Fine Program on England Given at Literary Meeting

INVITATIONS RECEIVED

The following invitation has been received by friends here this week: "Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knight Cobb request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Martha, to Mr. John Clayton Wood, Jr., on Saturday afternoon, the eleventh of October, nineteen hundred and forty-one, at four-thirty o'clock, at the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Kempsville, Virginia."

WORLD-WIDE COMMUNION SUNDAY

Sunday, October 5th, is designated World-wide Communion Sunday. Communion Services will be observed in the local churches and all church members are urged to attend the services at the churches to which they belong.

The hope of the world is in the cross of Christ. Will not the Christian people of Farmville show their loyalty to Him by co-operating in this world-wide effort?

Rev. H. M. Wilson, Secretary, Farmville Ministerial Association.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

We are participating in a visitation of the members of our church in the interest of Good Christian Fellowship, and to personally inform each member that next Sunday is World Wide Communion Sunday, which will be observed by the Protestant churches.

Committees are endeavoring to visit every home in which there are members of the local Methodist Church, and are making three requests; First, church members are asked to attend the Communion service on next Sunday morning; Second, during the Communion service, each member is requested to rededicate himself in loyalty to Christ and the church; Third, we are asking members to plan to attend regularly at least one service of worship each Sunday through October, November and December. We extend a welcome to Christians of all denominations to Commune.

Rev. M. Y. Self, Pastor.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES

Sunday will be "Rally Day" in Sunday school, and also Promotion Day for the Primary Grades.

Meeting Next Week
Rev. Harold Tyler, of Washington, N. C., will arrive Sunday afternoon to begin a series of Evangelistic meetings. Rev. Tyler is a fine Christian man and a strong preacher. There will be services each evening at 7:30 through Oct. 12. Public is invited to come and hear this strong preacher.

Music in charge of Mrs. C. N. Bostic.

Rev. C. B. Mashburn, Pastor.

ATTEND DISTRICT MEET

Mrs. John B. Joyner, president of the 15th District of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs is presiding for the second time, today at the annual meeting of the clubwomen of the district, which is convening in Williamston. A full day's program of activities had been planned and the meeting was expected to attract a large delegation from the towns comprising the district. More than 200 women assembled in Greenville last year for one of the largest meetings ever held in the district.

Among representatives of Farmville's federated clubs, the Farmville Literary Club, the Woman's Club and the Junior Woman's Club, in attendance at the Williamston Meeting today are: Mrs. John B. Joyner, Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, Mrs. Jesse Moye, Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. A. B. Moore, Mrs. John T. Thorne, Mrs. J. W. Bass, Mrs. W. J. Resberry, Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, Mrs. J. M. Christian, Mrs. D. R. Morgan, Mrs. K. A. Parker, Mrs. H. D. Johnson, Miss Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. J. W. Parker, Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson, Mrs. J. W. Joyner, Mrs. Tommy S. Ryan, Mrs. Mabrey E. Pollard, Mrs. Bill Forbes, Mrs. John D. Holmes, and Mrs. Carl Blackwood.

BIRD NOTES

At the Bird Club meeting this week James Bennett read an article regarding the Hummingbird under the subject head: "Winged Idiosyncrasy," in which the courtship of these tiny birds was discussed together with the making of a nest, which the female manages alone. She binds it to the bough of a tree with strands of spider web and then fills it with fern and lichen from the tree trunk. When it is completed it appears to be an inch-high jardiniere, set with a pattern of colored stones. After the two tiny white eggs are hatched the mother bird feeds the young ones every twenty minutes, always returning alone, fearing, perhaps, that her mate's ruby throat might betray the camouflaged nest.

Following the program a field trip was made to the farm of Sidney Carr, for a study of birds, as they are numerous there. The members discussed the birds remaining in a stream, through the trees, which included a phoebe.

Miss Davis Entertains Literary Group; Carl Clubs Meet This Week

Miss Elizabeth Davis was a gracious hostess this week, entertaining members of the Farmville Literary Club and additional friends at the semi-monthly meeting of this group in the D. A. R. Chapter House. The mantels of the assembly room were decorated with trailing ivy and quantities of roses, gladioli and Mischelmas daises were in effective arrangements throughout the Chapter House.

Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson presided and presented Mrs. John B. Joyner, president of the 15th District, and Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, State Chairman of the Sallie Southall Cotton Loan Fund, who spoke briefly.

Continuing the study of "Arts and Crafts in Georgian England," Miss Tabitha DeVisconti gave a splendid paper on "The Hair of the Augustans," under the sub-title of "The Rule of Taste" as set up by the Augustans and accepted and added to by the Georgians. Miss DeVisconti emphasized the influence of Hogarth and his ideal of beauty as reflected in the work of other painters of that period. Copies of famous paintings were shown in illustration of this point.

A lovely musical program consisting of compositions of the 17th and 18th centuries was presented by Mrs. John D. Holmes and Mrs. J. W. Joyner, who sang selections from Handel's "Messiah"; by Mrs. Elbert C. Holmes, who sang an early English ballad, and a trio, "By Bendemeer Stream," rendered by the three singers. Mrs. Haywood Smith was accompanist.

During a pleasant social period, a congealed fruit salad, hazel and biscuits, crax, hot cheese cornucopias, iced tea and coconut moulds were served.

