THANKS

Taken as a matter of course so often, and perhaps deserving the little recognition received for services rendered, the representatives of the press especially appreciate the following letter:

The Editors of the Farmville Enterprise, Farmville, N. C.

This is to express our thanks to you and yours for the very pleasant stay in your City last Tuesday evening—The Chiefs and Firemen's meeting—we feel that we got a lot out of our stay.

If you are ever in our City don't fail to drop in to see us. We have two well equipped Fire Stations.

Thanking you again for your good old hospitality and what we got out of your meeting; and wishing you and yours a very happy New Year, The Rocky Mount Fire Department.

Our reply:

The Rocky Mount Fire Department, Rocky Mount, N. C.

Thanks a million for your department's note of appreciation of what little service the press was able to render—the Firemen's meet of last week.

We always attend and enjoy the firemen's meetings on account of the enthusiasm, genuine good fellowship and cordiality that prevail.

We rejoice that the firemen have at last been given the recognition they so richly deserve, and feel we can count on you to measure up to the "whale of a job," as Sherwood Brockwell expressed it, in the first line of National and Home Defense, which had been delegated to you.

We shall certainly accept your invitation to look in at the well equipped Rocky Mount Fire Stations when we are in your city again. Sincerely, The Editors.

THE BILL RUNS HIGH

The projected expenditure of $56,000,000,000 for the cost of warfare during the fiscal year which begins July 1st breaks down into $427.48 for every man, woman and child in the country, according to figures compiled by the United Press.

This will give the residents of Pitt County an idea of what it costs this country to permit aggressors to pursue their course unchecked in Europe, Asia and Africa.

The bill for isolation runs high.

WORSE THAN WAR

There is much truth in the assertion of Dr. Charles E. Diehl, Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, United States, who says that men who once thought there was nothing worse than war "have come to realize that Hitlerism is worse."

The statement embraces the attitude of a great many religious leaders in the United States. Thousands of these good men, after the first World War determined to devote themselves to the promotion of peace and applied themselves energetically to the denunciation of warfare.

These leaders now know what Dr. Diehl means when he says, "We are at war, we did not want to get into it, we hate it and tried to avoid it, yet we had it treacherously thrust upon us."

THREE-YEAR COLLEGE COURSES

It is interesting to observe that some of the higher institutions of learning are gearing themselves for war and setting up a program to permit the graduation of students in three years instead of four.

Yale University and the University of California are among the institutions that are providing streamlined educational courses. The methods adopted are not exactly the same.

The California school divides the year into three periods of sixteen weeks each, with only four weeks provided for vacation. The Yale arrangement is more complicated but the graduating classes are moved forward much in the same manner used by the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Alert officials of colleges and universities are alive to an undervaluation of the work of education at institutions. Obviously, if a three-year course is possible in time of peace, it is possible in time of war.

The Women's Auxiliary Society will be holding its regular meeting with Mrs. G. O. McIntyre in Hopewell, Va., during the week end.

to create limitations upon the individual's right to think and express his thoughts, regardless of the topic considered. Any effort to curb intellectual freedom in an attempt to perpetuate the present status is an obstacle to progress and freedom.

Even in educational circles, sometimes, the course of inquiry and conclusion is restricted, usually to placate financial, economic or religious groups whose patronage the intelligence-dictators would either have to continue or begin. The future welfare of humanity is sacrificed for such current favors.

Tolerance of discussion, based upon sincerity of belief, is the foundation alike of both democratic government and the maintenance of human liberty. Without freedom for criticism of both doctrines and deeds, no error can be corrected, and no improvement may be looked for when human beings have been totally subjected to mental control and censorship.

A particularly disagreeable fact in every case where some distasteful decrees beliefs and opinions for everybody is the savagery with which opposition is attacked and physically obliterated. Those who proclaim the unquestionable certainty and superiority of their own viewpoint fear to let it mix in free competition with other ideas and examples, a terror which entirely refutes the confidently expressed conviction of certainty.

HITLER AND THE DEVIL

Hitler called the Devil up on the telephone one day. The girl at Central listened to all they had to say—

"Hell," she heard Hitler say, "is Old Man Satan home? Just tell him it's the dictator who wants him on the 'phone."

The Devil said, "Howdy," and Hitler, "How are you?"

"I'm running a hell here on earth, so tell me what to do."

"What can I do," the Devil said, "dear old pal of mine?"

"It seems you don't need any help, you're doing mighty fine."

"Yes, I was doing very good until awhile ago.

When a man named Uncle Sam wired me to go slow.

He said to me, 'Dear Hitler, we don't want to be unkind, but you have raised hell enough, so you better change your mind.'

I thought the lease-lend bill was bluff, and could never get it thru.

But he soon put me on the spot when he showed me what he'd do.

Now, that's why I called you, Satan—I need advice from you.

For I know that you will tell me just what I ought to do."

"My Dear Hitler; there is not much left to tell.

For Uncle Sam will make it hotter than I can here in Hell!

I have been a mean old Devil, but not half as mean as you;

So the minute that you get here the job is yours to do.

I'll be ready for your coming and I'll keep the fires all bright.

And I'll have your room all ready when Sam begins to fight—

For I see your days are numbered and there's nothing left to tell.

So hang up your 'phone, get your hat, and meet me in HELL!"

A budget is a good thing for any family if the family will carry it out, but it won't work miracles by itself.

Every worker feels certain that "the business" would suffer irreparable injury if he or she quit the job.
