

VOLUME THIRTY-TWO

Washiington, Dec. 9. - President RAID ALARM

Roosevelt has told the nation that it faces war which will be long and hard, against crafty and unscrupplous enemies. In a radio talk to his countrymen, Mr. Roosevelt declared that the conflict already has brought a "serious set-back" to America in the surprise Japanese attack on Hawaii. He said that "so far, the news has all been to the bad," but that he doesn't know himseld what the full damage is.

He declared, also, that the people must be prepared to accept news that the Pacific outposts of Guam, Wake and Midway Islands have been lost to the Japanese. He said that Germany and Italy - regardless of any lack of a formal declaration-already consider themselves at war with the United States. But that was the worst of what the President told the American people.

He said this and he said it with sincerety and confidence:

"We are going to win the war, and we are going to win the peace that follows."

Mr. Roosevelt declared: "The United States can accept no result save victory, final and complete.

"Not only must the shame of Japanese treachery be wiped out, but the sources of international brutality, wherever they exists, must be absolutely and finally broken."

Said Mr. Roosevelt: "I do not think that any American has any doubt of our ability to administer proper punishment to the perportrators of these crimes."

The President warned Latin-American nations that they, too, are considered by Rome, Berlin and Tokyo as among the axis enemies.

Washington, Dec. 11 .- The United States swiftly replied to Axis declaration of war against this country Thursday, with Congress acting within minutes after President Roosevelt's uppent warning that "delay invites great danger."

The Senate voted war against Nazi Germany and Italy, Thursday, responding within minutes to President Roosevelt's urgent warning that "delay invites great danger." The House followed swiftly with its vote.

The Senate vote was 88 to 0. Immediately a vote was started on a similar resolution declaring war against Japan's other Axis partner. Italy.

The Senators lined up unanimously again-90 to 0 for war against Mussolini's government. Simultaneously the House voted war against Germany and proceeded to take similar action against Italy.

He said that American coasts may be attacked with the same crafty surprise as were the nation's outposts.

American workers were told by the President that the war means a seven-day week for many of them. He said, too, that America's use of metals for non-defense purposes must be cut in half, but he declared that there will be enough food for the nation.

Mr. Roosevelt said:

"There is enough food for all of us, and enough to send to those who are fighting on the same side with 128.10

He declared that it will not be a sacrifice for Americans to go all out happiness to families who are in dire to win this war-rather it will be a privilege. And he said that it will be a privilege, also for the farmer, the storekeeper, the trainman, or the doctor, to pay more taxes, to buy more bonds, to forego extra profits, to work longer and harder.

As for the actual fighting up to now-

The President said that "many American soldiers and sailors have been killed by enemy action."

The Chief Executive asserted that Germany's declaration of war was in pursuit of "its course of world conquest."

Not until the next to the last sentence of his message did he also mention that Italy, too, had declared war against the United States." The text of the war message:

"On the morning of December 11;

"The long-known and long-expected has thus taken place. The forces endeavoring to enslave the entire world now are moving toward this Hemisphere.

"Never before has there been a greater challenge to life, liberty and civilization.

"Delay invites greater danger. Rapid and united effort by all of the peoples of the world who are deterrained to remain free will insure a world victory of the forces of justice and righteousness over the forces of savagery and of barbarism. "Italy also has declared war against the United States. "I therefore request the Congress

the United States and Germany, and "Carolinas have always been fore between the United States and Italy."
