Social Events of the Week Include Mayfair Club Dance

Mrs. Morgan Has Informal Tea, Junior Woman's Club and Legion Auxiliary Meet During Holidays

The outstanding social event of the Christmas season was the formal holiday dance, held by the Mayfair Club in the school gymnasium on Tuesday evening with around two hundred members and guests from nearby towns in attendance.

This affair was reported as one of the most enjoyable of any social function held by the organization. Lath Morriss, vice president of the club and R. O. Lang, Jr., secretary and treasurer were in charge of arrangements.

The gym decorations of pine, wreaths, holly and lights were artistic and lent an atmosphere of good cheer and merriment to the occasion. Music was furnished by Ted Ross and his group of University of North Carolina musicians.

Mrs. D. R. Morgan was at home to several friends on Wednesday afternoon, entertaining at a lovely informal tea from three to four o'clock. Wreaths, holly and tapers were in attractive arrangements throughout the home.

The hostess served Russian tea from a beautifully appointed tea wagon and a variety of dainty sandwiches and cinnamon rings were passed by Mrs. David T. Harris.

The guests were later invited into the dining room where a large Christmas tree and buffet decorations provided a lovely setting for the table, which was spread with a lace cloth, arranged with a centerpiece in the Christmas colors and illumined with red candles in graduated effect. Egg nog, date bread and salted nuts were served. Upon leaving, the guests were presented with a boutonniere of pink roses and fern.

Mrs. R. LeRoy Parker and Miss Dorothy Fargis were gracious hostesses this week to the Junior Woman's Club at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Charles H. Moxingo. Seasonal decorations and candle light provided the home with an atmosphere of good cheer.

Mrs. Parker presided and presented the speaker, Mrs. Cherry Easley, who discussed "Christmas, Its Traditions and Customs." Mrs. Howard Moye reported activities of Junior club women at this season as gleaned from the "Club Woman," and Mrs. Jack Lewis, chairman of the ways and means committee reported plans of her committee.

Heavenly hash, coffee and nuts were served during a pleasant social hour.

Mrs. W. E. Joyner presided at the December meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, held in the Legion Home, with Mrs. Louise D. Harris and Mrs. H. Neal Howard as joint hostesses.

Featuring the program was a talk relating to the celebration of Christmas in America and in other lands by Rev. D. A. Clarke, and bringing it to a delightful conclusion was the vocal rendition of "Jesu Bambino," by Mrs. J. W. Joyner.

During a business session the Auxiliary laid plans for giving Christmas cheer to three families of the community, with Mrs. J. H. Bynum, Mrs. B. F. Weaver and Mrs. B. R. Fields appointed as a committee to serve in this connection.

Delicious refreshments were served, the plates bearing appropriate favors.
