PAUSE AND GIVE THANKS

In an era when freedom of assembly is prohibited in so many lands Americans should cherish more than ever the rights they have built through the years to gather together in fellowship and service and renewal of friendships.

Nowhere but in the western hemisphere, England, Australia and parts of China and Africa could 1,500 people gather as they are expected to do in Raleigh next week when the 189th District Conference of Rotary International will meet for two days.

Members of 49 Rotary Clubs of eastern North Carolina from Rockingham and Guilford on the western edge of the district eastward to the Atlantic Ocean and along the coastline as far as Carteret county will hold their annual session that is second in importance only to the International Convention.

BIRD CLUB NOTES

The Bird Club met at the Park on Saturday. The subject for study was "Making Surroundings Attractive." Betsey Johnson informed the members that birds are dependent upon abundant and diversified vegetation. Trees, shrubbery and smaller growths are a fundamental necessity and serve for cover, food and nesting.

Zeb Whitehurst said that a good water supply in summer is one of the conditions most attractive to birds and will often cause numbers of them to locate and breed. The water should be shallow so birds can wade in and out to drink and bathe. The bath should be in a retired spot, somewhat sheltered by shrubbery.

MISSING IN ACTION

The following telegram has been received by Mrs. G. B. Roebuck, Sr. of Stokes: "The Navy Department, exceedingly regrets to advise you that according to the records of the department, your son George Benjamin Roebuck, Seaman First Class U. S. Navy was performing his duty in the service of his country in the Manila Bay area when that station capitulated. He will be carried on the records of the Navy Department as missing pending future information. No report of his death or injury has been received, and he may be a prisoner of war. It will probably be several months before definite official information can be expected concerning his status. Sincere sympathy is extended you in your anxiety, and you are assured that any report received will be communicated to you promptly."

ALLIES

Memorial Day Exercises Held

John Hill Paylor, who holds a commission as Lieutenant Colonel and Assistant Adjutant General bestowed upon him by the United Veterans of the Confederacy, gave a splendid address on Sunday, May 10th, at the Memorial Services held at the Forest Hill cemetery under the auspices of the Rebecca Winbourne Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy. An excerpt from Mr. Paylor's address follows:

"Today with flowers and flags we honor the men who gave up their lives in defense of the nation. The things we do today are an attempt to express what we feel for these men. At the best our exercises are inadequate. In honoring such service as these men gave, ceremonies are futile and words are weak. But if our observances today help us to keep burning within something of that spirit of patriotism and service with which these men surrendered life, the things we do will be splendidly worth while. They gave their lives in defense of the South. There is one day in the year that will forever be sacred to the American people. It is Memorial Day, a day that stands apart from all others, when we bow our heads in humility before the tombs of our illustrious Confederate soldier dead.

Since time immemorial, mankind has sought in various ways to keep alive the memory of those who sacrificed their life blood for the common weal. Today we turn back the pages of the past and from the gloom of eternity we resurrect in spirit those gallant and unvanquished warriors who fought so gloriously for the South. In spirit we see them once again. They are marching across the ramparts of time, swinging along in military brightness, heads erect, ever marching onward, courageous and unafraid. There is no better time than on Memorial Day to rechristen our faith in America, to pledge anew our allegiance to the Flag we love, and vow that we will uphold and defend the institutions for which so many brave Americans have fought and suffered, bled and died.

And now a toast to the loyal women of the Confederacy: "Then here's to the loyal women of the State we love the best—who have kept alive through trying years, a page that will stand the test of all history's searchlights, of all that years set free; the women who have sealed the heart of the South in the shrine of the U. D. C."

Appropriate music was furnished by the High School Band and representatives from the choirs of the churches.

LOVE-BUNDY

Fort Jackson, S. C.—Lovely in its simplicity was the wedding of Miss Alberta Love and Corporal Herbert P. ("Bill") Bundy of Farmville, N. C., and Fort Jackson, which took place at 8:00 o'clock Saturday evening, May 9, in the 30th Division Artillery Chapel. Chaplain John H. Justus performed the ceremony.

Palm, tall baskets of delicate pink gladioli and white lighted tapers in candelabra, outlining the altar rail effectively decorated the chapel for the occasion. Prior to the ceremony a program of pre-nuptial music was rendered by Pvt. Albright, organist of the 30th Division Artillery Chapel. The program included "Prelude in C"—Bach; "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes"—Traditional; "Sara-bande"—Handel; "Wedding March" from Lohengrin was used for the processional and "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn) for the recessional.

While the vows were being spoken "Moonlight Sonata" (Beethoven) was softly played. The candles were lighted by Pvt. Tommy Nunn and Pvt. George Boyd. Miss Sadie Lee Wallace of Seat Pleasant, Maryland and Great Falls, S. C., cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a black sheer afternoon dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of variegated sweet peas.

The bridegroom had for his best man, Sgt. Henry P. Brewer of Greenville, North Carolina and Fort Jackson. The lovely brunette bride, given in marriage by her oldest brother, Cpl. Marion Love of Camp Gordon, Ga., was charming in a navy blue sheer suit, small white flowered hat trimmed with a navy veil, and navy and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Bundy is the only daughter of Mr. Luther Love and the late Mrs. Love of Lowry. She received her education in the Sharon High School and later attended Draughton's Business College in Columbia. She is a young woman of charming personality and has many friends here who are glad that her marriage will not take her away. She now holds a responsible position with Wilson Storage Warehouse of this city.

MRS. ANNIE R. LANG (1867-1930) was honored along with other Faithful Mothers of the Christian Church on Mother's Day when the above picture appeared on the outside cover of the Memorial Edition of the Church Bulletin.

LANG'S 4-H CLUB

Jay Flanagan was host to the Lang's 4-H Club at an enjoyable meeting on Friday, May the eighth. Miss Kirby and Mr. Winchester were in charge of the program. They discussed the 4-H Achievement Day program which will be held at Williamston on May 15. Mr. Winchester showed pictures taken of club projects in Jones county. Mr. Weeks, assistant County Farm Agent, was a special guest.

Delicious ice cream and cake was served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Members present included Miss Doney Jones, Miss Frances Jones, Miss Lois Jones, Miss Peggy Jones, Miss Anne Turnage, Miss Elizabeth Moore, Miss Ora Lee Flanagan, Miss Ruth Moore, Miss Minnie Mae Moore, Bill Jones, David Jones, Jimmy Jones, J. STATE COLLEGE ANSWERS TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS

QUESTION: How will returns from peanuts grown for oil compare with returns from other crops? ANSWER: Recent studies made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State College Experiment Station show that, on the basis of the price supports set for peanuts and 85 percent purity for cotton, returns per man hours of labor should be about equal for cotton and peanuts grown for oil in 1942. Returns from peanuts grown for oil should greatly exceed returns from corn.

QUESTION: How do wool prices this year compare with 1941 prices? ANSWER: The wool market is the best in many years, says L. I. Case, Extension animal husbandman of State College. Our one-quarter

Boston Wool Market quotations in mid-April were 7 to 8 cents per pound higher than the corresponding period in 1941.

QUESTION: How can lettuce and celery be kept fresh? ANSWER: Miss Ruth Current, State home agent, says that lettuce and celery can be kept fresh for days by placing it in air-tight containers, such as glass jars or tin buckets. She also said that shriveled grapefruit can be freshened by placing it in cold water for an hour or two. "To extract the juice from lemons more easily, put them in hot water for two or three minutes before squeezing," Miss Current suggested.
