Crouch-Person Wedding Vows Spoken in Church At Florence S. Carolina

Popular Couple Married Saturday in Historic St. Johns Episcopal Church in Florence

Of keen interest to a wide circle of friends throughout this State and Florida was the marriage of Miss Frances Person, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. Copper Person, of Pikeville, to Mr. Walter Monroe Crouch, Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Monroe Crouch, of Rocky Mount, which was solemnized Saturday, February 3, in a private ceremony in St. John's Episcopal Church, in Florence, South Carolina, with the pastor, Rev. W. S. Foyner, officiating. Only members of the immediate families were in attendance.

The bride wore a Schiaparelli model of sheer black crepe, fashioned with a fitted waist and flared skirt, and a white embroidered lace yoke. Her modish spring toque, of white hyacinths, was veil trimmed. A mint coat and white gloves completed the ensemble. Accessories were black and her only ornament was a pendant necklace of seed pearls and diamonds, a family heirloom. Her flowers were white orchids.

Mrs. Crouch, a descendant of prominent pioneer families of this State, received her education at St. Mary's Junior College in Raleigh, attended by her mother and grandmother, and Woman's College, University of North Carolina, Greensboro.

Mr. Crouch, a former resident of High Point, and of distinguished ancestry also, was graduated from Riverside Military School, at Calhounville, Ga., and received his degree from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, where he was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom left by motor for a wedding trip to Southern Florida, after which they will be at home in Jacksonville, Fla., where Mr. Crouch is associated with General Motors.

Mrs. W. L. Smith Hostess At Lovely Club Party

Valentine Idea Noted In Decorations For The Affairs of Week.

A lovely midwinter social affair here was the bridge party, given by Mrs. W. Leslie Smith on Tuesday afternoon, when she entertained friends for ten tables of contract, including members of her card club. Arrangements of red and white carnations added a gay note of color to the Smith home, which was thrown en suite, and carried a suggestion of the Valentine season.

At the conclusion of the progressions, Mrs. Roy Lassiter, winner of high score, among members, was awarded ash trays, and Mrs. R. D. Rouse was presented the guest prize, a red ivy bowl. The consolation for members, a set of fruit juice glasses, went to Mrs. C. L. Barrett, and the low score prize, for guests, a wall vase, was given Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson.

The Valentine season was again suggested in the refreshment sets, and the colors and motifs were carried in detail in the sweet course, consisting of angel cake, stuffed with whipped cream and nuts, mints and salted nuts, which followed by coffee, pinwheel cookies and cheese straws.

Members of the New Deal Club enjoyed a morning of bridge on Tuesday with Mrs. Jack Lewis as hostess. Darning powder was awarded Mrs. L. E. Walston for scoring high, and a heart shaped box of chocolates was given Mrs. L. T. Reese as consolation for poor luck.

A variety of sandwiches, olives, pickles, walnut wafers, salted nuts and a favorite beverage were served between progressions.

The Golden Jubilee anniversary of the founding of the National Federation of Woman's Clubs was celebrated in a charming manner at the first February meeting of the Literary Club, held on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. J. Y. Monk as hostess at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden.

Mrs. J. W. Joyner presided and presented the Penny Art Fund, to which the club voted to make a contribution.

Mrs. J. I. Morgan made a splendid talk on "America In-World's Civilization," stressing the importance of freedom of speech and religion; tracing the course of civilization since the Magna Carta; recounting the part America has played in scientific and other fields serving mankind, and holding up the emancipation of women by America as an example to the whole world.

Miss Annie Perkins gave an interesting history of the origin of women's clubs, a description of General headquarters in Washington, D. C., and outlined the work done in each department.

During the social hour a birthday cake, bearing 50 candles, signifying the number of years since the founding of the National Federation, was brought in and cut while the members sang, "Happy Birthday," and deposited pennies equivalent to their birthdays, which will be sent to headquarters from the club as a thank offering from the organization.

A delectable salad, crackers and coffee were served.

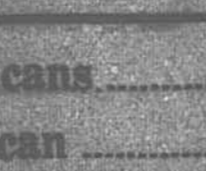

The Junior Woman's Club met this week at the home of Mrs. J. M. Wheelless, with Mrs. Cleveland Taylor and Mrs. M. E. Pollard as joint hostesses.

Mrs. J. Leroy Parker presided and gave a report relative to the success of the President's Birthday Ball, sponsored by this group.

Featuring the program of the afternoon was a review of "Wind, Sand and Stars," by Antoine de Saint Exupery, presented by Mrs. Curtis Flanagan.

Miss Mary Friar Rouse made announcements regarding children's books, which the club is donating to the Farmville Library, and received books brought to the meeting by members as individual contributions. The club voted to donate the sum of $10.00 to equipment for the school lunch room at this time. Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss was given a cordial welcome as a new member.
