Miss Gene Horton Honored at Dinner

Miss Helen Willis Entertains Bride Elect; Benefit Bridge Held

Loveliest of social events of the week was the dinner party of Saturday evening, given by Miss Helen Willis as a pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Gene Horton, whose engagement to Carroll Dean Oglesby was announced recently.

The table was centered with a bowl of yellow jasmine and fern, flanked by yellow candles in silver holders and tied with bows of ribbon. Place cards bore bridal motifs and the elect were marked by a miniature bridal couple. Favors were corsages of yellow pansies, jasmine and fern tied with yellow ribbon.

Tomato juice cocktail was served in the living room after guests had arrived, and a course dinner was served at seven o'clock, the dessert plates carrying the chosen colors of yellow and green. Entertainment was provided by notes containing suggestions by the guests on "How To Manage A Husband and Wife," which were read by the honoree, Miss Horton was presented with silver in her chosen pattern by the hostess.

Guests were Miss Gene Horton, Carroll D. Oglesby, Miss Nellie Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Monk, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horton, of Greenville, Miss Natalie Vought, of Raleigh, Eli Joyner, Jr., Skippy Gibbs and Charles Raspberry.

Bridge Tournament. A delightful and successful event of the week's calendar was a bridge tournament sponsored by the faculty of the graded school as a benefit for the library. Sixteen tables were arranged in the library with appointments suggestive of George Washington's birthday, and in a setting of potted plants and baskets of hawthorne. The sum of $21.00 was realized.

The high score prize for ladies, a two weeks pass to the Paramount, was won by Mrs. Herman Baker; high score prize for men, a tie, donated by J. H. Harris, won by Fred Satterthwaite; set back award, manicure from the Vanite Box, won by C. L. Ivey; low score prize, a fryer, given by Mrs. Herman Baker, was received by J. H. Moore.

Fruit punch, cookies and salted nuts were served. A radio had been placed in the library to bring the President's fire-side chat to the players and cards were laid aside during that time.

Merry Matrons. The Merry Matrons met Tuesday with Mrs. J. W. Parker as hostess at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden. Gladioli, jonquils and hawthorne brought an atmosphere of spring into the Holden home on Home Avenue.

Mrs. R. A. Fields presided and presented Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson, guest speaker, who read a splendid paper on the subject, "Children in the Movies." Mrs. W. Leslie Smith was program leader of the afternoon.

A congealed salad course with coffee and candies was served. Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. Marvin Y. Self were special guests of the hostess.

Garden Club. The Garden Club met Monday in the home of Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson with Mrs. C. S. Eagles and Mrs. E. C. Carr as gracious hostesses.

Mrs. E. F. Gaynor presided and as her contribution to the program read a selection, "Strive For Poise," which related to the importance of keeping calm under present conditions. Miss Tabitha DeViscanti, program leader, gave suggestions for growing cowslips and Columbine.

A discussion of town ordinances regarding dogs on the streets, followed the decision of this group to assist the police department, at its request, in enforcement of these regulations. The club voted to hold future meetings at 3:30 o'clock.

Delicious coconut cake, coffee, cookies and salted nuts were served during a pleasant social hour.

Wednesday Afternoon Club. Mrs. J. Y. Monk, Jr., delightfully entertained the Wednesday Afternoon Club this week at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden. A variety of spring flowers were used as a setting for the tables and the tallies bore nose-gays.

Mrs. James R. Lang and Mrs. M. V. Horton were awarded the high score prizes, Defense Stamps, for club members and guests.

A delectable salad course was served with coffee, cookies and nuts. Special guests were Mrs. M. V. Horton and Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr.

Members of the New Deal Club enjoyed an afternoon of bridge at the home of Mrs. R. A. Parker, Wednesday. Decorations of gladioli and sprays of hawthorne were used with pleasing effect.

Mrs. S. A. Roebuck scored high and was awarded a Pyrex casserole dish, and Mrs. D. R. Morgan received a linen towel as consolation. Master Martin Parker assisted his mother in receiving and serving.

Delicious charlotte russe, home baked cake and salted nuts were served. Plate decorations and favors were suggestive of the Easter season.

Lamrad Club. The Lamrad Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr., at the home of Mrs. J. I. Morgan, Sr., this week. Spring flowers, with hawthorne predominating, graced the end tables. The high score prize was won by Mrs. W. Alex Allen.

A variety of dainty sandwiches and coca-colas were served. Mrs. Tomby S. Ryan shared with members in pleasures of the afternoon.

Junior Woman's Club. On Thursday afternoon, the Junior Woman's Club held a delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. Charlie Meyers, with Mrs. Bill Forbes as joint hostess. Mrs. Tom Ryan presided during the business session and announced that the club would begin selling Defense Stamps at the next meeting. Reports were made stating that the club has sent copies of the Readers Digest to the Library at Camp Davis and to a club in South America.

