Mrs. Hotchkiss Hostess At Lovely Bridge Series

Clubs Hold Delightful Sessions In Seasonal Settings

Largest and loveliest of fall social affairs here was the bridge series given Thursday by Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss, who entertained friends for six tables in the afternoon and for seven in the evening.

The Halloween motifs and colors were carried in detail in table appointments and in the use of French and giant marigolds, lupins and pom-pom chrysanthemums for the effective floral setting.

In the progressive games of the afternoon, Mrs. Frank K. Allen was awarded a handpainted tray for scoring high, Mrs. H. Neal Howard retained the floating prize, a double deck of cards, and Mrs. Rex Hodges received as consolation a set of pot holders.

Awards in the evening went to Mrs. Billy Burke, who received bridge cards for compiling high score; to Mrs. L. E. Walton, who kept the pot for being the last player to make a game in diamonds, and to Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., who received pot holders as consolation.

Delicious ice cream fudge cake was served on both occasions, followed by cheese straws, Halloween candies and coffee. Jack o'lanterns were used as centerpieces for the tables at refreshment time. Mrs. C. E. Moore and Mrs. T. C. Turnage, Sr., were invited in for the refreshment hour in the afternoon.

Garden Club.

Miss Tabitha DeVosanti and Mrs. B. S. Sheppard were gracious hostesses this week, entertaining members of the Garden Club and additional friends at the monthly meeting of this group in the D. A. R. Chapter House. With a study of roses featuring the program of the afternoon, the hostesses made an effective setting for the discussion of this subject by the use of quantities of handsome specimens in bowls and vases. Magnolia leaves were arranged on the mantles.

Mrs. E. F. Gaynor presided and announced that the District meeting of the Garden Clubs would not be held this year. Reports were made at this time by Mrs. J. M. Christman, the treasurer, and by Miss Bettie Joyner of the Park committee.

Mayor George W. Davis, whose rose garden is one of the show places here, was a special guest at this time and presented the speaker, Mr. Casey, a Goldsboro nurseryman, who addressed the Club on "The Care of Roses."

At the conclusion of the program, the hostesses served cookies, candies in pumpkin design, salted nuts and Russian tea.

Special guests were; Mrs. Casey, Mayor and Mrs. George D. Davis, Mrs. F. M. Davis, Miss Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. J. H. Darden, Mrs. David T. Harris, Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss, Mrs. A. C. Monk, Mrs. Jesse Moye, Mrs. J. W. Parker, Mrs. Jack Smith, Miss Ada Wood, Mrs. Wesley R. Willis and Mrs. M. Y. Self.

Merry Matrons.

The Merry Matrons held a delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden, Tuesday, with Mrs. R. A. Fields presiding and Mrs. J. L. Morgan giving a splendid review of one of the current accounts of army life, "See Here, Private Hargrove."

During the pleasant social hour the hostess served ice box cake, followed by cheese straws, pinwheel cookies and coffee.

Yellow and pink roses were used with artistic effect in the Holden home.

Observes Birthday.

A delightful affair of the week was the surprise birthday party given by Mrs. Herman Voss and Mrs. J. Leroy Parker in compliment to Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss on Saturday afternoon at the home of the former, to which lovely fall flowers added a color note of yellow.

Invited at an hour set later than that of the other guests, Mrs. Hotchkiss was greeted as she arrived with the Happy Birthday song and presented a knitting basket filled with accessories as a gift from the group.

Guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. The table bore a Chinese cloth and a centerpiece of ageratum and azaleums, flanked by pink candles. Pink tapers lighted the birthday cake, which was served with coffee, sandwiches, cookies, nuts and minis.

In the bridge games, which followed, Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr., compiled high score and was awarded a crystal egg platter, and Mrs. Tommy S. Ryan, as second high, received guest soap. Mrs. P. E. Andrusan, an out-of-town guest, was remembered with a lovely coffee cup by the hostesses. Coca-Colas were served during the games.

Guests were; Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss, Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr., Miss Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. Richard D. Harris, Mrs. Tommy S. Ryan, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. R. T. Williams, Mrs. James B. Lang, Mrs. Ted L. Albritton, Mrs. L. T. Pierce and Mrs. P. E. Andrusan.

Final Rites Held for Mrs. Lucy Anne Pollard on Wed.

Highly Esteemed Young Farmville Woman Succumbs To Illness of Several Months

Final rites for Mrs. Lucy Anne Flanagan Pollard, 35, wife of W. A. Pollard, Jr., a well known and highly esteemed Farmville woman, were conducted from the home of a brother-in-law, J. O. Pollard, Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock, by Rev. C. B. Mashburn, pastor of the Christian Church. Favorite hymns were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Holmes, Miss Nellie Butler, Mrs. Alton W. Bobbitt and J. R. Shearin, and interment was made in Forest Hill cemetery, beneath a large and handsome floral offering.

Mrs. Pollard succumbed Tuesday morning at six o'clock to an illness of several months duration. She had been in a critical condition for three weeks at the home of her brother-in-law, since returning from Duke Hospital, and her death was not unexpected.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Flanagan and had spent her entire life in this community, being reared after her mother's death in the home of a devoted aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Belcher. She had been a loyal member of the Christian Church since childhood and was Superintendent of the Primary Department of the Sunday School for many years, and until ill health made it necessary for her to give up this work so close to her heart.

Surviving are her husband, two sons, William Robert, age 9, years, and James Albert, age 11 months, a sister, Mrs. Floyd Andrews, of Mt. Olive, and a brother, St. Sgt. William Alfred Flanagan, of the United States Army, stationed at Nashville, Tenn.

Active pallbearers were; J. O. and M. E. Pollard, C. F. Baucum, Edward May, Floyd Andrews, of Mt. Olive, and Kermit Lamm, of Wilson.

Honorary pallbearers were; Dr. C. E. Fitzgerald, Dr. W. M. Willis, Leroy Rollins, John Hill Paylor, R. D. Rouse, Eddie Carraway, Mack Carraway, Carl Greene, E. L. Barrett, M. V. Jones, W. J. "If German boys can do it, why can't I? I don't consider them a bit better than I am" was the reason one young Southerner gave for joining the Army at the age of 18 recently. Many others his age are enlisting and choosing the branch of service in which they wish to serve.

LONNIE TYER LAID TO REST SUNDAY

Funeral services for Lonnie A. Tyer, 70, well known Farmville citizen, were held from his home on Main street, Sunday afternoon, with Rev. C. B. Mashburn, pastor of the Christian Church, in charge. Interment was made in the family cemetery near Farmville. Death resulted from a heart attack Saturday, following a stroke of paralysis suffered several days prior to his passing.

Mr. Tyer, who was a son of the late John E. and Elizabeth A. Tyer, never married but resided here with a devoted sister, Miss Annie Tyer, who with a brother, R. B. Tyer, of this community, survive him.

Active pallbearers were; Peyton Boyce, C. L. Ivey, Lester E. Turnage, T. B. King, G. W. Windham and Jesse Moye.
