The following new officers were elected at this time: R. LeRoy Rollins, president; S. A. Garrie, vice president; B. B. Fordham, secretary; L. E. Walston, treasurer. Acting with the officers on the board of directors this year will be Irvin Morgan and J. Y. Monk, Jr.

ENTERTAIN FOR GUEST

Misses Janet Moore and Dora Trevathan were hostesses at a Scavenger party on Wednesday evening in compliment to Miss Moore's cousin and house guest, Miss Eleanor Horton, of Richmond, Va.

In the scavenger hunt, which carried the couples on a search for a list of oddities throughout the town, the honoree and her partner, Marvin Horton, won the award, theatre tickets.

Delicious refreshments, consisting of punch, cakes, cookies and candy were served during the evening.

HOSTESSES COMPLIMENT OUT-OF-TOWN VISITOR

Mrs. Lath Morris was hostess at a delightful morning party, Tuesday, in compliment to Mrs. Bert Watkins, of Montgomery, Ala. A variety of garden flowers were in pleasing arrangements in the home. During the hour of conversation and exchange of pleasantries, delicious refreshments, consisting of sandwiches wrapped in pastry, Saratoga chips, olives, pickles, cookies, and coca-colas were served. The honoree and Mrs. Richard D. Harris, a recent bride, were presented with lovely gifts by the hostess.

Mrs. C. Hubert Joyner entertained at bridge Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Watkins. Summer flowers in harmonious shades were used as a setting for the three tables.

Food watermelon was served as the guests arrived. Mrs. L. E. Walston as winner of high score, received a lemonade set as an award and Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner was given the consolation. The honor guest was presented with dusting powder by the hostess.

ZIMMERMANN-HOLLOMAN

Of interest to her many friends here, throughout North Carolina and Washington, D. C., is the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holloman, Farmville, of the recent marriage of their daughter, Mollie Elizabeth, to William John Zimmermann of New York City.

The ceremony was performed in Miami, Florida on June 12. The bride wore a navy dress with navy accessories and a corsage of white sweetheart roses. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

The bride is a graduate of Fountain High School, Fountain. She attended Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, and Duke University, Durham. For the past three years she has been connected with the British Air Commission, in Washington, D. C.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. J. Zimmermann of New York City. He is in the U. S. Army Air Corps stationed at Miami Beach, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmermann are at home at 1114 Ocean Drive, Miami Beach, Florida.

WHEELER-BROWNING

Friends here will be interested in the following news relating to the George R. Wheeler family, of Sanford, former residents of Farmville. Mr. Wheeler was Superintendent of Schools here for a number of years.

Sanford.—The wedding of Miss Mary Louise Browning of St. Louis, Mo., and Raymond Wheeler of Sanford and St. Louis was solemnized at the Episcopal Church in St. Louis on Saturday, June 27.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Browning of Logan, W. Va. She is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan College and received her master's degree at the University of North Carolina. Last year she was a member of the Ohio Wesleyan College faculty and now holds a position as research chemist in St. Louis.

Mr. Wheeler, son of George R. Wheeler, superintendent of Lee County Schools, and Mrs. Wheeler of Sanford, is a graduate of the University of North Carolina. He is now a senior medical student at George Washington University of St. Louis and will receive his M. D. degree next March. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are at home in St. Louis.

Sanford, July 6.—Miss Lelia Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wheeler of Sanford, left a few days ago for Florence, S. C., to become chief dietician in the Saunders Memorial Hospital in that city.

Miss Wheeler graduated from the Womens College, University of North Carolina, class of 1942.

INNES-MARTIN

Friends here will learn with interest of the marriage of Miss Alice Elizabeth Martin and Frank Daubuz Innes, both of Hickory, which was performed in a ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Hickory, at 5:00 Sunday afternoon, July 5, with the pastor, Dr. John E. Hay, officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Edwin L. Setzler, of Hickory. She wore a tapestry rose suit of Butcher linen, an early Fall hat of black felt with lace edge brim, and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. E. L. Setzler, matron of honor, was her sister's only attendant. Her dress was of powder blue crepe and she wore a black chiffon turban and carried a nosegay of mixed flowers.

