4-H Club Members Will Review Work

North Carolina's army of 100,000 4-H Club members will pause in the midst of their wartime activities during the week of November 7-14 to review 1942 achievements, announces L. R. Harrill, 4-H Club leader for the N. C. State College Extension Service.

This period has been set aside as National 4-H Achievement Week so that club members the Nation over may take inventory of the busiest year of their lives.

North Carolina's 4-H Club enrollment jumped from 60,000 to 100,000 this year, largely as a result of Mobilization Week held during April. At the time, the farm boys and girls signed a Victory pledge, agreeing to do all in their power to help win the war.

Practically every member has conducted a food production project, such as vegetables, peanuts, soybeans, poultry, dairy cattle and beef cattle. Largely as a result of the 4-H effort, North Carolina had more good gardens this year than at any other time.

Among their special wartime activities, the club members have collected scrap metal, rubber, paper, and rags. Likewise, they have made substantial purchases of war bonds and stamps, as well as aiding in the sales drives.

One of their most important contributions, Harrill said, has been their replacing farm labor drained off by the war industries or Selective Service.

In some counties, the reviewing of achievements will begin during the week of November 1. Special Exercises have been planned in all counties to celebrate Achievement Week.

Farmers Are Urged To Seed Legume Crops

North Carolina farmers should take advantage of the additional time allowed for seeding winter legume crops and spreading lime and phosphate under the 1942 AAA program, according to E. Y. Floyd, state AAA executive assistant at State College.

The time limit for carrying out these soil-building practices, he said, have been extended through November 15 because of delays caused by recent heavy rainfall. Other phases of the 1942 program in North Carolina closed on October 31.

"Our recent unseasonable rains came at a time when many farmers had their legume seed and lime and phosphate ready for use, but had been delayed in using them by the uncertainty of harvesting crops already matured. Appeals from farmers and AAA leaders throughout the state resulted in an extension of fifteen days for carrying out these practices being granted by AAA officials at Washington," Floyd said.

"This will make it possible for a considerable number of farmers to complete legume seeding and soil building practices before the season ends," he said.

maximum soil-building payments under the 1942 program.

Payments made by the AAA for seeding legume crops and spreading lime and phosphate are rounded toward the maximum soil-building practice payments which may be earned by any individual farm co-operating in the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Floyd declared that seeding of winter legumes and spreading lime and phosphate are more important than ever before this year due to the shortage of nitrogen fertilizers and the need for more pastures in the Food for Freedom Program.

"Nitrogen will be harder to obtain next year than it was last spring, and we will have to provide as much as we can for our own use by storing it in the soil with legume crops," he said.

Auto and Truck Owners Should Take Heed Now!

ration holders, as the new regulations require. Moreover, he must show that his need for tire service is not due to his abuse and neglect of the tires he has.

"The 'idle purchase plan,' which applies to passenger type tires only, requires the surrender of all such tires, regardless of condition, over five per vehicle prior to the granting after November 22 of any gasoline or tire ration to such vehicle owner. The tires shall be donated or sold through the Railway Express Agency, (not the American Railway Express) to the Defense Supplies Corporation, a government agency, or if such tires are not usable, they may be donated or sold as scrap through a junk dealer.

"The plan is voluntary until November 22. Used tire transfers were frozen on October 1, which means that shifting around of tires between two owners, even though in the same family, or a donation of a tire to a friend since that date, are all illegal transactions. Used tires may now be transferred only to the Defense Supplies Corporation or if unusable, to a scrap dealer."

On and after November 22 no passenger car owner may be granted a new or renewal gasoline ration or any tire ration unless he has registered his car's five remaining tires, and should not have surrendered his idle tires by December 12 his local board shall recall his ration and suspend it until he has completed this registration in accordance with the regulations. It is to be remembered that the Railway Express Agency on receiving a call will come for and deliver idle tires to one of the selected warehouses and give the owner a receipt, which will entitle the seller, should he sell rather than donate his tires, to the selling price, recently raised, for his tires. Size and condition of the tire will determine the price. Tires may be sold or donated, but they do not have to be surrendered.

Under these regulations the following are not required to turn in tires: (1) Persons owning commercial vehicles only (but a person owning a passenger vehicle and a commercial vehicle must surrender all over five passenger type tires per vehicle); (2) Persons owning off-the-road equipment only; (3) Federal, state, local or foreign governments; (4) Dealers reporting passenger type tires on OPA Form R-17; and (5) manufacturers reporting passenger type tires to the War Production Board. Mr. Hoffer said it is to be noted also that if a car's rear wheels use a tire size which will not fit the front wheels, the owner may retain one spare of each size.

