Remember FATHER'S DAY

(By Grace Noel Crowell)
Too often he has gone unglorified. The Father of the family who stays hard at his tasks—a counselor and guide. Taken too much for granted through the days. Bearing too many burdens all alone. And sacrificing much that he may give. Pleasure and joy to those he calls his own. Longing for safety for them while they live. He asks so very little in return. Expects so little, and goes on his way. And yet at times I think that he must yearn. For more appreciation, why not say some loving word to make his heart glad? Tell him how much that you appreciate. His constant care, and say, "I love you, Dad." Oh, say it now, before it is too late!

U. D. C.
The Rebecca Winbourne Chapter, U. D. C., held its closing meeting of the chapter year on Friday afternoon of last week at the home of the hostess, Mrs. Haywood Smith, with twenty members present.

Mrs. C. E. Moore, President, presided and read a letter from the State President, urging all members to continue their activities in War Service work throughout the summer months and to be ever mindful of the other U. D. C. activities.

Members reported on hours spent this month in Post Observation and Red Cross work. Mrs. Moore asked that all remember to continue sending their magazines on to some near-by U. S. O.

Mrs. W. M. Willis gave a sketch of the lives of Jefferson Davis and
