The devotional was read by Mrs. Frank Williams. Mrs. Leland Day discussed three chapters of the book, "Stewardship in the Life of Women" by Helen Wallace. Mrs. Day very specifically called attention to the principles found in the teachings of the Bible in regard to Christian stewardship.

The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, jonquils and forsythia predominating.

CLUBS MEET IN SEWING ROOM

The American Legion Auxiliary and the Junior Woman's Club held their meetings on Thursday of last week in the Red Cross Sewing Room and helped with the work on hospital gowns.

In a short business session of the American Legion, during which the president, Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt presided, thank you letters from the Boys at Oteen were read and also from the Veterans at the Fayetteville Hospital in appreciation for the seventeen pillows recently sent them from the local Auxiliary.

Refreshing coco-colas were served with wafers and nuts by the hostesses, Mrs. J. H. Bynum, Mrs. J. L. Creech and Mrs. B. F. Weaver.

The Junior Woman's Club members met their hostess, Mrs. David Harris, in the City Drug Co., prior to proceeding to the Sewing Room, and were served fountain drinks and salted peanuts served in individual nut cups.

GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. E. L. Barrett was gracious hostess to members of the Garden Club on Monday.

Mrs. E. F. Gaynor, President, presided and read a letter from Miss Isabelle Busbee, Horticulture Chairman of the State Garden Club, urging all to plant Victory Gardens thereby having the vitamins that will help lead us to victory; also one from Mrs. Karl Bishop, State Chairman of the Woman's Division of the War Savings Staff, relative to the purchase of War Stamps and Bonds.

Mrs. R. W. Rader gave a request from Mrs. W. A. Allen for shrubs to plant the lot on the corner of Church and Walnut Streets which will be used for the young children and their nurses. Several members offered to donate trees and shrubs.

Miss Tabitha M. Devisconti gave a paper on Conservation, stressing the saving of the soil from erosion; the woods from fire; the protection of wildlife and native woodland, trees, shrubs and flowers.

Jonquils and Hyacinths were used in the decoration and hot tea, sandwiches, cookies, pickles and nuts were served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Miss Dora May Barrett.

MERRY MATRONS

Mrs. LeRoy Rollins charmingly entertained the Merry Matrons and other guests, Miss Edna Robinson, Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, Mrs. Bennett Fields and Mrs. Lillian H. Kholos, on Tuesday.

Mrs. W. R. Willis spoke interestingly on the Romance of Quilts, discussing patterns of patchwork and applique quilts and tufted home-spon counterpanes which were used from 1400 to 1915. Mrs. Willis illustrated her talk by displaying quilted helpings belonging to Mrs. Bennett Fields, Mrs. Dora Keel, Mrs. Marjorie Self, Mrs. J. W. Parker, and Miss Tabitha DeVisconti as well as items of her own.

Gladioli, jonquils and potted azaleas enhanced the beauty of the home, and during the social hour, the hostess served a delicious sweet course of home made ice-cream and black chocolate cake.

Additional to the members, guests included Mrs. J. H. Paylor, Mrs. Zeb Whitehurst and Mrs. P. Ruffin.

SCHMIDT-WHITE VOWS TAKEN

Former Farmville Resident Wed in Canal Zone

The marriage of Mrs. Emma Lee Worsley White, of Coohi, Canal Zone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Worsley of Rocky Mount, and August T. Schmidt of Balboa, Canal Zone, was solemnized on Saturday evening, March thirteenth, at half after seven o'clock at the Balboa Union church. The Reverend Emmon Earl Goddard, pastor, officiated.

Quantities of pink and white roses, imported from Costa Rica, and pink frangipani were used at the chancel. Webb Henrie sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Vivian Stutsman, church organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert C. Worsley. She wore a gown of blue net with bodices of silk brocade and a Juliet cap of flowers and tulle. She carried a choicer bouquet of orchids and gardenias.

Miss Arline White, young daughter of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a frock of pink net made similar to her mother's.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the ballroom of the Hotel Tivoli for relatives and intimate friends.

