REVIVAL SERVICES

Revival Services will begin at the Methodist Church on Palm Sunday evening.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hodges announce the birth of a daughter, on Wednesday, March 4, at the home of Mrs. Hodges' mother, Mrs. C. N. Beale, on 9th Street in Greenville.

INVITATIONS ISSUED

The following invitation has been issued to friends here this week:

Mrs. Joseph Loyd Horton requests the honour of your presence at the marriage of her daughter, Gene to Mr. Carroll Dean Oglesby, Saturday evening, March the twenty-first at half after eight o'clock, Methodist Episcopal Church, Farmville, North Carolina.

WILL TALK ON BIRDS

A very interesting talk on Birds will be given by Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, Wednesday, March 11, on the program "Miss Linda's Reading Circle," which is heard regularly over W. G. T. M., Wilson.

Miss DeVisconti is keenly interested in Birds and has devoted much time to the study of them. All bird lovers should find great pleasure in listening in on this program.

SEWING ROOM SCRAPS

Work continues in the Red Cross Sewing Room, with hospital shirts and convalescent robes in the spotlight.

On Friday, the chairmen made the following shipment: Eleven convalescent robes, four children's dresses, five soldier's kits, one pair of men's pajamas, and twenty-three army and navy sweaters. Each soldier's kit contained shaving cream, tooth paste, cotton, needles, thread, and a number of other articles.

SOCIAL EDITOR RESIGNS

Mrs. Eva Horton Shackelford left Monday for Raleigh where she began a special study course in accounting and secretarial work at Miss Hardberger's Secretarial School. Mrs. Shackelford resigned her position as Associate Editor of The Enterprise effective Feb. 1st, but remained with the paper until last week. Her many friends will miss her efficient and untiring service to the community in her many years of working in this capacity.

We wish her good luck in whatever fields she may choose to enter.

BIRD CLUB NOTES

The Cedar War Wings were again the object of study at the meeting of the Bird Club on Saturday. They were observed both outdoors and from the window with field glasses, the beautiful colors being clearly seen.

Jean Boyce read an article about the chipping sparrow, one of the least known and most loved of the outdoor birds. For its nest, it uses the hairs of the mane and tail of horses. One distinguishing mark of this bird is the black bill and a grayish line over the eye and a brown stripe through it. It is one of the most insectivorous of all sparrows. A nest with four young birds was watched at different hours for four days. In the seven hours of observation, one hundred and nineteen feedings were noted. This would give 238 insects eaten by the broods in fourteen hours.

Wilbur Bennett read an article stating that usually the appearance of this bird is proof that the winter's back is broken and the hard weather is done, so we welcome him as the harbinger of spring.

Claude Tyson read about the killdeer. It is noisy and restless and will not permit a person to approach too close. It flies gracefully and swiftly and is a ten inch grayish brown bird with two conspicuous bands across the snowy breast and a ring around the neck. The food habits of this bird are wholly harmless and very beneficial. It is one of the worst enemies of the cotton-boll weevil. As it preys so extensively upon insects that are annoying to man and injurious to his stock and crops, it should be given every protection.

NUTRITION CLASS

On Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock, Miss Verona Lee Joyner, County Home Demonstration Agent, will conduct the closing class in the Nutrition Series, with a demonstration on home canning. All the ladies are urged to attend.

Miss Gene Horton Honored At Bridge

Mrs. A. B. Moore Speaker at Literary Club; American Legion Auxiliary Meets

Miss Gene Horton, bride-elect of the month, was honored at a lovely party given by Mrs. W. H. Whitmore and Miss Ethel Bynum in Wilson on Saturday afternoon.

Artistic arrangements of gladioli, dutch iris, and calendulas graced the living-room, of the Whitmore home, where bridge was played.

Mrs. Mac Carraway, scoring high, won novel place card holders, and Miss Mary Friar Rouse was presented a lovely hand painted pitcher as consolation. Miss Horton received gifts of silver in her chosen pattern.

