SYMPATHY FOR FINLAND RUSSIANS DENOUNCED DESTROYERS REPAIRED WALLACE AND HULL SPEAK LOOKING TO CONGRESS PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGNS THE ANTI-TRUST LAWS JAPAN AND THE U. S.

Russia's attack upon Finland produced much sympathy for the smaller Baltic power in this country. The President moved immediately to extend available assistance to the Finns, evidently planning to ask Congress in January to return the December installment on the old war debt.

The breaking off of diplomatic relations, it is said, was considered by the Administration but not effected for the simple reason that information is difficult to obtain from Russia and it was considered best to keep an American representative in Moscow.

Considerable discussion followed revelations that a number of destroyers were in need of alterations. After some delay, the Navy gave out the information that 36 of the new vessels were altered at a net cost of $230,884.

Secretary Wallace and Secretary Hull took occasion last week to make addresses at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau Federation in defense of their respective policies. Mr. Wallace proclaimed the virtues of the AA and Mr. Hull stoutly defended the reciprocal trading program.

Speculation as to the length of the approaching Congressional session can be discounted by the simple truth that nobody knows what will develop. Internal questions are not apt to prolong the session but the developments that occur across the Atlantic may make a difference.

Suggestions continue to be heard that the Presidential campaign next year get off to a delayed start. The idea has met with approval on the part of some Democrats and Republicans although it is too early to determine whether the subject will prove to be anything more than discussion.

The campaign of Thurman Arnold to enforce the anti-trust laws runs afoul of the contention, often advanced by labor, that unions are exempt. The recent decision of a lower court in regards to the milk cases indicates that no exemption applies to farmers.

The race for the Republican nomination brought out Tom Dewey in a formal announcement last week, which was followed by a statement listing the names of twelve close advisers, with whom he is in "almost daily conference".

Farmers in 30 states planted more than 2,000,000 trees in wind-breaks under the State cooperation plan of the Clark-McNary law.

Women: "Build-Up" To Relieve Pain

A weak, run-down, undernourished condition calls for attention! Such a condition often enables functional dysmenorrhea to get its foothold. That's one thing which leads to much of women's suffering from headaches, nervousness, those cramp-like pains. A good way to relieve such pains, women by thousands have found, is by the proper use of CARDUL. It stimulates a lagging appetite, assists digestion and assimilation; thus helps build physical resistance to periodic pain. Taken just before and during "the time," many women also report that CARDUL helps to ease the pain and discomfort of the period.
