Clubs Have Timely Talks

D. A. R.

The Major Benjamin May Chapter, D. A. R., held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson with Mrs. T. E. Joyner as joint hostess. Flowering shrubs were in pleasing arrangements throughout the home.

Mrs. Williamson presided and Mrs. C. S. Eagles, the chaplain, conducted the devotional. Mrs. M. V. Jones gave the financial report.

As a contribution to the War effort, each member decided to donate blood, or money for its purchase, or both. Miss Tabitha M. DeVisconti was requested to communicate with Mrs. E. C. Gregory, Red Cross State D. A. R. chairman, for further information on this subject. The sum of seven dollars was collected for the Plasma Bank Fund. Mrs. C. S. Eagles secured the names of some of the members in service as part of her work on the historical committee.

For various reasons relating to transportation, etc., the Chapter decided to dispense with the February meeting. Hostesses for the March meeting will be Mrs. D. R. Morgan and Mrs. Haywood Smith. During the period devoted to study, Miss Tabitha M. DeVisconti presented an original paper on "Australia, The Land Down Under," giving a history of the commonwealth and the very vital part it is taking in this war.

A delicious salad course with coffee and nuts was served by the hostesses during the social hour.

Literary Club

An interesting meeting of the Literary Club was held Wednesday with Mrs. J. W. Joyner as gracious hostess. Hawthorne, First Breath of Spring, yellow bell and pansies were used with pleasing effect in the home on North Main street.

Mrs. H. Neal Howard presided and announced the program, which was featured with a talk based on Jan Struthers' book, "Women of England," by Mrs. Alfred B. Moore. Mrs. Moore pictured the bravery and heroism of the English women under the stress and strain of the Battle of Britain.

Miss Tabitha M. DeVisconti gave a report of results of the local Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale, sponsored by the Literary Club under her supervision. The proceeds amounted to $281.78. Miss DeVisconti expressed gratification at the response of the community to this cause. Members in a signed statement at this time expressed their preference for a State bird, which is now under consideration by the State Garden Club.

An assortment of tasty cookies, cheese straws, and knick knacks were served with Russian tea during a delightful social hour. Special guests of the hostess were Mrs. F. M. Davis, Mrs. Agnes Blount, Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Miss Edna Robinson and Mrs. G. Alex Rouse.

Progressive Bridge Club

Members of the Progressive Bridge Club enjoyed an afternoon of contract with Mrs. J. H. Darden as hostess at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden, on Thursday. Early spring flowers were used as a setting for the tables.

Mrs. G. M. Holden, winning high score, was awarded War Savings stamps.

Following several progressives, the hostess served a variety of sandwiches, cookies and hot tea.

Contract Club

A delightful meeting of the Contract Club was held Tuesday with Mrs. T. E. Joyner as hostess. Mrs. K. T. Williams shared with members in pleasures of the afternoon.

Compiling high score, Mrs. M. V. Horton was presented War Savings Stamps, and a similar prize was awarded Mrs. M. V. Jones, who held low score.

A hostess plate, containing pastries and sweetmeats, was placed on each table, and hot tea was served also by the hostess. The Joyner home had as a setting for the tables a variety of early spring bloom.

Home Demonstration Club The Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the club building. Mrs. J. H. Bynum presided over a short business session, during which plans were made for this group to serve supper to service men at their regular Sunday night get-together at the Woman's Club in Greenville, on Feb. 14.

The day's program was featured by an instructive talk on "The Farm Family Plans For The Home Front," by Miss Verona Lee Joyner, County Home Demonstration Agent.

During the pleasant social hour club members and visitors enjoyed contests and conversation around a blazing fire in the huge fireplace.

Assorted sandwiches, minis, salted nuts and hot coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. H. Bynum and Mrs. B. E. Fields.

When Governor, Conn., entered the Victory Book Campaign to collect books for the men in service, a goal of 10,000 books was set, but in spite of unmeasurable weather, 18,000 were collected, an average of two books for every five residents.