Special guests of the hostess were Mrs. A. C. Monk, Sr., Mrs. John T. Thorne, Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, Mrs. James R. Lang, Mrs. George Monk, Mrs. B. S. Smith, Mrs. B. O. Turnage, Mrs. R. A. Fields, Mrs. J. L. Shackleford, Mrs. John D. and Mrs. Elbert C. Holmes, Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck, Miss Edna Robinson and Miss Fanny Gary.

Mrs. L. T. Pierce, hostess.

Members of the Progressive Bridge Club and a number of special guests enjoyed an afternoon of bridge at the home of Mrs. L. T. Pierce on Thursday. Margolds predominated in the floral setting for the tables which bore attractive appointments.

Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. I. E. Satterfield, of Durham, won the club and guest prizes, potted plants, and Mrs. Satterfield was also presented with lovely handkerchiefs as a gift from the hostess.

After four progressions the hostess served a delectable pear and grape salad, sandwiches, Saratoga chips, pickles, crax, and iced tea. Sharing with members in the pleasures of the afternoon were Mrs. I. E. Satterfield, Mrs. W. Leslie Smith, Mrs. Wesley R. Willis, Mrs. George Moore, Jr., Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Mrs. R. A. Parker, Mrs. Pat Ruffin and Mrs. S. A. Roebuck.

Mrs. Wheelers Entertains

Mrs. James M. Wheeler, Jr., delightfully entertained the Ace Club this week at her home, in which dahlias and other fall flowers were used with artistic effect.

The high score award of pottery went to Mrs. R. T. Williams, and Mrs. E. N. Petteway received miniature vases as consolation prize. Mrs. Petteway was cordially welcomed into the club as a new member at this time.

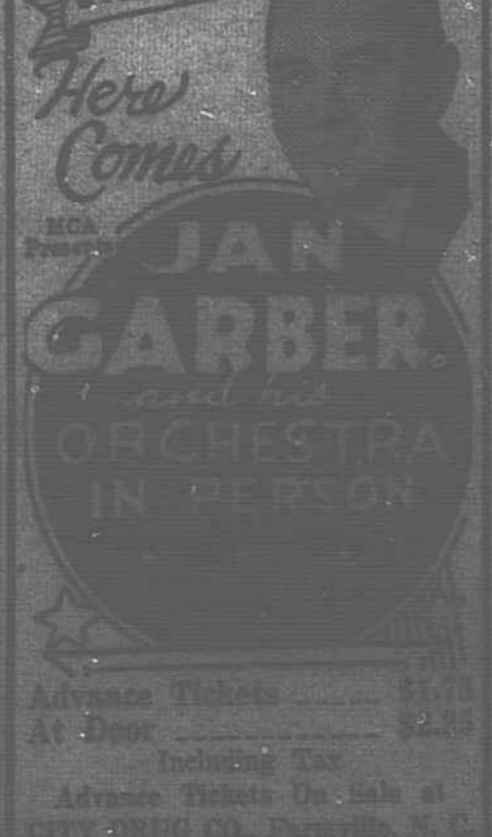

Colorful sandwiches, designed in pyramid form, were served with olives, pickles and an iced beverage.

This is the time of the year when every youngster in Pitt County has the idea that it won't be so hard to lead the grade.

FARMVILLE, N. C. Tuesday, Oct. 7th 10:00 AM Monk's Warehouse No. 2

HEADS UP Here Comes

First Lady of U. S. To Visit Pitt County

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's visit to East Carolina Teachers College is definitely fixed for November 17. She will deliver an address in the Wright auditorium at 8:30 o'clock in the evening. Students and faculty are preparing to give her a royal welcome, in which not only Greenville but the people of eastern North Carolina will join.

The first visit of the first lady of the land could not be in a more fitting place, as every county in the eastern section of the state and most communities are represented in the student body of the college.

The exact date had not been announced earlier because a margin of time was left so that it could be fitted conveniently into her schedule. Arrangements were made last spring for a fall engagement.

ATTEND COUNCIL MEET

Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, State Chairman of the Sallie Southall Cotton Loan Fund, Mrs. John B. Joyner, President of the 15th District of the N. C. Federation of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Jesse Moye, State Junior Editor of the Federation, attended the Federation Institute and Council, held Monday and Tuesday in Raleigh at the Carolina Hotel and Woman's Club Building.

WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Miss Louise Shilling, of Chewsville, Md., daughter of Mrs. Alice Shilling and the late Ralph Shilling, to Charles Aaron Moxingo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Moxingo, of Farmville, N. C., on Monday, September 8. At home Hagerstown, Md. Friends here will be interested to learn that Mr. Moxingo is connected with the art department of the Aircraft plant in Hagerstown.

National Church Group Will Meet In Greenville

Nationally known leaders of the Disciples of Christ will speak at the state convention of the North Carolina Disciples in Greenville November 5-7; it was announced Wednesday. Rev. Charles C. Ware, state secretary, said the speakers will include Ewart H. Wyle, Stephen J. Corey, Mrs. R. A. Doan, Searie Bates and other widely known workers. It will be the 97th state convention, and is expected to be the most largely attended yet. Largest churches of the North Carolina Disciples of Christ are in Kinston, Greenville, Wilson and other towns in this section.

Some of the best advice that we have heard lately comes from Martin Luther King, who urges people to get out of debt.

Farmers, who expect the government to assist them in bad years, should not hesitate to assist the government in good years.
