AIRPLANE INDUSTRY BOOMS

The airplane industry in the United States seems to be in line for the greatest expansion possible, with combatant and neutral nations falling over each other in an effort to contract for American-built war planes.

While the war business will not last always it may be the means of expanding the aircraft industry to the place where the production of planes will be cheaper than ever and thus speed the development of the flivver plane which will make the airplane the rival of the automobile.

THANKSGIVING THOUGHTS

Some of the people of the United States will celebrate Thanksgiving Day on the twenty-third and others will wait a week later but all will give expression to grateful appreciation of blessings from a Supreme Being.

The people of this great nation have much to be thankful for. Blessed with immense wealth, as compared to other peoples and enjoying the benefits that come from vast natural resources, we have every reason to give a day of the year to the solemn ceremony of returning sincere acknowledgement to God for the bounty that has been poured out upon the United States of America.

The liberty that is enjoyed in this country contrasts strangely with the tyranny that runs rampant in many lands. This great gift to the individual comes to us without much exertion on our part and most of us enjoy freedom as a gift from those who have preceded us in the world.

While the United States and its people have suffered material losses in the last decade our comeback is assured because of the unbounded resources that nature has made available to us. The utilization of the fruits of the earth by the present generation is often foolishly extravagant but, nonetheless, they explain the many comforts and conveniences that are ours.

Every individual, who acknowledges a Supreme Being, must recognize the blessings that come to him, or her, in the course of a year. While we humbly worship our Creator at all times it is fitting that on Thanksgiving Day we give particular expression to this sentiment in a public and official manner.

In Farmville the people will reverently turn their eyes toward the Heavens, from whence cometh their all, and fervently give thanks to God for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, which is being attained in a large measure by more and more of our people.