In the new mileage rationing regulations the local boards are given additional power in applying penalties. For example, a person found guilty of driving at a greater speed than 35 miles an hour may be denied both gasoline and tire rations. If the board receives a record for a court conviction of speeding, whether in the or some other state, it need not give the offender a hearing but may recall his ration book, a case of a complaint of speeding the board may give the alleged offender a hearing, and if it should find he was in fact guilty of the charge it may revoke and cancel his ration. After November 9, these penalty provisions will be applied by the boards and in the meantime the State Office of Price Administration will act upon such complaints, Mr. Hoffer stressed.

"Both gasoline and tire rations," he said, "may also be revoked by local boards after hearing whenever a person uses a ration for any purpose other than that for which it was granted. In addition suspension orders may be enforced against violators, and criminal prosecution may be invoked in flagrant cases of violation. Persons discovered having in their possession loose rationing coupons will be dealt with summarily.

"For a false statement in any application the penalty may be as much as a fine of $10,000 and a prison term of ten years or both. For a violation of a regulation the fine may be the same but the prison term may not exceed one year.

"In other words, there are sufficient teeth in the new regulations to insure public compliance with them. The OPA must zealously guard the home economy from in order that the battle front may be adequately sustained, and if it cannot do so through persuasion and cooperation it may have to resort to its criminal sanctions.

"Passenger car owners who hold basic rations, or 'A' gasoline ration books, may register their five remaining tires per vehicle at any time prior to making any application between November 22 and December 12 for a supplemental gasoline ration or for a tire ration. Holders of fleet rations must also make a similar registration, even though they hold no 'A' ration book. In other words, all holders of 'A', 'B' or 'C' rations must register their tires with their local boards. Forms for such registration may be obtained from filling stations, garages, automobile dealers, or from local boards. The forms when completed may be mailed or presented to the proper local board, and the registrant will receive a part of the form as his receipt. This receipt, which will be the owner's tire inspection record, must be exhibited when applying in the future for gasoline or tire rations.

"Owners of commercial vehicles who have received an ODT Certificate of War Necessity must apply for future rations on or before November 22, or as soon thereafter as such Certificate has been received. Of course, no commercial vehicle may obtain any gasoline in exchange for coupons after the expiration date of its current ration.

"Automobile owners in the Eastern area which is already subject to gasoline rationing should pay no attention to the provisions for the new regulations requiring registration at schoolhouse sites for basic rations on November 12, 13, and 14, for this registration is designed for gasoline users in the previously unrationed area only.

"Eligibility for supplemental 'B' and 'C' rations is much the same in the mileage regulations as that set out in the current gasoline regulations, with the notable exception that no 'C' ration will be granted for any travel for selling services or commodities. All sales promotional work must be done with 'B' ration of 470 miles of occupational driving per month.

"Motorcycle owners are not required to surrender spare tires, and provisions has been made to permit them to receive obsolete type tires. In most respects the regulations affecting motorcycles have been changed very little.

"Eligibility classification for truck tires remain substantially unchanged. The possession of an ODT certificate of war necessity does not necessarily mean that the applicant is eligible for tires. Eligibility must be established under the Office of Price Administration regulations.

"The new mileage rationing program is an organized effort to cope with the serious problem of a rubber shortage. Speeds must be held below 35 miles per hour. Group riding plans must be employed. Tires must be inspected regularly and every conservation measure must be used. Passenger cars are to be equipped with tires because they are essential to the nation's transportation but they must be used only for essential purposes."

put will be divided between the armed forces, needs of our Lend-Lease allies, and civilians. And production of straight razors will cease altogether on January 1, and industry already is turning out commando knives. Milk cans and all wire fencing used on farms will be rationed through the Department of Agriculture. And all new farm machinery and equipment except repair parts has been frozen in the hands of dealers until a permanent rationing system has been worked out. Use of new hurlap bags will be restricted to sacking up barley, beans and peas, dairy products, potatoes, rice, rock salt, feeds and meals for animals consumption, dried fruits, nuts, seeds, raw sugar, wheat, wool and wool products, and a few other items. The shortage of essential farm workers on livestock, dairy and poultry farms is being met by a program for stabilizing employment in these fields. Local Selective Service boards are being requested to grant occupational deferment to "necessary" men and war industries have been instructed to stop recruiting such workers for industrial labor. Workers volunteering to bring in the Oregon and Washington fruit harvest may ride on special trains by government permission, although extra train service otherwise has been halted. Increased home consumption of natural and manufactured gas, to supplement or take place of other fuels, threatens the supply of gas needed for war industries, especially in the manufacture of synthetic rubber and chemicals. We'll all have to be more thrifty in burning gas at home—Net farm income for 1942 is estimated at nearly $9,800,000,000, about one million dollars above the previous high record of 1919, while agricultural production is up 12 per cent over that of 1941.

New York's movie organs have played their tunes, except for Hitler. Turned in to the scrap drive, one of them yielded 2,300 pounds of war metals.