Vows Taken In Christ Church, Elizabeth City, Saturday, January 16

Elizabeth City, Jan. 16.—The marriage of Mrs. Jasper Leroy Shackelford, of Farmville and Elizabeth City, and George Alexander Rouse, of Farmville, Editor of The Farmville Enterprise, was solemnized in Christ Church, Elizabeth City, at seven o'clock on Saturday evening, January 16, in a ceremony characterized by dignity and simplicity. Rev. G. F. Hill, rector of the Church, officiated, using the ring ritual.

The Church was decorated with palms. Candles burned in the candleabra and the altar vases held white gladioli.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Byrd Kramer Barrett, organist, who played Wagner's "To An Evening Star," and "Liebestraum" by Liszt. The choir sang "Oh Perfect Love," and Mrs. W. P. Duff and Mrs. J. W. Foreman rendered "The Want of You," by Vanderpool, as a duet. The traditional wedding marches were used and MacDowell's "To A Wild Rose" was played during the ceremony.

Mrs. John B. Wright, Jr., of Raleigh, was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a dress in amber-spice shade and a matching hat in tailored mode. Her corsage was of Souvenir roses. Mr. John B. Wright, Jr., was best man.

The bride wore a brown crepe dress with sapphire trim and embroidery of gold and pearl beads. Her hat was a brown feather toque. Accessories were brown and her corsage was of Talisman roses and acacia.

Mrs. Rouse, daughter of the late McDonald and Mrs. Lillie Askew Horton of Farmville, and widow of the late Jasper Leroy Shackelford, is well known in press circles of North Carolina, having been Associate Editor of The Enterprise for twelve years and correspondent for the News and Observer and other publications of this State and Virginia for a corresponding period, writing under the name, Eva Horton Shackelford. At the time of her marriage she was a member of the staff of the Daily Advance here.

Editor Rouse is the son of the late Alexander N. and Mrs. Nannie Friar Rouse, of Nashville. He chose the printing industry as his vocation early in life and accepted the position of Editor and Manager of The Enterprise soon after it was founded in 1910 and purchased the newspaper and commercial printing plant a few years later. He has served also as secretary-treasurer of the Farmville Building and Loan Association for the past twenty years and is retiring president of the district.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wright, Jr., entertained at a dinner party at the Virginia Dare Hotel honoring Editor and Mrs. Rouse.

Guests were; Editor and Mrs. Rouse, Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Hill, Editor and Mrs. Herbert Peels and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred B. Houts.

Upon their return to Farmville, Editor and Mrs. Rouse will be at home at 208 West Church street.

THE KNITTERS BRIGADE

Password: Knit One; Purl Two

In an interview this morning Mrs. J. W. Joyner, knitting chairman of the local Red Cross work room, expressed pleasure at the splendid response of knitters here to the call sent out recently by her branch. She reported eleven sweaters delivered last week and eight ready to turn in to headquarters at present.

Turtleneck sweaters, which, on account of their bulkiness are unpopular with knitters, are on the needed list just now. Mrs. Joyner, Mrs. J. O. Pollard and Mrs. El Ramey have proved that they can be started and finished by one person contrary to Mrs. H. Neal Howard's belief that this was impossible. We understand that Mrs. Howard has been given fresh hope in this regard and is now engaged in "carrying on" with her task.

Mrs. Robert Rouse and Miss Margaret Lewis have formed a partnership on turtleneck and are making fine headway. Joint knitting on this model seems to be winning approval and since four or five more are needed to complete Farmville's assignment, it has been suggested that this method be followed.

Round needles for knitting scarfs, 15 of which have been assigned to Farmville, will be available at El Ramey's store, Saturday, together with wool and instructions. Volunteers are requested to obtain these materials and instructions at once.

By the way, whenever the El Ramey name is brought up within earshot of a Red Cross worker, praise comes forth instantaneously and in highest terms, for it seems that Mrs. El Ramey in addition to working untiringly in the sewing room and knitting at home, has rendered invaluable service in assisting knitters in various ways, while Mr. El Ramey has been kept busy blocking sweaters. In fact all the sweaters that have been sent from the Farmville group, with the exception of those blocked for individuals by Rollins, Cleaners and Dyers, have been done by this willing and faithful worker.

We see in the papers and hear over the phone that knitting parties are in vogue now, with the hostess providing only comfortable chairs and light refreshments, usually a bottle of pop, and the guests entertaining themselves, not by gossiping or bidding snobs but by knitting one and purling two.
