REV. FORDHAM SPEAKS TO JUNIOR WOMEN

"The Place of Religion in the Home" was the subject so ably discussed by Rev. B. B. Fordham at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Club on Thursday evening.

He began his talk by defining the word, Religion, as the "reverent feeling by which men indicate their recognition of the existence of a Supreme Being, to whom they attribute power over their destiny and render obedience, service, and honor;" and the Home as "a place or abode of affection, peace and rest; a congenial abiding place; the scene of domestic love and happy cherished family life."

Continuing, he stated that "Inasmuch as the Home is a God-given institution, intended for the happiness and welfare of mankind, these two, Religion and the Home, are undoubtedly more closely inter-related than any other. Remove these from the American scene and there wouldn't be much left worth fighting for—worth living for—or worth dying for! As the home needs Religion, so does Religion need the home. Let religion permeate Your Home.

In closing, Reverend Fordham read the following poem by Grace Crowell:

"So long as there are homes where fires burn and there is bread;
So long as there are homes where children are, where women stay;
If love and loyalty and faith be found across those sills,
A stricken nation can recover from its gravest ills.

So long as there are homes where fires burn and there is bread;
So long as there are homes where lamps are lit and prayers are said;
Although a people faulter through the dark—and nations grope—
With God himself back of these little homes—We still have hope."

WHAT TO DO IN AN AIR RAID

Suggestions No. 6 as issued by the United States Office of Civilian Defense in a pamphlet entitled "What To Do In An Air Raid."

No. 6—YOU CAN HELP
Strong, capable, calm people are needed to man the volunteer services. If you want to help, there are lots of opportunities.

If you know first aid, and have a certificate, there is an immediate job for you. If you are a veteran, or a former volunteer or regular fireman, or policeman, there is work for you. If you have no special skills but are strong and husky, there is a job for you in rescue squads, road-repair units, or demolition and clearance squads. If you have and can drive a car, you may be needed for drivers' corps. Older Boys and Girl Scouts over 15 can help as messengers. Both men and women are needed.

Here's how to get started:
If there's a Civilian Defense Volunteer Office in your community, call there and ask where to report. If not, call your local Defense Council or Committee, or the Chamber of Commerce. Phone and ask where to report, rather than going in person.

There Are People Needed For . . .
Air Raid Wardens (men and women).

- Auxiliary Firemen (men).
- Auxiliary Police (men and women).
- Fire Watchers (men and women).
- Nurses' Aides (trained women).
- Emergency Medical Forces (men and women with Red Cross First Aid Certificates).
- Rescue Squads (men).
- Road Repair Units (strong, husky men).
- Demolition and Clearance Squads (strong, husky men).
- Electrical Repair Units (trained electricians).
- Decontamination Squads (strong men and women).
- Emergency Food and Housing Units (men who can cook and serve).

TIN CANS

Deliveries of tin cans for home canning will not be affected by the recent curtailment order, since the Government hopes that an increase in home preserving will relieve pressure on commercial canners.

It is said that the air planes are being turned out so fast that they are "good to the last drop."

GOOD NEWS FOR COTTON-GROWERS!

PROTECTION FOR TAR HEEL COTTON

North Carolina cotton growers are taking advantage of the opportunity offered them for the first time this year to insure crop yields, according to reports of county AAA committees.

Through insurance issued by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, cotton growers now have a chance to insure their 1942 yields on the basis of either seventy-five or fifty per cent of their normal production during past years. The insurance is available to anyone having an interest in a cotton crop. Production which may be insured and premium rates are now in the hands of individual producers. Deadline for making application is March 15.

Farm People Asked To Grow 'Victory Gardens' In 1942

Gardens for Victory! That slogan for farm people is to be the counterpart of the Army's and Navy's "Remember Pearl Harbor!"

The State College Extension Service, through its farm and home agents, subject matter specialists, and administrative leaders, is organizing the "Victory Garden" campaign. An effort will be made to help every one of North Carolina's 278,276 farm families to grow a year-round garden in 1942. Backyard gardeners in small cities and suburbs of large centers of population also will be encouraged to grow "vegetables for vitality and victory."

Lewis P. Watson, Extension horticulturist of State College, has been appointed chairman of the garden campaign committee. He and his coworkers are planning to place a garden placard in every rural home in the State.

On the placard, Watson said, will be a garden calendar, showing the best planting dates for various vegetables, and the amounts of seed and varieties recommended. Also on the placard will be a Daily Foods Essential budget, listing the amounts and kinds of food needed to keep a person healthy and strong throughout the year.

"This Second World War is different from the First World War in many ways," said Watson, "but there's no changing the fact that food, of the right kinds and amounts, is needed for strength."

"However," he added, "we are going to try to avoid some of the gardening mistakes of the 1917-18 period. We are going to discourage the planting of gardens in soil not suited for vegetable growing. We don't have the seed, fertilizer and other materials to waste on gardens planted in backyards and other places where chiders, chickens and rubbish constitute the 'topsoil.' Plant a garden, but be sure it produces vegetables."

Farmers in this section are now busily engaged with their farming operations, with many reporting very good stands of tobacco plants.

Farm Machinery Dealers Need Orders For Parts

Farmers are being advised to order repair parts for their tractors, plows and other machines at the earliest possible moment. "There's an important reason," says D. S. Weaver, State College agricultural engineer, "and it's not the usual 'Shop Early and Avoid the Rush' sort of appeal."

Here's the way the Extension Service specialist explained it: The Office of Production Management is prepared to give farm machinery manufacturers priority on metals, BUT not until they receive orders from their dealers, BACKED UP BY BONA-FIDE ORDERS FROM CONSUMERS.

Therefore, says Weaver, farmers must determine now what parts they need to put their machines in good order for the 1942 season. Then, they must place their orders immediately for these parts.

The usual practice of waiting until just before a machine is needed in the spring, and then going to town for a repair part, will not work this year. There won't be any repair parts there, unless the order is placed at once.

"In the 'Food for Freedom' program farmers produce more food with fewer men," Weaver pointed out. "Greatly increased use of farm machinery is indicated. To meet the demand for new machines would require the manufacture of 20 to 25 percent more tractors, plows, combines, etc., than were produced in 1941."

"On the other hand," he declared, "there is only enough metal available for 75 to 80 percent as many farm machines as were manufactured last year, even with priorities on metals. This shortage must be made up by better use of all present machines."
