The way to acquire what you want is to use that which you have.

Your library will supply you with any kind of book except a pocket-book.

Women will make up 30 percent of the labor force in war industries this year, it is estimated.

The national parks yielded 6,473,855 pounds of scrap metal in 1942, or enough to fill more than 75 freight cars.

A professor of animal husbandry claims to have found a way to deodorize the goat. He must be kidding.

Hunters are expected to add 135 million pounds of meat to the nation's food supply in the next 12 months.

About 300 war plants in the United States help to produce the 45,000 different parts in a heavy bomber and the 40,000 parts in every tank.

Eliminating use of asbestos textiles in unnecessary products will save approximately 750,000 pounds of these textiles for war purposes.

The armed forces will enroll 70,000 young men a month out of about 1,200,000 who reach the age of 18 this year, according to estimates.

American Indians have sent more than 11,000 men to war, out of a population of about 400,000, creating a manpower shortage on reservations.

In England, all women from 18 to 45 must register for war services, and single women and widows without children, between 20 and 30, are subject to draft.

If prices of civilian goods are held to present control levels until January 1, 1944, consumers will have saved an average of $170 for every man, woman and child in the country.

Government expenditures for war purposes during November amounted to twice the total value of all the passenger cars and motor trucks produced in the United States in 1940.

The number of women employed in the nondurable goods industries increased during our first year of war by 110,000—largely in ammunition and explosive plants—while the number of men decreased by 34,000.

It takes 70 to 80 million board feet of lumber annually to provide splints for 275 billion bandages used in the United States, and 500 tons of steel each year go into the tiny steel staples of book matches, of which we consume 225 billions.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Barbed wire used by Uncle Sam's fighting forces is vastly different from that used on American farms. Army and Marine barbed wire is much heavier and the barbs, about three inches in length, are more vicious than ordinary barbed wire.

The Marine Corps pays fifty cents for each twelve yards, or 36 feet of this specially manufactured barbed wire. The Army and Marine Corps needs thousands upon thousands of feet for defensive warfare. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps will insure sufficient quantity for their needs. Invest at least ten percent of your wages in War Bonds every pay day.

This Sergeant Acts Dual Role With Carrier Pigeons and Bayonets

A worker of miracles is Master Sergeant Max Bronkhorst. At Fort Sam Houston, Texas, he is engaged in the dual capacity of training homing pigeons for the Signal Corps and in teaching New York clerks, Pennsylvania steel workers and young farmers from half a dozen states in the dexterous use of the bayonet.

He has been breeding carrier pigeons since his boyhood in Rotterdam, Holland, nearly half a century ago. He brought a basketful of his Dutch birds to America long before the first World War and with him they entered the United States Army. Both made good. Nearly everybody knows how pigeons are used in modern warfare for auxiliary communications and for pilots of airplanes whose radios go wrong. Parachute troops and military intelligence agents also need the courageous feathered messengers.

Very few are downed by gunfire, the sergeant says, but a good many are killed by hawks and cats. He declares that with the best of food and care a pigeon will serve the Army and the nation for as long as 10 years.

Bronkhorst is equally enthusiastic in his work as an instructor in bayonet practice. He acquired his skill with the steel weapon while serving in the Dutch army and majored in its use in the A. E. F. He is especially proud of his bayoneteers in the squads at Fort Sam Houston.

I have never seen anything handy with the bayonet but he like them, he says. These men are just superior, and that's all there is to it. I've seen bayonet fighters of all races but none will be able to stand up against these American boys.

New Tobacco Variety Resists Blackshank

Tobacco seed of a new variety which is resistant to blackshank disease are now being distributed through the Tobacco Branch Experiment Station at Oxford, it is announced by Dr. L. D. Bayer of N. C. State College, director of the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station. Sales are restricted to one ounce per farm.

Dr. Bayer said that the new variety of tobacco was developed cooperatively by the Experiment Station, the N. C. Department of Agriculture and the Tobacco Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The plant breeding experiments were conducted under the leadership of Dr. James F. Bullock and Dr. E. G. Moss of the Oxford Station over a period of 12 years.

The seed are being released under the name, "Blackshank Resistant Tobacco, Strains 1, 2, 3, and 4." The research director emphasized that Strains 1, 2 and 3 are adapted to conditions wherever blackshank occurs, but Strain 4 is adapted only to Old Belt soils where wrappers are grown.

"Blackshank is one of the most destructive tobacco diseases known," Dr. Bayer declared. "It first appeared in 1929 on the farm of T. M. Lewis in Forsyth County. Experiments which led to the development of the resistant variety were started on Mr. Lewis' farm in 1930.

"Blackshank is widespread now in Forsyth, Guilford, Rockingham and Stokes counties, and is also present in Surry, Yadkin, Caswell, Person and Pitt counties. It is continuing to spread each year into new counties.

"It is especially fortunate," said Dr. Bayer, "that a resistant variety was developed before it gained more headway. At the present time, it is recommended that this variety is grown only on blackshank infested soil."

To Deduct Victory Tax on This Week's Payrolls

Washington, Dec. 30.—The Treasury, it was learned authoritatively today, has ruled that the new Victory tax must be withheld from all wages and salaries paid in January, even though part or all of the money was earned this month.

In other words, a man paid monthly on the first of the month will find a Victory tax nick taken out of his pay envelope this Friday, despite the fact that he worked for the money in December. The same is true of all salaries paid on Friday.

The Treasury ruling was based on the language of the law which says "there shall be levied, collected and paid for each taxable year beginning after Dec. 31, 1942, a Victory tax of 5 per cent. Upon the Victory tax net income of every individual."

Wages and salaries received in 1943 are to be considered "income" for 1943 under the ruling, regardless of the period in which they were earned.

Two members of the Senate Finance Committee, active in the drafting of the new tax bill, declared the ruling ran counter to Congressional intent.

"It was the intention of Congress, I know, to base the tax on 1943 earnings," said Senator Byrd (D-Va.). "I'd be in favor of clarifying it, and applying the tax to income earned in the next year. Suppose a man was paid his income on a quarterly basis, and received a quarter's income next month."

Senator Danaher (R-Conn.) said there was "no slightest doubt" that the act provides that the Victory tax withholding deduction from salaries should apply to income commencing Jan. 1943.

"The apparent incongruity between the act and the Treasury's ruling which calls for a deduction on income received, even though not earned, in January, may be justified only on grounds of expediency;

Almond Irene

When Irene got home from the airplane factory she was good and tired. This was the hour, after work and before dinner, that she always looked forward to. Her private name for it was "My sissy hour." Into it, these days, she packed all the lazy, luxurious little things she loved—things that used to take up a lot more than an hour of her peace-time days.

She sat down at the little desk in her room. You could tell quite a lot about Irene from that desk. The water-glass filled with the small bouquet of flowers she sometimes bought on the way home. The paper-weight of pink marble. The thin, crackly blue air-mail stationery. And the big, framed photograph of a young man in a corporal's uniform—as good-looking a man as Irene was pretty. On the blotter pad lay the telegram that had come that morning just as she was leaving for work.

With those long, well-shaped fingers she reached for a sheet of paper. She nibbled the end of her pen for a bit, and then she wrinkled up her nose at the picture of the soldier and began to write, "Dear Mr. Morgenstau", but the corporal's name was her round handwriting spread across the page. "My boy friend is with the A.E.F. in Ireland. He has cabled me fifty dollars with which to buy a diamond ring. I've been thinking it over and decided to buy a War Bond to help Uncle Sam instead. This may help to bring my boy friend home sooner, and then he can help me select my ring."

Slowly she began to sign her name. "Irene"