Those attending included: Miss Horton, honoree, Mrs. J. L. Horton, Mrs. D. E. Oglesby of Kinston, Mrs. R. O. Lang, Mrs. W. C. Holston, Mrs. Mac Carraway, Mrs. Robert Monk, Mrs. David Harris, Mrs. R. V. Fiser, Miss Vernice Lang Jones and Miss Mary Friar Rouse. Wilson guests were: Mrs. C. W. Godwin, Mrs. C. E. Simons, Mrs. Daves Oettinger, Mrs. N. D. Patterson, and Miss Rene Mitchell.

After cards were laid aside, the hostesses served a delicious chicken salad course with ham biscuits, dainty sandwiches, pickles and coffee, followed by raspberry tarts.

Literary Club
Mrs. J. I. Morgan was gracious hostess to the Literary Club on Wednesday afternoon, entertaining at her home, in which Quince and other early spring flowers were used in artistic arrangement.

Mrs. J. W. Parker, program chairman for the afternoon, introduced Mrs. A. B. Moore, who gave a splendid talk on Silverware, continuing the club's study of Georgian England. Mrs. J. I. Morgan showed some of her own collection of old silver and pewter, illustrating the Hall mark.

In a contest on current affairs, conducted by Mrs. W. C. Askew, Mrs. B. S. Sheppard won the award of defense stamps.

During a delightful social hour, the hostess served a delicious salad course with ham biscuits, cheese cookies and coffee. Salted nuts were passed by Miss Anne Morgan.

Mrs. G. M. Holden and Miss Edna Robinson were special guests.

American Legion Auxiliary
The American Legion Auxiliary met on Thursday, February 26, with Mrs. H. W. Kemp, Mrs. D. G. Allen and Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck as hostesses, in the Red Cross Sewing Room in the Legion Hall.

After a short business session, the members, as a group, joined in sewing for the remainder of the afternoon. A variety of sandwiches and cookies were served with tea and salted nuts.

Contract Club

Mrs. W. Leslie Smith was hostess to a call meeting of the Contract Bridge Club on Saturday morning. During a short business discussion, the members voted to discontinue group meetings in the sewing room, and to resume their regular afternoons of bridge.

'Victory Garden' Worth $253 To Family Of Five

Vegetables that can be grown in a "Victory Garden" are worth $253.55, based on retail store prices, says H. R. Niswonger, Extension horticulturist of N. C. State College. If the vegetables were all sold on curb markets, at seasonal prices, they would bring $255.28.

"All this is possible," Niswonger declared, "through a little garden work, the proper fertilizer and spray materials, and a special collection of Victory Garden seed which is being sold throughout the State by leading seedmen at prices ranging from $5.35 to $6.50 for the entire seed assortment. It is evident from this that a Victory Garden is a good investment."

As examples of the value of garden crops, the horticulturist said that one-half ounce of tomato seed will produce enough plants to put out 750 row feet. This planting will be sufficient to feed a family of five, both fresh tomatoes and an extra amount for canning, throughout the year.

The approximate yield from 750 row feet of tomatoes would be 20 bushels, or 1,200 pounds. At a retail and curb market price of 6 cents per pound, the value of the tomatoes in a Victory Garden would be $72.

Two and one-half pounds of bush lima beans, planted in 250 feet of row, will yield approximately 35 quarts, shelled. At 40 cents per quart, the value would be $14.00. It requires 5 ounces of turnip seed to plant a sufficient amount for a family of five, but this planting will produce approximately nine bushels, or 450 pounds of turnip roots. At a retail price of 3 cents per pound, the value is $13.50; at a curb market price of 4 cents per pound, the value is $18.00.

"Grow a Victory Garden to show your patriotism, to help meet economic needs, and to improve your health," the horticulturist urged.

Few people drop five dollar bills into the collection plate at church without seeing that the giver is properly identified.