For the past two years Mrs. Schmidt has made her home in Coohi, Canal Zone, where she held a position with the government. Mr. Schmidt is also employed by the government in Balboa. He and his bride will reside at 780 Tavernilla street in Balboa.

Prior to going to the Canal Zone, Mrs. Schmidt made her home in Farmville with her sister, Mrs. R. T. Williams.

BURNETTE-BLALACK

Farmville Boy Weds Arizona Girl

Phoenix, Arizona, March 7, 1943.—Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Blalack announce the marriage of their daughter, Eleanor Ann, to Aviation Cadet Clay A. Burnette of Luke Field, Arizona.

The wedding ceremony was performed Saturday morning, March 6, at half after eight o'clock, at St. Mary's Church, with the Rev. Fryer Killian, O. F. M., as the officiant.

The bride wore a pastel yellow suit with dark blue accessories and a corsage of white roses. Her maid of honor, Gina Mottline, wore a dark blue suit and white accessories. A wedding breakfast was held immediately after the ceremony at the San Carlos French Cafe, and a reception at the home of the bride's parents, 1310 West Roosevelt street, was held at 7 o'clock last evening.

The bride is a graduate of Phoenix Union High School and attended a business school in Los Angeles. She is now a member of the office staff at the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation here.

Cadet Burnette is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Burnette of Farmville, N. C.

BIRD CLUB

Bird Protection in North Carolina was the study topic at Saturday's meeting of the Bird Club read by Johnny Barrett from "Birds of North Carolina," compiled by T. C. Pearson, C. E. Brimley and H. H. Brimley. Prior to 1903 no protection whatever was provided for non-game species as the fact that most of the wild birds were beneficial in their food habits was not yet recognized.

Anything that could fly was a tempting target for the man or boy who had a gun. The nighthawk which congregated in large numbers on summer evenings to get their evening meal of insects, was a favorite target of misguided sportsmen. More mercenary was the slaughter of gulls, terns, pelicans, eagles and egrets by the thousands to fill seemingly insatiable demands of the military trade for feathers and quills to decorate ladies' hats.

T. Gilbert Pearson, Zoology teacher at the State Normal and Industrial College (now the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina) at Greensboro, accepted the challenge in Pioneer Conservation in March 1902 and organized the Audubon Society of North Carolina. Full protection of non-game birds, non-resident hunting licenses and a system of game warden with the authority to enforce the provisions was enacted by the State Legislature on March 6, 1903 but it did not change local game seasons in the counties. In 1927 the first State-wide game conservation bill was passed. Today one of the most important agencies of the North Carolina government is the Department of Conservation and Development. It is administered by a trained executive force and maintains a law-enforcement body of 138 Game Protectors which engages in such educational work among hunters, farmers and others, in addition to carrying out the enforcement of the conservation laws. Through their plan in game management much is being done to develop food and cover for game birds. Through the Junior Audubon Clubs hundreds of colored pictures of birds have given elementary lessons in bird study to 44,356 members in the State. These have grown into positive factors for conservation.

For Garden Work

This simple, quick-to-put-on cotton sweater suit is designed for the woman who finds pleasure and profit working in the yard and growing a victory garden. It is one piece with surplus elastic, cut full for freedom of action. The legs of the suit can be buttoned around the ankles. Styled by the Bureau of Home Economics, its cotton construction provides coolness and easy laundering.

VICTORY GARDENS

(By Rufus Bellus)
There are millions of people living in this great land, Who've been eating of the foods That came out of old tin cans.

Now that they are rationing us, Just what can we folks do? We can have Victory Gardens, And get plenty of vegetables, too.

We'll plant cabbage, collards, onions, Tomatoes, cucumbers and beets, Corn, beans and potatoes And have lots of good things to eat.

We'll work our Victory Gardens To keep them nice and clean, And have some of the finest vegetables That you have ever seen.

All children can help their parents To save their dollars and cents, By working in Victory Gardens And cut down on living expense.

PHOSPHATE

To economize on shipping space, the major part of North American production of "concentrated" phosphate fertilizers has been allocated to the United Kingdom.
