denny, of Tarboro, on the book of St. John. Mrs. Cherry Easley, chairman of Spiritual Life, presided.

NOTE OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us, the lovely floral tribute and other expression of sympathy extended us during the illness and death of our husband and father, F. G. Dupree, Sr.

—Mrs. Dupree and Family.

HOLIDAY TRIP

Dr. C. C. Joyner, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mae, is attending the Homecoming Day meet at the University of North Carolina, which will be held during the week-end. Dr. Joyner, who is a Monogram man of the university, will attend the football game also and spend the remainder of his holiday trip at the home of his daughter, Mrs. N. H. Henry in Chapel Hill.

FIRE IN PRESSING CLUB DAMAGES SHOP, CLOTHES

A fire of undetermined origin at the Rollins' Cleaners and Dyers plant was brought under control after a fierce fight by local firemen, early Tuesday evening. Much damage was done by the smoke and water to the modern plant and clothes in the cleaning process. Though an estimate of damages was not available, it is thought that the loss is covered by insurance.

THANKS

We wish to thank each and every member of the Farmville Fire Department for the loyal and efficient service rendered in preventing total destruction by fire to our building and plant Tuesday night, and to our patrons and the public generally for their kind consideration. We expect to open for regular business again in a few days.

Again we thank you.

Bridge Hostesses Entertain At Lovely Parties This Week

Seasonal Colors and Motifs Observed in Decorations and Appointments

Hostesses, at parties of this week continued to use with pleasing effect the orange and black combination of colors and motifs of the Halloween season in floral decorations, table appointments and refreshments. Chrysanthemums, marigolds and lupin have predominated in the artistic arrangements of flowers used as a setting for the parties and meetings.

A lovely party and the largest of the week was that given by Mrs. S. A. Garris and Miss Maxine Long, who graciously entertained friends for sixteen tables of bridge in the Home Demonstration Club house on the Farmville-Fountain highway.

Mrs. Claude L. Barrett scored high and received a plaque; Mrs. W. S. Royster, as runner-up, won a piece of North Carolina pottery as an award; Mrs. Herbert Acton, scoring low, was given a crystal high hat as consolation, and Mrs. W. H. Duke, a recent bride, was remembered with a candy jar. A golden glow salad, sandwiches, pickles and coffee were served by members of the Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Alton W. Bobbitt charmingly entertained friends for seven tables of bridge at her home. Handsome roses predominated in the floral decorations, with vases of rosebuds used as table center and given as table prizes. Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., was winner of the high score award, a floral print, and the consolation, a bubble bowl, went to Mrs. Rex Hodges. Mrs. Charles W. Donaldson, of Greenville, Tenn., was presented with a vase of roses by the hostess.

Mrs. R. S. Scott assisted in serving heavenly hash on angel cake, coffee and salted nuts. The Literary Club met this week in the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden, with Mrs. H. Neal Howard as hostess. Mrs. John B. Joyner presided over a business session, announced the program topic as "The Home-maker and Health", and turned the meeting over to Mrs. P. E. Jones as leader for the afternoon.

Mrs. Jones discussed women in the light of health officers, and the guardian of the mental as well as the physical welfare of their homes. A delicious fruit salad with coffee was served, followed by stuffed dates and pinwheel cookies.

Lovely fall roses from her own garden were used effectively in her home on Church street, by Mrs. Jack Smith, who entertained the Progressive Bridge Club, and had as special guests, Mrs. Robert Lee Smith, Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Mrs. Claude L. Barrett, Mrs. R. A. Parker, Mrs. C. H. Joyner, Mrs. D. R. Morgan, Mrs. W. Leslie Smith and Mrs. Charles W. Donaldson, of Greenville, Tenn.

Mrs. R. O. Lang and Mrs. Robert Lee Smith were awarded the club and guest prizes of dainty handkerchiefs and Mrs. Donaldson, as out-of-town guest, received a lovely gift. Members of the Ace Club and special guests, Mrs. C. E. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Lyman Joyner, Mrs. Lynn Davis, Miss Frances Beaman and Mrs. R. T. Williams, enjoyed an afternoon of bridge with Mrs. John M. Mewborn as hostess. The club and guest prizes were won by Mrs. W. F. Worthington and Mrs. R. T. Williams.