The bridegroom had as his best man his brother, Sergeant Howard Innes, of Fort Jackson, S. C.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alice Lang Martin, of Hickory, and the late Wesley Martin. Her grandparents, James Lang and Mrs. Nanale Joyner Lang, were natives of Farmville and residents of Greenville and Pitt county. She attended Hickory high school and was graduated this spring from Lenoir Rhyne College. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Innes of Hickory, the bridegroom attended Lenoir Rhyne and Kings Business College in Charlotte. He is employed in the Shuford Mills office in Granite Falls.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside at 1814 Ninth avenue, Hickory.

INFORMAL TEA

The Woman's Club and mothers of the Farmville members of the North Carolina Victory Choir entertained the singers at an informal tea, held in the home of Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck, following the patriotic exercises at the gym on the afternoon of the Fourth. The Roebuck home was beautifully decorated with garden flowers. Mrs. Jesse Moye, president of the Woman's Club, Miss Elizabeth Davis and Miss Verona Lee Joyner served refreshments from the dining room table, which bore attractive appointments. The Farmville sponsors of this musical group were special guests at the tea.

RECEIVES COMMISSION AT FORT SILL, OKLAHOMA

Robert E. Windham, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Windham, is home on a ten day furlough, having recently finished officers' training at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where he received a commission as second Lieutenant in the Army. Lieutenant Windham will be on duty at Camp Pickett, Va.

VETERINARIAN OPENS OFFICES

Farmville and community will receive news of the opening of offices here by Dr. T. S. Williams, veterinarian, this week, with much interest, as Dr. M. J. Gregg, who has rendered invaluable service for the past several years in the practice of this profession, left recently to join the United States military service.

Dr. and Mrs. Williams arrived this week and are living for the present in the home of Mrs. Layne Dail but expect to occupy one of the Lovelace apartments on Church street in the course of the next few days. Dr. Williams' headquarters are in the offices occupied formerly by Dr. C. C. Joyner, 112 North Main street, and the telephone is listed as 322-1.

The veterinarian, who is a native of Andalusia, Alabama, comes to this community highly recommended as to ability and experience. He received his diploma from the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala., in the class of '37. He was afterwards employed by the United States Department of Agriculture and sent to Porto Rico, where he was associated with the Bureau of Animal Industry for three years. For the past two years he has been practicing his profession in Georgia.

Dr. Williams married Miss Marion Brown, of Asheville, last summer. Mrs. Williams was formerly connected with the North Carolina Farm Security Administration with headquarters in Raleigh.

WEINER ROAST

On Saturday evening July 4, Misses Effie and Dorothy Lewis delightfully entertained their house guests, Miss Martha Jefferson, of Fountain, Miss Martha Baker, Miss Edith Wilkerson and Bill Connell, students at E. C. T. C., at an out-door weiner roast. The guests, numbering fifteen, shared in the pleasures of the evening.

NOTE OF THANKS IS RECEIVED FROM GIBBS

A note of thanks from Pvt. Skinny Gibbs, written from the Recreation Center, Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming, in acknowledgement of copies of The Enterprise sent him recently upon receipt of a card by the Editor, states that "I read all the copies from cover to cover and each and every column. They were welcomed with open arms and heartiest greetings. The news was very interesting and most enjoyable to a h— boy. The Editor hopes to find time to dig up some more copies so that Private Gibbs can keep up with the news from his little old home town.

Symphonic Chorus Helping War Work

Greenville and Eastern Carolina received signal honor when W. E. Colvert, general secretary of the National Salvage Board in Washington, heard the North Carolina Symphonic Chorus sing for the Rotary Club during its recent tour of northern states. The government executive wrote James B. Volger, executive secretary of the State Rationing Committee at Raleigh, recalling that Governor J. M. Broughton was one of the sponsors of the Symphonic Chorus and suggested that Lewis Sidney Bullock, the director, write a parody on one of the old songs to stimulate the salvaging campaign in the country.

