4th District Democrats Applaud Pepper's Plea for Roosevelt's Renomination

Best Friend Business In Best Friend Business U.S. Ever Had; He Is The U.S. Peoples Candidate, and Should Be Drafted for Four More Years

Raleigh, May 2 .- Democrats of the Fourth District, young and old, are still applauding the powerful plea for renomination of President Franklin D. Roosevelt made here Monday by Senator Claude Pepper.

The Florida law makers appeal for Roosevelt as "the best friend business, even big business, ever had" fitted in complete harmony with the current "North Carolina for Roosevelt" drive which its sponsors are confident will result in sending a Tar Heel delegation to the Chicago convention pledged unanimously to case 26 votes for Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Senator Pepper told a widelycheering audience that the president be drafted as the people's candidate is "no candidate for office" but must if the gains of the New Deal are to be preserved and enlarged.

"There aren't any more honors in could they give him if he lived forever as President, than they have given him in the dark hours of triai. "But Roosevelt is the people's candidate for four more years in the White House-until we can see through the clouds."

He scoffed at conservatives to "tell us that the best way to save the country and the world is to do nothing for either," and declared that Roosevelt "has been the best friend business, even big business ever had, because we know that the only way big business can live is for little business to thrive, and Roosevelt years upon whose retina little business has been able to register an im-

The Senator disclaimed any intention to be disrespectful of old leaders but added "we are not blind and we know they did not do anything about these things."

"But we do know, thank God Franklin D. Roosevelt. We do know that he sees the same things as we see, and that he has been doing something about them, even against the doleful prophets who speak for the dead. Franklin D. Roosevelt has saved our inheritance for us. He did not let our estate, handed down to us by the blood of our forbears, the kind of forbears who shed their blood at lenburg, collapse and fall to pieces. He has lightened our debt. He has concerved our resources when they tain. were being squandered by an irrehas kicked the pants of a lot of fel-arguments against a third term.

"They forget that they were not afraid of a third term for Coolidge," he said, citing the later Senator Simeon Fess; the late Congressman Snell, Republican leader of the House; "that rather conservative figure, Herbert Hoover": the rather honorable and respectable Chief Justice of the United States", Charles E. Hughes: "that rather substantial business man" Henry Ford; and others who wanted a third term for coolidge.

He declared Americans will give up President Roosevelt until the Mrs. E. B. Beasley, Jr., and Mrs. aims of the New Deal are secure. He lauded Governor Clyde Hoey for ter. Mrs. Ernest Hunt directed the favoring the President's renomination, and expressed his great pleasure at being invited to speak in "the oldest liberal state in the South."

R. D. F. "IN THE BAG." DEWEY LEADS RIVALS. INQUIRY INTO FUNDS. A SHORT CAMPAIGN. TAUSSIG'S BLUNT WORDS. FEARS WAR WITH JAPAN. "GOING TO SQUEEZE." ROOSEVELT'S JUNE TOUR.

The political situation, on the Democratic side, finds the President practically assured of a renomination if he will accept it from the convention in Chicago. Meanwhile, James A. Farley and Paul V. McNutt continue to make speeches, which are generally accepted as placing them in the running if the President decides not to seek a third term. Cordell Hull. making no speeches and declaring himself not a candidate, is also considered as a possibility if the President retires. The campaign of Vice-President Garner is making little or no progress, although it is possible, the ticket again.

In the Republican ring of the political circus, the figure of Thomas E. Dewey looms larger than it did a few weeks ago. This does not mean that the New Yorker has the nomination in the bag, although he has made substantial gains through the revelation of strength in recent primaries. Senators Taft and Vendenberg are not out of the running. The former is credited with considerable convention strength, which, after all, is what determines the nominee. About all that one can say of the Wendell Willkie, Frank Gannett and other booms at this time is that they are interesting but the group is out of the running unless there is a deadlock between other contenders and the convention turns to a dark horse for the solution of the problem,

Last week it seemed likely that the Special Senate campaign expenditures investigating committee would make some kind of an inquiry into the charges that Dewey supporters in Wisconsin and Nebraska indulged in excessive expenditures. Nothing ifficial was announced but the inquiry is regarded as certain in view of complaints that are being circulated. The Dewey people deny that undue expenditures were made. Opponents are watching the matter closely, figuring that possibly the revelation of excessive expenditures, if they were made, might have the same effect on the Dewey candidacy that the 1920 revelations had on the prospects of General Wood and Governor Lou-

This naturally handicaps the candidates and politicians. Apparently, the nation will have wait until the Democrats meet Chicago to learn what the President

New Registration Going Over 'Fine'

J. H. Harrell, chairman of the County Board of Elections, today expressed the opinion that a large number of citizens would qualify to participate in the primary and election, despite the fact a new registration was ordered and only those persons who re-register will be permitted to take part in the balloting.

"The registration seems to be comparatively heavy in all of the secons from which I have heard.' clared the elections board official.

Approximately 9,000 persons participated in the 1938 primary and the chairman said he expected nearly that many to be qualified to vote in the May 25th primary.

The books will be open at the various polling places each of the next two Saturdays and persons may register at any time by seeing their
