D. A. R. Benefit Tournament is Successful Event

Around 265 People Attend Chapter Benefit Party; Miss Davis, Miss Joyner, Miss Monk Hostesses During Week

Climaxing all former tournaments held in this section of Eastern Carolina, in points of attendance, number of lovely prizes, and in the special arrangements for delightful entertainment, was the successful benefit affair, sponsored by the Major Benjamin May Chapter, D. A. R., on Thursday.

Players at 64 tables enjoyed the games of bridge, rummy, set back, rook and Chinese checkers during the afternoon and evening. The spacious Chapter House, of distinct and chaste beauty, achieved by the harmonious plan of its Colonial architecture, lends itself to an elaborate scheme of decoration, and presented on this occasion a lovely setting for the 64 tables with its mantel, table and floor arrangements of snowballs, iris, spirea, weigelia, tulips and narcissus.

The Chapter's regent, Mrs. T. C. Turnage, Mrs. M. V. Jones, of Farmville, Mrs. Sam T. White, Mrs. Travis Hooker, Mrs. E. L. Baker, and Miss Eunice McGee, of Greenville, Mrs. U. H. Cozart and Mrs. W. H. Whitmore, of Wilson, and Mrs. E. Bruce Beasley, of Fountain, were active in the reservation of tables in their respective towns, and the thirty prizes were given through the courtesy of Sam T. White of Whites Stores, Greenville.

Prizes were awarded as follows: Afternoon: Prizes for high score in bridge, a peach tufted bedspread, won by Mrs. F. M. Park, of Greenville; second prize, double deck of cards, by Mrs. B. S. Sheppard, of Farmville; prizes of sheer hosiery for the highest score in each town represented, were won by Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss, of Farmville, Mrs. W. W. Sims, of Wilson, Mrs. J. L. Willard, of Greenville, and Mrs. G. W. Lane, of Fountain. Mrs. Roy Lassiter received the consolation, and Mrs. The slam prize, a porch chair, was won by Mrs. W. J. Bundy, of Greenville.

Bingo prizes of cards, porch pillows, smoking and refreshment accessories went to Miss Ida Wiggins and Miss Clyde Raper, of Wilson; Mrs. Worth Wicker, Mrs. Jack Lane, Mrs. Lena Ellis, and Mrs. C. H. Edwards, of Greenville; Mrs. S. A. Garis, of Farmville.

Evening: Bridge—first prize, for ladies, a parasol, won by Mrs. C. Hubert Joyner; second, hose by Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr.; first prize for men, carton of cigarettes, by Arthur E. Joyner; second, cards, by Ben Lewis; in the rummy games J. Y. Monk was winner of the prize, cards; set back, J. G. Smith, Sr., received a carton of cigarettes; rook, Mrs. John D. Holmes was awarded hose; Chinese checkers, bulbs by Miss Mary Ann Cobb, of Greenville.

Bingo prizes, similar to those of the afternoon, were won by Mrs. H. H. Bradham, Miss Mary Hyman, of Greenville, Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner, Miss Sallie Norwood, J. H. Paylor, Miss Martha Lewis and James Smith, Jr.

Prize cakes were won by Miss Margaret Moye, of Goldsboro, and L. R. Bell, of Fountain.

The Progressive Bridge Club played in the Tournament, with Mrs. B. S. Sheppard as hostess, and Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. R. D. Rouse as winners among members and guests of the awards, vari-colored iced tea spoons.

Mrs. J. L. Shackleford entertained the New Deal Club at the Tournament. High score prize, a double deck of cards, went to Mrs. W. R. Burke, and table prizes of bridge accessories, were won by Mrs. L. E. Walston, Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson, Mrs. S. A. Garris and Mrs. W. Leslie Smith.

Scores were recorded for members of the Lamrad Club in play at the Tournament with Miss Mary Frier Rouse as hostess.

Mrs. John M. Mewborn entertained the Ace of Clubs at the Tournament and presented the high score award, a make up accessory, to Mrs. Merette Moore.

After prizes were awarded, a delightful musical program was presented by a group of Greenville musicians, Mrs. J. H. Waldrop, Mrs. Dink James, Mrs. Ed Parkinson and Miss Agnes Fulllove, with Mrs. G. V. Smith at the piano.

Refreshments, in the afternoon, consisted of a congealed fruit salad, saltines, ham and biscuit and Russian tea. In the evening, ice cream was served through the courtesy of Southern Dairies management at Wilson, together with home made cake and salted nuts.

Composing the tournament arrangements committee were: Mrs. A. C. Monk, Sr., Mrs. J. O. Pollard, Mrs. Joel Moye, Mrs. Louise Harris, Mrs. Bruce Eagles, of Fountain, Mrs. P. H. Johns, Mrs. E. O. Lang, Mrs. Honore Williamson, Mrs. G. E. Moore, and Mrs. J. L. Shackleford.

Among the loveliest of social events of the Spring season here, was the dinner bridge, at which Miss Elizabeth Davis was the hostess. The affair was held in the D. A. R. Chapter House.

The elegant banquet table, at which the entire party was seated, was centered with arrangements of blue iris and graceful sprays of flowering pink weigelia, and to the place cards were attached buttonieres of dainty flowers in these colors. The table was illuminated by pink tapers in crystal candelabra.

A course dinner was served at seven o'clock in the banquet room with covers laid for twenty-four. The sweet course consisted of ices molded in the form of lilies and pink roses, served with angel cake. A toast to Mr. and Mrs. W. Alexander Allen, whose fourth wedding anniversary fell on this date, was given by Irvin Morgan, Jr.

In the bridge games, which followed the dinner, Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., compiled high score and was presented with a double deck of Congress cards, and T. Eli Joyner, Jr., won the men's award, a novel memorandum pad.

Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., was hostess at a beautiful and delightful club party on Wednesday, entertaining members of her card club and additional friends for seven tables.

Snowballs, iris, roses, ragged robins, narcissus, weigelia and pansies were used in effective decoration of the handsome new home of the hostess.

After four progressions, Mrs. George Moore, Jr., was awarded crystal vases as the club prize, and Mrs. C. Hubert Joyner received the guest prize, a crystal flower bowl.

Mrs. R. O. Lang, mother of the hostess, and Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr., assisted the hostess in serving a congealed ribbon salad, ham and biscuit, saltines, pickles, cookies and iced tea. A color note of green and white was observed in the refreshments.

Miss Mae Joyner was a gracious hostess this week, entertaining at bridge in compliment to her house guest, Miss Mary Frances Parker, of Goldsboro. The spacious home of Miss Joyner was beautifully decorated with spring flowers carrying the color note of pink.

Mrs. James R. Lang won the high score award, a lovely bag, and the honor guest received lingerie as a gift from the hostess.

Strawberry ice cream and angel cake were served after play.