Mr. Bullock complied at once. He wrote a parody on "Dixie," encouraging the salvage of rubber. The Symphonic Chorus sang it at the Pitt Theatre and included the song in their program at the Patriotic Day exercises at Farmville Saturday.

The song goes something like this: "America needs your scrap rubber, Take something that's made of rubber—her, Throw it in with a grin— Give to your Uncle Sam.

It may be that old wornout tire, Garden hose, hot water bottle. You will help us to win If you give with a vim. We will prove that down in Dixie We give and give

For our dear land and Uncle Sam. We'll fight and die for victory, So now—right now! Let's help this drive go over.

We will—we will! "Way down South in Dixie!"—Daily Reflector.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. Mr. McDermid, of Greenville, will preach at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock service hour.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Friday evening, July 3, Mrs. H. D. Baker delightfully entertained twenty-five friends at a birthday party honoring her sister, Miss Dorothy Lewis. The color scheme of green and yellow was effectively carried in the refreshments and floral decorations.

Games, contests and dancing were enjoyed. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. E. E. Modlin, Mrs. Bertha Gardner and Miss Effie Lewis in serving a congealed salad plate. The birthday cake was cut and served by the honoree.

His name is Doolittle, but he did a lot.

REA BOOKKEEPER WILL ATTEND SPECIAL ACCOUNTING SCHOOL

Miss Frances Winstead, bookkeeper of the Pitt & Greene Electric Membership Corporation will leave Sunday for Raleigh, N. C., where she will spend the week of July 13-17 attending a special Rural Electrification bookkeepers' school, according to R. A. Joyner, manager of the system. The first four days of the school will be devoted to a study of approved standard accounting methods used in rural electrification systems throughout the country, and on Friday the sessions will be given over to general operations problems. R. A. Joyner, Treasurer and D. T. Harris, Superintendent, will attend the final day of the school.

Self-billing and member meter reading, practices that have been used in the Pitt & Greene Electric Membership Corporation system for two years as well as in a great majority of the 788 REA cooperatives throughout the country, are doubly important now with conservation of rubber and gasoline vital to the war effort. Several hundred thousand miles of driving along the nation's 360,000 miles of REA lines are saved every month through these member-participation practices.

Part of the final session will be given to a discussion of what REA lines have done, and can best do, in the war effort. How to make the best possible use of present facilities and how to prepare and maintain the cooperative's records in such shape that quick adjustments can be made to every war emergency, will be discussed at Friday's session.

State College Hints For Farm Homemakers

By Ruth Current, State Home Demonstration Agent, N. C. State College.

Nowadays Mother doesn't forget the brush when the painting job is done. She cleans the paint off while the paint is still fresh, instead of letting it get dry and hard. Then she wraps the clean brush in paper, ties a cord around to hold the paper on, and hangs the brush up by its handle to keep the bristles straight and ready for the next time she paints.

When you have finished painting, get as much paint off the brush as you can with a rag. Then dip the brush in the liquid solvent. If you have been painting with oil paint, the solvent will be linseed oil; if you've been using flat finish paint, clean with kerosene oil, or coal oil as some people call it. If you've been using shellac, the best cleaner is denatured alcohol. As for calcimine or whitewash, just plain water will take that off. Clean the bristles again with a clean cloth and last of all wash the brush in soap and water, rinse, and dry. Hang the brush up by the handle to keep the bristles straight.

A good job of cleaning always winds up with cleaning the cleaning tools. One reason for putting cleaning tools away clean is that you don't store dirt. Your brooms, brushes, mops, and clothes don't develop sour or moldy odors and don't attract insects. With clean equipment you are always ready "to go" when cleaning day comes around. You don't have to waste a moment getting started and you can do an efficient job that gives you the closest. But when you open the closet and find the dustpan full of dirt, the broom greasy or sticky, the mop dirty and mildewed, well you know what kind of a start that gives you. It just spoils your enthusiasm for cleaning, and you have to do a big job of cleaning up before you even start on the house.
