Farmville Club Active ... Even On The Walk

Miss Bettie Joyner Hostess to Garden Club. The Garden Club met with Miss Bettie Joyner, at the home of Mrs. S. G. Gardner, on January 1st. Mrs. E. F. Gaynor, president, presided at this time. The meeting was opened with the singing in unison of the club song.

An instructive discourse on the subject, "Feeding Birds in Winter," was given by Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, program leader. After adjournment the hostess assisted by Mrs. S. G. Gardner, served a delectable, sweet course with coffee.

Junior Woman's Club. The Junior Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden, on Thursday night, with Miss Margaret Smith and Mrs. Robert Monk hostesses.

Mrs. M. E. Pollard, president, presided over a business session, which included a report on the North Carolina Clubwoman by Mrs. L. E. Willford, and a report by Mrs. LeRoy Parker, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, on the proceeds from the sale of Victory Corsets.

After adjournment a marshmallow salad, crax, pickles and coffee was served. Special guests were Miss Perkins and Mrs. Cherry Easley.

Victory Setback Club Meets. Mrs. R. L. Joyner, Jr., graciously entertained the Victory Setback Club on Wednesday. The Valentine motif was effectively carried out in decorations and tallies.

Mrs. C. L. Ivey, guest high scorer, and Mrs. Frank Williams, club high scorer, were awarded Defense Stamps. Coca-Colas and nuts were served during play and a sweet course, when cards were laid aside.

U. D. C. Meeting. Mrs. A. C. Monk, Sr., was hostess to the U. D. C. at her home on Church Street, on Friday, January 8.

Mrs. C. E. Moore, president, presided and led the group in the usual opening of the U. D. C. Ritual and Pledges to the Flag. In absence of the newly elected treasurer, Mrs. T. W. Lang, Mrs. W. M. Willis gave the report. The Memorial Committee submitted a Resolution of respect for Mrs. J. Y. Monk, Sr., which was read by the president.

Mrs. R. D. Rouse gave a splendid program based on, "Pioneer Women of U. D. C." Miss Betsy Willis Jones, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. M. V. Jones, beautifully rendered several selections on her violin.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. E. O. Turnage and Miss Betsy Jones served delicious cake topped with cream, cheese straws and nuts.

Special guests were Mrs. M. V. Jones, Mrs. B. O. Turnage and Miss Jones.

Stag Bridge. John Lewis entertained guests at two tables of bridge on Saturday night. The consolation prize, cigar hands went to Lath Morris. Dr. W. M. Willis was high scorer.

Coca Colas, crax and relishes were passed during play. Guests of Mr. Lewis were; Dr. W. M. Willis, R. D. Rouse, Arthur Joyner, Sr., M. V. Jones, J. H. Moore, Lath Morris and Will Joyner.

Wednesday Afternoon Club. Lovely Japanese quince made a sprightly setting for the Wednesday Afternoon Club, meeting at the home of Mrs. R. L. Smith.

Coca-Colas were served the guests upon arrival and a sweet course, nuts and coffee after play. Mrs. Harry Harper scored high for club members and was awarded Defense Stamps.

Mrs. M. V. Horton tallied high for guests and was presented dainty handkerchiefs. Special guests of the hostess were; Mrs. J. Alma Bynum, Mrs. Frank Allen and Mrs. Edison Moore.

Mrs. Bobbitt Hostess to New Deal Club. The New Deal Club had a delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt on Wednesday afternoon.

Handsome arrangements of gladioli made a setting for the four tables of club members and special guests. Gifts of crystal were presented the high and low scorers; Mrs. W. K. Burke, high score for club, Mrs. Pat Ruffin, high score for guests.

Mrs. P. E. Jones low for club and Mrs. George Monk, low for guests. The hostess served a delectable salad course.

Special guests were; Mrs. Pat Ruffin, Mrs. George Monk, Mrs. J. W. Joyner, Mrs. Arthur Joyner, Mrs. Wesley Willis, Mrs. W. Leslie Smith, Mrs. Zeb Whitburn and Mrs. W. M. Willis.

Merry Matrons. Mrs. A. C. Monk, Sr., was hostess on Tuesday of this week to the Merry Matrons. Unusual arrangements of picadilly, gladioli and spring flowers gave added pleasure to the interesting meeting.

The president, Mrs. R. A. Fields, presided. Mrs. Alton W. Bobbitt, program chairman, gave the members a "Musical Trip Around the World," which was beautifully illustrated in selections by Miss Nellie Butler, who was accompanied by Mrs. M. V. Jones.

The hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. G. E. Moore, Sr., Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., and Mrs. Robert T. Monk, served a frozen salad, ham biscuits, pickles, crax and coffee, after adjournment.

Woman's Club. Mrs. J. M. Wheelers and Mrs. J. H. Harris were hostesses to the Woman's Club on January 8th, at the home of Mrs. Wheelers.

