enlisted personnel of the Women's Naval Reserve will begin September 11th, and training will start October 9th at the University of Wisconsin, Indiana University and Oklahoma A. and M. College.

Selective Service

Selective Service Director Hersey said draft boards will begin calling men with dependents before Christmas. He said single men with "secondary" dependents, such as aged or crippled relatives, will be called first; married men whose wives work, next; then men with dependent wives; and finally men who have wives and children. He said the reservoir of 1-A men throughout the country is practically exhausted.

Stabilization of Farm Prices

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said he would approve a plan to livestock ceiling prices which "must not permit abnormal profits to anyone in the industry at the expense of the producers or consumers."

Mr. Wickard also said he now favors repeal of the provision of the price control act "that prohibits ceilings on processed farm products if the ceiling price reflects a farm price of less than 110 percent of parity."

He said farm prices "have reached parity on an average." The WPB food requirements committee asked the armed forces, the Lend-Lease Administration, and the War Production Board to collaborate in working out a program for allocation of all government meat purchases as equitably as possible among federally inspected packers.

The Agricultural Marketing Administration bought $137,900,000 worth of foodstuffs during July for the United Nations and other requirements, including 80,000 pounds of dehydrated beef.

Rationing

Tire quotas will have to follow a downward trend the rest of this year to keep within the amount of rubber earmarked by the WPB for the purpose, the Office of Price Administration said.

The Office asked local rationing boards for the "strictest possible interpretation" of a recent amendment to tire rationing regulations restricting truck eligibility to vehicles essential to the war effort

Bread Plays Vital Role In Human Diet

Bread is the universal food. It enters into the diet of more people than does any other single food item, with the possible exception of rice, says Dr. Walter J. Peterson, in charge of animal nutrition for the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station at State College.

For millions of people, bread is the chief constituent of the diet, owing perhaps to its cheapness and high caloric value. "That is why," says Dr. Peterson, "the recent enrichment of white flour with Vitamin B-1 and calcium is so important to the health of the American people in war-time. Also, the British Food Control Commission has ruled that all white bread used in England must be enriched."

Dr. Peterson explained that Vitamin B-1 is composed of a substance known as "thiamin." He said: "This-min is concerned with the breakdown of foods that furnish energy for the body processes. Furthermore, since it has been shown that the daily requirement of this vitamin depends upon the amount of energy expended, it is imperative that the inclusion of thiamin in adequate amounts in the diet of our people be assured."

"Food processors in the United States have long sought to please our palates without much consideration for our vitamin needs," the State College nutritionist asserted. "We have acquired a taste for many vitamin-deficient foods."

"Since it is unlikely that we will ever be able to successfully educate the public taste to a point where unprocessed foods would be really enjoyed, it is time that more serious consideration be given to the thought of fortifying our processed foods. This can be accomplished, in most cases, by slight changes in manufacturing methods, such as the enrichment of bread."

or public health and safety. Oil and Gasoline WPB Chairman Nelson appointed under Secretary of War Patterson, Petroleum Coordinator Ickes and Price Administrator Henderson as a committee to determine whether fuel oil should be rationed in the East Coast Area this winter.

Because of the shortage of fuel oil in the area, Mr. Ickes prohibited the hauling of automobile gasoline by rail in 20 middle Western and Southwestern States in order to divert enough tank cars to carry 100,000 barrels of fuel oil daily to the rationed area.

If the withdrawal of these 5,000 to 7,000 tank cars creates a shortage, rationing should be extended, Mr. Ickes said.