A salad course with crax and a favorite beverage were served after play. Miss Hazel Monk delightfully entertained the Lamrad Club at another series of the bridge tournament games being played by this group. Sharing in the pleasures of the afternoon were Mrs. Robert Lang, of Beaufort, and Mrs. Rex Hodges. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Frances Joyner Spencer was a gracious hostess this week, entertaining the Wednesday Afternoon Club. Compiling high score in the interesting progressions, Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., was awarded hose, and Mrs. W. Alexander Allen received the low score prize, a vase. Special guests were Mrs. W. H. Worthington and Mrs. Mac Carraway. A delectable salad was served.

RECEIVES HONOR

Farmville friends are congratulating Robert Windham, student at Atlantic Christian College, on the honor of being among those selected to represent the College in Who's Who of this year's American Year Book. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Windham.

The Year Book, which is published with the cooperation of the National Federation of America and collegiate organizations of note, serves as a reference for business firms and other groups.

MISS BUTLER LEAVES TO ACCEPT POSITION

Miss Nellie Butler, sister of Mrs. John D. Holmes, left this week to accept a position as secretary for Dr. Jacob, president of Georgia Southwest College, Americus, Ga.

Her many friends here regret the change of residence, her vivacious manner and lovely voice always made her as a welcome addition to any social gathering here.

URGES WRITTEN LEASES TRAPPING INSECTS IN AIR SEEK BITTER GRASSES

The Farm Security Administration's national survey of the progress of farm families it is assisting shows that those renting their farms are making decided headway in their tenure status.

In the past, more than 80 per cent of farm renters operated under oral leases. But 81 per cent of the 161,495 tenants in the FSA rehabilitation program covered by the survey have written leases. These tend to stabilize them on their farms ahead.

Many of these written leases are based on the Farm Security Administration's flexible lease providing for arbitration of disputes between landlord and tenant, reimbursing the tenant for permanent improvements, and other features of benefit both to landowner and tenant.

More than 40,000 of the F. S. A. tenants have written leases providing for more than 1 year of tenure which encourage balanced livestock and cropping programs to conserve the soil instead of "quick cash" and soil-depleting crops which tend to go along with short tenure.

The survey showed that during the past year 26,800 of the families had made a difficult step up the economic ladder by advancing from sharecroppers to tenants. In addition, under the Bankhead-Jones Act the FSA has made loans to almost 7,000 tenants for the purchase of farms of their own.

Pioneer work by Federal entomologists in collecting insects from the upper air by means of traps mounted on airplanes started as early as the summer of 1926 when P. A. Click made the first of a long series of collecting flights using a trapping device which was improved repeatedly in the course of the experiments.

Results of these flights aroused scientific interest in what has come to be known as aerobiology and has indicated the need for further definite investigation, entomologists believe. They think that insect collection over seas and oceans and at a distance from land might clear up questions as to whether destructive insects can and do enter the country by flight or drift across broad expanses of water.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh cooperated with the late F. C. Meier of the Department of Agriculture in studying plant spores and micro-organisms, and Colonel Lindbergh invented the "sky hook" or trap used for this purpose. Mr. Meier lost his life in the wreck of an airliner over the Pacific while on a collecting trip. Amelia Earhart was using the Lindbergh trap on the plane when she was lost.

Under the National Research Council, research in this field has been organized under the Committee on Aerobiology which is arranging for cooperation of scientists from the universities and Government bureaus, and flyers as represented by the commercial airlines, and the Army and Navy aviators.

"Build-Up": Way to Ease Women's Pain

Many weak, run-down women are in a vicious circle. Their under-nourishment often leads to what is called functional dysmenorrhea and its symptoms—headaches, nervousness, irritability, intermittent cramp-like pains—from which many women suffer. Surest way to break the vicious circle is by building strength and energy, which so many find may be done with the help of CARDUL. It stimulates appetite, aids digestion, and thus helps in this "build-up" of physical resistance. Women also report that, if taken just before and during "the time," CARDUL helps to ease the pain and discomfort of the period.