Mrs. Jesse Moye, president, presided and said the Literary Club and Junior Woman's Club would cooperate with the Woman's Club in a one day canvas in April for the Cancer Control drive. The members reported amount of Red Cross sewing and knitting done during the past month.

The topic for the program was Fine Arts, interestingly given by Miss Annie Perkins. She said the mention of Fine Arts usually brought to mind a great painting or music, or a building, but she had chosen a finer art—one that embraced all arts—the Fine Art of Living.

As an example, she gave the story of Grace Noll Crowell, whose motto, as a child even, was to make things glitter. She has received many honors, among them Poet Laurette, of Texas, and in 1938 was acclaimed the most outstanding American Mother.

Miss Perkins read several of her poems, which are inspirations to women to do the best they can in the places they are put. A delicious sweet course, with coffee, was served.

Mrs. R. W. Rader was a welcome guest.

REV. TAYLOR GIVEN TRIP TO CALIFORNIA

The Rev. Key W. Taylor, pastor of the Walstonburg and Bell Arthur Methodist Churches, returned from Conference to his former pastorate. Members of the two churches in appreciation of his devoted services joined in giving him a trip to his home town, Compton, Calif., where he has not visited in five years. He will return from his trip of five weeks in time for services at the Bell Arthur Church on Sunday, January 17th.

THE BIRD CLUB

Bobby Russell was a welcome visitor to the meeting of the Bird Club Saturday and read an article on the Wood Duck, which was written by H. H. Brimley, State Bird Club President. According to Mr. Brimley, this bird is unquestionably the most beautiful member of the Duck family and occurs all over the State, but more plentifully in the coastal plain region. To prevent its complete annihilation, Fisheries and Wild Life placed it on the fully protected list with no open season. Due to this protective measure Wood Ducks are again to be found in our Eastern counties.

Wood Ducks nest in hollow trees, usually in or near water. The nest is deeply lined with down which the female bird plucks from her breast, and there are about a dozen eggs. If the nest is discovered the young birds scatter in one direction while the mother simulating injury, goes in the opposite direction, thus giving the young birds a chance to disappear by dying.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

Whereas, on December 11, 1942, God in His wise providence called to His Heavenly Home our beloved member, Mrs. Reide Lang Monk, thus bringing to a close an earthly life which had been spent in the interest of her family, church and community, and

Whereas, we, the members of the Rebecca Winbourn Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, realize that in her passing we have lost a member whose loyalty, long service and unsparring contributions we shall greatly miss and the memory of whose friendship we shall always cherish; therefore be it

Resolved: That while we yield to the vital and wisdom of our God, yet it is with sorrowing hearts that we part with this faithful member; and be it

Resolved: That the Rebecca Winbourn Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy tender here in their sincere sympathy to the family of Mrs. Monk; and be it

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of Mrs. Monk and that the secretary be instructed to record them in the minutes of the Rebecca Winbourn Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

MISS ANNIE PERKINS, MRS. W. M. WILLIS, MRS. J. W. PARKER, Memorial Committee.

WEEKS-JOYNER WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Anna Florence Joyner, of Farmville and Baltimore, Md., and Dr. Theodore Willard Weeks, Jr., of Moore Haven, Fla., was solemnized Wednesday afternoon, December thirtieth, in the Calvary Methodist Church in Baltimore.

The bride wore ash blue with doulonal accessories and her flowers were white gardenias. She had as her maid of honor Miss Nancy Leo, of Cumberland and Baltimore. She wore old rose with black accessories and white gardenias.

Dr. William Hite, of Nashville, Tenn., was best man. The vows were spoken by the ring ceremony with Rev. J. G. Hooker officiating.

As the bride entered the Church Miss Lois Andrews, organist, played "Here Comes The Bride." During the ceremony "Oh Promise Me," "Because" and "I Love You Truly" were softly played.

Mrs. Weeks is the only daughter of Mrs. Carrie Belle Joyner, of Farmville, and the late Samuel Rufus Joyner.

She is a graduate of the Winterville High School and received her B. S. degree from the Rocky Mount Sanitorium School of Nursing. Since that time she has held positions at Pitt General Hospital in Greenville, Edgecombe General Hospital in Tarboro, Parrott Hospital in Kinston and at the time of her marriage the City Hospital in Baltimore.

Dr. Weeks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Weeks, of Moore Haven, Fla. He received his education at Moore Haven High School, University of Florida and Duke Medical School in Durham, N. C. For the past six months he has been connected with the City Hospitals in Baltimore.

After a short wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and Farmville, North Carolina, Dr. and Mrs. Weeks will make their home in Baltimore, Md.

TO A STRANGER

You a stranger—no, I have known you all my life. You are a part of me—For we had the same earthly girth; We have the same earthly needs, food, shelter and drink; We share the same longings for understanding and companionship; We share the same knowledge of our frailness; And each of us, all our lives, seek solace and a firm foundation. You are a part of me that I need—And there is a part of me that I must give to you, A stranger—no—my brother. Grace S. Carraway.
