Lovely Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Miss Martha Rasberry

Interesting and Varied Programs Given At Club Meetings of The Week

Miss Nellie Butler, Mrs. Elbert Holmes, and Mrs. John Dwight Holmes were gracious hostesses on Saturday afternoon, April eleventh, at the Country Club, complimenting Miss Martha Rasberry, whose marriage to James Daniel Grady, Jr., of Kinston will be solemnized on Saturday, April the eighteenth, at five o'clock, in the Farmville Baptist Church.

The patriotic color scheme was used, with lovely arrangements of spirea, tulips and iris in blue vases and white floor baskets, being used in decoration.

Upon arrival, guests were greeted by the hostesses and honoree, who wore a nosegay of violets tied with red, white and blue ribbons. They found their places at the tables marked by tiny cups of rice beside large red hearts, numbered for the game of Hearts, which was played in the manner of bingo, with winners selecting their prizes from the gift table which held a variety of attractive gifts, such as refreshment trays, cosmetic accessories, culinary helps, novelty vases and ash trays.

An interesting contest was inscribed on the back of the heart and guests enjoyed straightening out the jumbled letters in the names of couples who according to Miss Louise Paschall, mistress of ceremonies, had chosen to play the game of hearts by twos. These were selected from history, literature and current local news. Mrs. Irvin Morgan won a pair of vases as the contest prize.

Miss Butler presented each guest with a sheet of paper, rolled and tied with red, white and blue ribbons, requesting each to read the illustrated verses found thereon, in the order as numbered. These resulted in a most interesting and appropriate story, written in rhyme by Miss Butler, of the life of the bride to be, with glimpses into her future. Afterwards, these were collected and made into a booklet for presentation to Miss Rasberry, who also received from her hostesses, a refreshment plate and relish dish in Fostoria's American pattern. These were packaged in white and tied with a shower of white ribbons and a miniature rolling pin.

Miss Margaret Thigpen, bride-elect of June was remembered with lovely handkerchiefs in a blue satin case and Mrs. Frank Allen also received a gift of handkerchiefs.

The patriotic colors combined further with the wedding motif in the delicious refreshments which consisted of congealed salads, in red heart mold, sandwiches in bell shape, sweet pickles, cracks and hot tea. Red, white and blue coconut balls, arranged on a silver tray, in the stars and stripes of the United States Flag, were passed.

Mrs. Elbert Holmes, giving an appropriate toast, presented the honoree, with a shower of all white handkerchiefs, gift from the guests, which was attractively arranged on an immense red heart and showered with red, white and blue ribbons, bearing the cards of the guests.

Goodbyes were said to Mrs. John Dwight Holmes.

Out of town guests included Mrs. J. D. Grady, Mrs. J. S. Gates, Miss Nancy Gates, Mrs. Alice Nelms, Miss Ida Jefferson, Miss Alice Dail, Miss Edna Grady, of Kinston; Mrs. J. C. Wood, Jr., of Lynnhaven, Va.; Miss Margaret Walter of Washington and Miss Verona Lee Joyner of Greenville.

Luncheon Shower

Mrs. Cleveland Paylor charmingly entertained at a luncheon on Tuesday honoring Miss Martha Rasberry, at the home of Mrs. J. M. Wheelers, Sr., which was decorated with artistic bouquets of spirea, iris and tulips.

Bridal place cards were used with a corsage of red roses marking the place of the honoree.

Luncheon consisted of iced grapefruit juice, baked ham, green peas in carrot boats, parsley potatoes, relishes, hot rolls and coffee. Individual lemon pies were served for dessert.

The hostess presented the honoree with a gift of crystal in her chosen pattern.

Miss Rasberry, being requested to answer a door bell summons, received from the messenger a laundry basket, filled with lovely gifts of linen, from the guests, who included Mrs. C. H. Rasberry, Mrs. J. S. Gates, Mrs. J. D. Holmes, Mrs. E. C. Holmes, Miss Nellie Butler, Mrs. A. B. Moore, Mrs. R. A. Parker, Mrs. Horace Lewis, Mrs. David Harris, Mrs. B. B. Fordham, Mrs. R. C. Copenhagen, Mrs. George Davis, Mrs. Chester Outland, Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mrs. R. T. Williams, Miss Marjorie Nichols, Miss Mary Barbee, Miss Elvira Tyson and Miss Frances Winstead. Assisting in service were Mrs. J. W. Bass, Mrs. J. M. Wheelers, Jr., Mrs. Bill Duke, Mrs. H. L. Mann and Mrs. J. M. Wheelers, Sr.

Progressive Bridge Club
Mrs. E. Sheppard was charming hostess to the members of her bridge club and other friends, including Mrs. Roland Lang, Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Mrs. W. C. Holston, Mrs. C. H. Joyner, Mrs. J. W. Joyner, Mrs. S. A.

Roebuck, Mrs. L. E. Walston, Mrs. Zeb Whitehurst, Mrs. Henrietta Williamson, Mrs. W. R. Willis and Mrs. W. M. Willis, on Thursday afternoon, April the ninth.

Mrs. Hubert Joyner, scoring high for visitors, and Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, high for the club, won rubber service trays.

After cards were laid aside, a delicious rose petal salad course was served with a bouquet of panises on each plate as a favor.

The Holden home where the party was held was beautifully decorated with quantities of spires and iris.

