TWIN JOBS OF THE WAR; TRANSPORT AND SUPPLY

Production of "Tools of War" Is Useless Un- Daylight Saving less They Reach The Areas of Conflict

(By Huge S. Sims)

The attack upon the United States was the culminating climax of a long design for war, planned and inteded by the aggressor nations when they converted their national economiec to the production of war supplies.

The strategic location of Germany, Japan and Italy gave them great advantages, provided they managed to get ahead of their enemy nations in the production of the tools of war. This Germany easily accomplished in Europe and Japan has secured through the facts of geography. Produce and Transport.

It is necessary for the people of the United States to understand the gress. enormous task that now confronts the industry of this country, Great Britain and Russia. We must produce, after war is underway, what the aggressor nations provided their fighting forces in years of peace and accumulated for just such a war.

Our task is not only to produc but, after the tools are manufactured, distribute them to the fighting areas. This is a task that makes hte transportation of the original A. E. F., in the first World War, look like a holiday cruise in the Sum-
