BIRD NOTES

(Contributed)

"Once they are gone we can only remember them with longing. We are not God; we cannot make America over again, but we can come to what is left of our heritage with patriotic reverence," so wrote Donald Peattie of our wild-life trees and clean bright waters.

Conservation is needed now more than ever since there is danger it may be shoved aside under the pressure of wartime needs.

Now that winter is here we must not forget our friends—the birds. Bird feeders kept filled with nuts and grain will bring desirable birds to gardens. Put these and a bird bath where the birds can be watched from a window. They will afford much pleasure to the watchers. Crumbs and nuts scattered on the ground will be gratefully eaten by the birds. Every bird lover should protect the birds from stray cats.

The song birds watching from the trees observe very few B. B. guns on the scrap metal piles. Boys, show your love for your birds and your country and scrap those guns.

If women refused to wear feathers of any kind as an adornment, the slaughter of rare birds would be stopped. Protect our birds that they may always be with us.

Clubs Meet

Wednesday Afternoon Club
Mrs. George Moore, Jr., charmingly entertained the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Club and other guests, Mrs. George Monk, Mrs. Charles Hotchkiss and Mrs. Ben Turnage, Jr., last week at her home which was beautifully decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and picardy gladioli.

Attractive high score prizes of guest soap were won by Mrs. John King, for members, and by Mrs. Charles Hotchkiss, for guests.

Following play, a delicious fruit salad course was served with Russian tea and sandwiches.

Thanksgiving tallies and refreshment covers carried the season's theme.

Contract Club

The Contract Club enjoyed a delightful afternoon of bridge on Tuesday with Mrs. Hubert Joyner as hostess at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden.

Mrs. Arthur Joyner, high for members and Mrs. R. T. Williams, high for guests received defense stamps.

Christmas greens accented with red candles were used in decoration and following play, delicious frozen salads were served with hot tea and sandwiches.

Special guests were Mrs. R. A. Parker and Mrs. R. T. Williams.

Literary Club

Mrs. Hubert Joyner was gracious hostess to the Literary Club, which met at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden, on Wednesday. Suggestions of the coming holiday season were effectively carried out in decorations of red berries, ivy and candles.

Mrs. Neal Howard, president, presided over the business session, which included the selection of a hostess for the second meeting in February and the reading of a letter concerning cancer control. Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson was selected hostess for the February meeting.

In the absence of Mrs. J. B. Joyner, Mrs. Jesse Moye conducted an interesting program on current events, giving an informative talk and closing with questions of world-wide interest.

After adjournment the hostess served frozen cherry salad, sandwiches and hot tea.

Special guests of the hostess were Mrs. F. M. Davis, Sr., Mrs. C. E. Moore and Mrs. Jesse Moye.

Government Asks Less Meat-Eating

All families in the Nation are being asked to contribute alike in the "share-the-meat" program by holding down weekly consumption to 2 1/2 pounds per person over 12 years of age.

In clarifying the request, Dr. I. O. Schaub, director of the Extension Service of N. C. State College, said all meat slaughtered on farms for home use and that which families purchase in quantity for storage in freezer lockers should be counted in the 2 1/2-pound weekly sharing allowance.

This applies to the meat from home-slaughtered cattle, calves, hogs and sheep, since the "share-the-meat" program affects all beef, pork, veal, lamb, and mutton. All meat, whether slaughtered on the farm or commercially, makes up the total supply to be available to consumers.

Explaining the situation, Dr. Schaub said that huge amounts of meat must be supplied to the Army, the Navy, and our Allies. Civilian consumption must be held to the amount available after all of these needs are met.

If civilians were allowed to buy all the meat they wanted, their purchases alone would take 21 billion pounds of the total available supply of slightly more than 24 billion pounds. Since Army, Navy, and Lease-Lend requirements amount to 6 1/2 billion pounds, civilian consumption must be cut to 17 1/2 billion pounds.

Dr. Schaub said a meat-rationing system cannot be worked out until early in 1943, so citizens have been asked to cooperate in the voluntary "share-the-meat" program so as to assure adequate rations for the Army, Navy, and American Allies.

Living is a lot of trouble but you don't have to do it but once and that isn't long.

Are you entitled to wear a target label button?

You can ONLY if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds to do your part on the home front toward winning the War.

The target label button is a badge of patriotism, a badge of honor, you should feel proud to display it. The buttons are obtainable at your plant management, at the office of your local War Bond chairman, or at your Payroll Savings Window where you authorize your ten percent payroll deductions.

Enlist in the ten percent War Bond army and do your part to win the War.

State College Hints For Farm Homemakers

By Ruth Curran
State Home Demonstration Agent
N. C. State College.

It has been said that turkey, duck or chicken can have a glossy coat if there's a sprinkling of sugar after the usual rubbing with butter, salt and pepper before roasting. Someone should have thought of that when there was plenty of sugar available but, after all, a little sprinkling won't drain the precious supply, now will it? You may like it.

Cakes made of honey sometimes seem less light and fluffy than those made with sugar. Age them, and they become moist and flavorful.

The coffee you buy now is probably in a paper bag. Think nothing of it. Better be glad you were able to get any at all. It predicted that by Christmas time all available coffee will be packed in bags. Just transfer it to an old coffee tin or a glass jar with a metal screw top.

The very unfortunate homemaker who "stocks up" will be mighty sorry in a month from now that the coffee tastes as if it's been poured through someone's sock! And that's exactly what will happen to hoarders. Your coffee goes stale on the shelf and with that thought in mind, these hints should be observed religiously: (1) Buy coffee as your rationing book permits. Don't fuss. (2) Buy the right kind for your coffee maker. The wrong type means needless waste. (3) Measure coffee accurately. (4) Prepare no more than you think you'll need. (5) Serve it as soon as it's made, if possible. (6) Save all leftover coffee. Use in cooking. It is especially delicious in cakes, cookies and pudding. It's called mocha then.

Keep these points in mind for the months ahead and remember that coffee rationing means that everyone will get a share of what there is. Remember, too, that cargo ships, formerly bringing coffee, are now taking war materials to our fighting boys. Let's forget our coffee nerves!

APPRECIATION

We cannot find words capable of expressing our gratitude to the very kind people of this town who sent us letters, flowers, cards and gifts during our recent illness.