Woman's Club

Mrs. J. W. Bass, Mrs. Manly Liles, Mrs. W. J. Rasberry and Miss Annie Perkins were gracious hostesses to the Woman's Club, on April tenth, at the home of Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, in which lovely spring flowers were used in effective arrangement.

During the business session presided over by the President, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. E. F. Gaynor, First Vice President, gave a resume of the work done by the Garden Club during the past year. Miss Annie Perkins reported a gift of one hundred and fifty dollars to the Library, making a total of six hundred and fifty dollars for the Library building fund. Miss Perkins urged members to make a habit of using the Library and requested them to take a book there for the soldiers.

Mrs. Moore turned the gavel over to Mrs. Jesse Moye, the incoming President, who pledged to do all that she could for the success of the club and asked the help of the members.

An instructive quiz program, directed by Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, was presented and Mrs. J. B. Harris was the winning contestant.

A poem, "Color of the Flag," by Fred George Scott, was read in conclusion.

A delicious sweet course, followed by coffee and cheese wafers was served.

Miss Fannie Gary was a special guest.

Bride Hostess

Mrs. George Monk entertained at a lovely bride party on Friday afternoon, at her home on West Church street.

Mrs. Lath Morriss, scoring high, won dusting powder, and Mrs. James R. Lang received beautiful handkerchiefs as consolation.

Following play, the hostess served a delicious chicken salad course with a frozen dessert and cake.

D. A. R. Meets

The Major Benjamin May Chapter D. A. R. enjoyed a lovely meeting on Saturday, at the Chapter House, with Mrs. C. E. Moore, Mrs. J. C. Eagles and Mrs. U. H. Cozart as hostesses.

Graceful arrangements of spirea, wisteria, tulips and iris were used in floor baskets and on the mantels.

Mrs. C. S. Eagles gave the devotional and Mrs. B. S. Sheppard led the Flag Salute.

Mrs. Bruce Eagles introduced Rev. C. H. Courtney, Presbyterian minister, of Fountain, who gave a splendid talk on the War and World Conditions.

Miss Margaret Tyson beautifully rendered as a piano solo, "A Spanish Dance" and an encore number.

During a delightful social hour, a sweet course was served. Individual bouquets of pansies were used as favors.

Additional guests were Mrs. Frank Davis, Sr., Mrs. Mary Lewis Lang and Mrs. Carlyle Lynch, of Wilson.

Merry Matrons

Mrs. B. S. Smith was the charming hostess to the Merry Matrons and other guests, Mrs. T. W. Lang, Mrs. F. M. Davis, Sr., Mrs. Robert Lee Smith, Mrs. John King, Mrs. B. R. Fields, and Miss Fanny Gary, on Tuesday afternoon.

Artistic arrangements of red tulips, purple and white iris and spires were used in decoration.

The program chairman, Mrs. W. M. Willis presented Mrs. B. R. Fields who gave a most interesting talk on the "Movies As An Art" and "Developing An Appreciative Audience," continuing the club's study of films. In an appropriate contest, concerning actresses and actors and films in which they have appeared, Mrs. M. V. Horton won the prize of two theatre tickets.

Delicious marshmallow salad, ham biscuits, cream cheese and olive sandwiches, nuts and relishes were served with hot coffee. The hostess passed home made candies of chocolate and pink and white seafoam.

Literary Club

Mrs. B. S. Sheppard graciously entertained the Literary Club on Wednesday afternoon in the D. A. R. Chapter House, which was attractively decorated with Bankshire roses, spirea, woodbine and iris.

"Largo" from the opera "Karas," a Chorus "Where'er You Walk" from "Siegfried," and "V" for Victory" song. Miss House sang as a solo, "How Beautiful Are The Feet of Them" from the "Messiah," and Miss Thorne from the "Messiah." The International Anthem was sung by all.

After adjournment, the hostess assisted by Miss Tabitha DeVisconti served a delicious rose plate salad course.

Special guests in addition to the musicians were Mrs. Agnes Blount, Mrs. F. M. Davis, Sr., Mrs. G. M. Holden, Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Mrs. M. Y. Self and Miss Fanny Gary.

HONORED AT PARTIES IN KINSTON

Miss Martha Rasberry, bride elect of Saturday, has been complimented at pre-nuptial parties given by hostesses in Kinston.

On Thursday, April the ninth, Miss Rasberry shared honors with Miss Helen Sutton, of Kinston, at a lovely informal tea given by Miss Nancy Sutton and Miss Edna Grady.

iced drinks with hors d'oeuvres, party sandwiches and cakes were refreshments served.

The honoree received gifts of crystal from the hostesses.

Mrs. H. G. Wallace was hostess at a delightful luncheon, complimenting Miss Rasberry and Miss Sutton, on Friday, April tenth.

A yellow and white color scheme was used and decorative sandwiches and cakes were served with hot tea.

Miss Rasberry was remembered with a gift of crystal by the hostess.

BIRD CLUB NOTES

After giving the Bird Pledge in unison members heard Vance Lockamy and Bruce Skimmer tell about the American Pipit or Titlark. They said this bird's song sounds like the ringing of a bell and that it is a ground dwelling bird and some what resembles the sparrows. It is distinguished from them by its slender bill and its habit of walking instead of hopping. They stated also that it builds its nests on the ground, of grasses lined with moss and lichens and usually nests in June. It is decidedly a "paying guest" for its bill of fare includes weevils, grasshoppers, beetles, spiders, crickets and