Miss Mary Friar Rouse gave a splendid account of the life of General Douglas MacArthur, which was followed by a contest in which Mrs. Charles S. Hotchkiss received the prize. Mrs. Mabrey Pollard read a selection, "Religion in the Home," from the Club Woman.

During a pleasant social hour, the hostesses served gelatin topped with whipped cream, followed by hot tea, assorted crackers and salted nuts.

Mrs. Frank Clifton was a special guest of the hostesses.

Founders Day was observed at the February meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, with Mrs. Cherry Easley as program leader. An impressive program, "Turn Back the Clock," was presented at a tribute to a beloved teacher, Miss Annie Perkins, who was instrumental in organizing the association in the local school. Those having part on the program were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert C. Holmes, Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, Miss Perkins and a group of school children, which Miss Perkins had taught. The program was closed with the singing of "My Tribute to Father, Mother and Teacher."

Mrs. Mac Carraway, president, presided over the business session during which the time of meeting was changed to 8:00 o'clock. Mrs. Ted L. Albritton, Mrs. R. E. Pickett and Mrs. H. Neal Howard were elected to serve on the nominating committee. The attendance prize was won by the 7th grade, Mrs. L. P. Thomas, teacher.

At the last Bird Club meeting James Thorne read a poem, "Meadowlark," by Edward B. Ford, and Julian Boyce continued the study of this bird with observations, which included his usefulness as an insect eater. He feeds on caterpillars, grasshoppers, cutworms, army worms, flies, wasps, alfalfa and cotton boll weevils. This bird is protected by the Federal regulations and works earnestly as a "paying guest." An affectionate couple are these birds, the male remaining near his mate and singing to her, and also providing food for her and the young. The nest is cleverly concealed on the ground under a tuft of grass or clump of weeds.

It was interesting to watch from the window the cedar wakings, devouring the holly berries nearby, and Max Melton read a selection regarding these birds, which are soft cinnamon in color with a lighter shade breast, which goes into yellow underneath. There is a yellow band across the end of its tail and each secondary feather in the wing ends in a red tip like a drop of ruby sealing wax, which gives the bird its name. The crest is a familiar marking. They fly in military precision.

In observance of George Washington's birthday the members viewed a scrap book containing interesting bits of information regarding the first President, and studied a chart of the seals and flags of the States and the succeeding presidents.

A new method of cheese-making developed at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute cuts the customary time in half and has been selling at a premium on the market.

Members of the New Deal Club enjoyed an afternoon of bridge at the home of Mrs. R. A. Parker, Wednesday. Decorations of gladioli and sprays of hawthorne were used with pleasing effect.

Mrs. S. A. Roebuck scored high and was awarded a Pyrex casserole dish, and Mrs. D. R. Morgan received a linen towel as consolation. Master Martin Parker assisted his mother in receiving and serving.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Carraway, Jr., of Annapolis, Md., announce the birth of a son, William Benjamin III, at Annapolis Hospital, Thursday, February 12. Mr. Carraway was a former citizen of Farmville.

MRS. MABEL SUGG.

Kinston.—The funeral of Mrs. Mabel Holden Sugg, 62, wife of Levi Sugg, prominent Greene County farmer, who died in a hospital here Friday night, was held from Rainbow Methodist Church Sunday, with burial in the church cemetery. The Rev. E. R. Shuler, Methodist of Hookerton, officiated. The rites were largely attended.

Surviving with her husband are two daughters, Mildred and Lucy Virginia, of Greene County; five sons, Earl Linwood, Clyde and Paul, of Greene County, and Alton Sugg, of Kinston, and several brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Sugg was the sister of our townsman, G. M. Holden.

SEWING ROOM SCRAPS

Mrs. J. W. Joyner, head of the knitting group of the Red Cross Sewing Room, expressed gratification at the shipment Saturday, in which were included 27 sweaters of exceptional appearance. This made a total of 150 sweaters, 14 beanies and 4 pairs of socks finished by the hands of Farmville women, many of whom were novices at the art when Mrs. Joyner literally started "putting on" "taking off" and "picking up" stitches for them.

In addition to the sweaters there were 17 convalescent robes, 25 dresses, 5 pajamas suits and 4 skirts packed in the shipment Saturday morning, and Mrs. W. M. Willis, production chairman, also expressed satisfaction at the quality and number of garments sent from the work room since its opening two months ago. The total number of garments turned in at headquarters stands at 398.

The request for small black buttons suitable for men's suits goes out from the Sewing Room this week, together with appreciation for the response made to the button call last week.

Mrs. Willis stated this morning that in anticipation of the need for used clothing locally in a few weeks, her workers will cooperate in reconditioning and storing used clothing at the Sewing Room. A large wardrobe and chest are needed in this connection. So take your buttons and if you can spare either of these pieces of furniture call Mrs. Willis.
