Re-armament for self-defense is one thing and militarism is another.

A horn trader keeps up with his kinsmen when buying and forgets them when selling.

Now that the United States has most of the world's gold, our biggest bankers are worried about it.

Insurance is often carried when not needed and needed when not carried.

Two nations that have gained the respect of the world: China and Greece.

It is surprising, how many excuses some people can find for not contributing money.

There are any number of small boys and girls in Pitt County who are beginning to take an interest in Santa Claus and his health.

Everybody is for economy until they need an appropriation or an improvement for a pet project of their own.

Individuals who set out to reform the human race will find themselves pretty tired before the work is completed.

Advertise, brother, and watch your business grow in accordance with its merits, which is all that you should expect.

TO "ASTONISH THE WORLD"

Godfrey Haggard, British consular official in this country, believes that the peoples of the countries occupied by Germany are building up their strength and that there will, some day, emerge an armed alliance that will "astonish the world, including Hitler."

We trust the gentleman is correct. Certainly, there is no reason why the peoples of the conquered nations should be satisfied with their lot under their German masters. The will to strike a blow for their own liberation undoubtedly exists but just how and where and when is a mystery to us.

Frankly, we would not advise the people of the British empire to count too heavily upon any armed uprising in the conquered lands. A rebellion against a German army of occupation, just now, would have little chance of success in any nation. If the British are able to inflict a decisive defeat upon Germany, the rebellions will flare-up, rapidly enough, on the heels of the retreating Teutons, whose position will be precarious.

SCIENCE AND THE FARMER

The rural electrification program is making vast changes in the habits of farmers throughout the nation, according to the Rural Electrification Administration, which recently reported that ingenious farmers have found more than 320 ways of putting electricity to work.

Space is not available to recount the diversified uses of electricity in connection with agricultural work but if rural electrification did nothing more than make available to the homes of farmers the same conveniences that make living more comfortable for city families, than the program justifies itself.

Farmers throughout the United States should insist upon the continued extension of electricity to rural areas. Life on the farms must be made attractive, as compared with life in municipal areas, if the nation is to expect progressive and productive agriculture.

The amazing fact about rural electricity to many farm homes, gratifying as this is, is the absence of electricity in rural areas, for so many years. The farmers have been patient, it seems.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION IMPROVING

The selection of the program that best applies to the farm is the first step in the program to improve rural life.

The program was developed by Emma Jean Redick, a North Carolina girl, and is being carried out by the Rural Electrification Administration.

Book-Week Program The fourth grade of the Walstonburg High School presented the following Book Week program on Tuesday morning, November 19th.

A poem "A Book Speaks" by Evelyn Craft. A play "Betty Meets the Book People" with the following characters: Betty—Dorothy Murphy, Brown—Billy Norville, Pinocchio—William Walston, Hans and Gretel Brinker of the Silver Shoes—J. C. Parker and Ruth Gay, Heidi—Evelyn Field, Tin Soldier—Richard Neasey, Alice in Wonderland—Doris Whitley.

Betty was a little girl who wasn't acquainted with books. The Brownies introduced each book character as he came in.

This made Betty want to read books and appreciate their value in life more. She was so impressed with the book characters, that they all seemed to be her friends.

The program was developed by Emma Jean Redick, a North Carolina girl, and is being carried out by the Rural Electrification Administration.

Washington Notes

STATE TAXES State tax collections in 1940 will exceed $404,000,000, representing an increase of about seven per cent over collections in 1939.

ELIGIBLE Professional men, including lawyers, doctors and dentists, as well as proprietors of one-man businesses, are considered eligible for military training, says C. A. Dykstra, Director of Selective Service, even though officials recognize that the general rule will work individual hardships.

NAVY AGE LIMIT To encourage the enlistment of young men "particularly those of high school caliber," the Navy has lowered the enlistment age from 18 to 17. The consent of parents or guardians is required.

PRICES UP Basic commodity prices, which began to rise in mid-August, continued to go up through November 15. The Bureau of Labor Statistics daily index of twenty-eight commodities stayed at 117.5, with the August 1939 level representing 100.

GAS TO JAPAN The recent sale of gasoline to Japan by the Dutch East Indies does not "frustrate" the American policy of refusing to export aviation gasoline, according to Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State.

SABERS The use of sabers and instruction in their use has been discontinued by the War Department.

PARK VISITORS Uncle Sam's national parks attracted 16,741,855 visitors during the 1940 travel season. The visitors set a new record, passing the 1938 total by about 600,000.

MERCHANT SHIPS After the World War, the United States Government laid up a number of freighters, built for war use, but not needed in time of peace. Already it is reported that British interests have purchased nineteen of the twenty-year-old vessels. It is said that the United States has more than sixty freighters in its laid-up fleet. The British are also acquiring scores of vessels from individual American owners with the approval of the Maritime Commission.

CCC PAY PLAN Men in the Civilian Conservation Corps, who receive $30 a month, will have $7 of their pay set aside in a special fund to be paid to them in a lump sum on discharge. The plan, it is hoped, will give the enrollees a fund to help them get started "in a new life" upon discharge. Heretofore, $22 of the $30 monthly pay went to dependents of the enrollees. After January 1, dependents will receive $15. The men will receive $8 a month in cash.

"Build-Up" Good News For Suffering Women

Much of women's periodic distress may be unnecessary! Many who suffer from headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain, other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by CAEDUL.

Main way it helps relieve periodic distress is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juices. Thus it often aids digestion; helps build strength, energy, resistance to periodic disturbances. Others find help for periodic discomfort this way: Start a few days before and take CAEDUL until "the time" has passed. Women have used CAEDUL more than 50 years.

Every social organization has for its purpose the betterment of human beings, but some of them forget it as soon as they acquire prosperity.
