Forceful Film Tells Epic Story of America

"YOUR TOWN." a stirring short sound motion picture, coming to the Paramount Theatre Wednesday unfolds the epic story of America. A sleepy little one-street hamlet becomes a thriving modern community that has everything.

What is the secret of this magic? What motivating force is behind this amazing development? These and numerous other questions are answered as the reel unwinds.

A forward-looking citizen had a dream. He saw a factory rise from dream. He saw a factory rise from a field overgrown with weeds; saw a bustling community, its paved streets teeming with happy people. The old one-room school where he learned the 3 R's was transformed into a handsome masonary structure with many rooms overrun by happy children.

Another man with a little money caught the vision. Together they built a modest plant and started the wheels of industry turning. Theplant expanded, the community grew by leaps and bounds—the dream came true. As the transforming pictures flash upon the screen a grandfather, who was part of it all, tells the dramatic story to his grandson.

The film depicts the American way of life, based on human freedom, individual initiative, inventive genuis and the private enterprise system. It was produced by Audio Productions, Inc., in collaboration with the National Association of Manufacturers.
