Some men are like bad eggs. You do not discover they had until they are broke.

A man shouldn't leave powder on his coat. It is likely to explode if his wife touches it.

When you have a free choice why not help yourself to the best, as everybody else does?

Don't wait for opportunity to knock at your door. It is now operating on a cash and carry basis.

Flattery goes to a person's head just as a cold does for the reason the head is the weak spot.

His wife ran away with his chauffeur and he complained about how much he missed his good chauffeur.

When a man lives to be a 100 you wonder how. When he tells you, you wonder why.

Nature was considerate in not making man a four-footed animal. Think of the saving in shoes.

Marrying by long distance isn't safe. There's the possibility of getting the wrong number.

Simple Susie says she'll never marry for money. She might miss it and be left with a man on her hands.

It's a tendency of the tongue to exaggerate. It even makes a small cavity in a tooth feel large.

There are no signs of relief in the rubber situation so long as Ma has to make garters out of Pa's suspenders.

What's the origin of the Germans asks a reader. The Germans came from germs that should have been exterminated.

"There's no place like home" sighed the prisoner in his cell, "nor no home like this place" retorted his companion.

Soil Fertility A Pasture Problem

Soil fertility is the major problem in permanent pasture development in North Carolina, says Dr. R. L. Lovvorn, associate agronomist of the N. C. Experiment Station at State College.

Much of the pasture necessary for increased livestock production must come from lands that now very low in fertility, according to the agronomist. Such lands have been severely depleted through cropping and erosion and leaching has taken its toll of certain elements. These must be supplied through the use of lime and fertilizer, if good permanent pastures are to be established.

Tests show that at least one legume should be grown with the grasses if maximum growth is to be realized, says Lovvorn. The use of a legume in the sod has doubled the yield of Dallis grass during the month of April, when pasture is badly needed.

The grazing season was lengthened and the total yield of feed was increased. A well balanced program of grass-legume production, however, depends upon the fertility of the soil and the use of lime, manure, commercial fertilizers, and soil improving crops are recommended by the agronomist.

Lovvorn suggests that under the existing feed shortage, growers contact their county agents, study pasture development in their own immediate section, and make plans now for building excellent permanent pastures through proper seeding, careful fertilization, and the best methods of pasture management.

Permanent pastures furnish the cheapest feed crops that the farmer can grow and are absolutely essential in livestock development, according to the tests.

Experts Working On Granville Wilt

Tobacco seed from varieties resistant to Granville wilt will not be available for 1944 plantings because the strains now under test have not been thoroughly tried out for quality, says Howard R. Garrison, Extension plant pathologist at N. C. State College.

According to the pathologist, the Tobacco Experiment Station has developed some strains from a South American variety of tobacco that show a high degree of resistance to Granville wilt but they are not yet satisfied with the quality of the cured leaf.

The N. C. Experiment Station, in cooperation with the Bureau of Plant Industry, has been working on resistance to Granville wilt for several years but this season they are testing the strains in a number of sections throughout the belt. Just as soon as the desired quality is obtained, seed will be officially released.

Garrison says that the growers, who are cooperating in the tests, have been asked not to save any seed from the heads of plants resistant to Granville wilt.

He reports that if whole communities or areas should plant these seed it would be a bad proposition because they might wake up and find that they were growing tobacco of undesirable quality—a type of leaf not wanted by the buyers.

The experimenters say: "We would hate to kill the goose that laid the golden egg." In other words, seed cannot be officially released until desirable quality has been combined with resistance to the wilt.

Garrison calls attention to the fact that breeding for resistance to one disease does not mean that the strain will be resistant to all diseases. The only disease resistant varieties of fine cured tobacco now available for commercial use are the 400 variety, bred for resistance to black root rot, and Strains 1, 2, 3 and 4, bred for resistance to black shank.

REAL DISCOVERY FOR HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Dangerous High Blood Pressure (Essential Hypertension) is usually marked by distressing symptoms such as dizziness, throbbing headaches, sleeplessness and nervousness. If disregarded, this may lead to Heart Trouble, Stroke, Paralysis, Hardening of the Arteries or Kidney Trouble. Diamonex, discovery of a heart specialist, is designed to quickly aid in the relief of these distressing symptoms.

A Chicago resident says: "I suffered from High Blood Pressure for several years with increasingly throbbing headaches, dizziness and shortness of breath. I followed and, on his advice, tried treatment for two weeks under identical conditions as previous treatments. Within only three days my bad headaches and dizzy spells were gone. My high blood pressure was reduced and I sleep fine."

Diamonex goes directly to work in three different ways: to aid in the relief of these dangerous symptoms. Results are speedy—within as short a time as two weeks sufferers often find that Diamonex has accomplished 75% of the total reduction possible with this formula. If you suffer from High Blood Pressure you may try DIAMONEX without risking a penny. To introduce this wonderful treatment to a million new sufferers this liberal trial offer is made for a limited time only.

Send only $1.50 to the Diamonex Company, 318-A North Michigan Ave., Chicago, Illinois for a full TWO weeks supply of genuine DIAMONEX, provided the Diamonex according to the simple directions for only two weeks. If, at the end of that test period you are not delighted with results your money will be refunded immediately. There are no strings or conditions. There are no orders to make the remedy. You can't miss. Write today as this offer is truly guaranteed.

Silage Furnishes Economical Feed

Silage furnishes one of the best and most economical home-grown roughages for cattle and takes the place of green grass during the critical winter feeding period, says John A. Arey, Extension dairyman at N. C. State College.

Silage is economical because a large quantity of the feed can be grown on a limited acreage with a comparatively small amount of labor and because only a small loss is sustained during the harvesting and feeding operations.

If all of the silage is not fed during the winter months, it can be used during the dry periods in summer as a valuable supplement to grazing. Arey says that silage is a very necessary feed for dairy cows since it is a succulent and palatable food, and it also finds a place in the feeding program of producers of beef cattle.

The proper time to cut corn or sorghum for silage, according to the specialist, is when it contains the maximum amount of feed nutrients and at the same time enough moisture to make it pack well in the silo. Under the exceptionally dry conditions prevailing this summer, growers have been forced to add water in putting in their silage.

With corn, the grain should be denting and the stalk slightly yellow, when the crop is ready for the silo, Arey advises. This stage of maturity is reached about a week to ten days before the corn is ready to cut and shock. Sorghum should be cut until the seed in the head are firm.

HIDES

Greater care in skinning slaughtered cattle and in handling the hides will make more quality leathers available for pressing military needs, livestock specialists at N. C. State College reports.

Some of the top-flight officials in Washington are debating if John Lewis was given justice. Think not, for he is still out of jail.

and you'll always have tobacco in your old tobacco box!

WHEN I was a kid my father died to sing a song that ended up with this refrain:

"Oh, sure as you money and put it in your box. And you'll always have tobacco in your old tobacco box."

Well, the words stuck with me, but I guess the moral didn't.

No matter how hard I tried... I never seemed to be able to save up a cent.

But it's all different now!

About 10 months ago, I started buying War Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan. Figured it was the least I could do for Uncle Sam.

And that's the only way I thought about it... until just recently.

Now, all of a sudden, I've discovered that—for the first time in the history of Yours Truly—I'm not a dough. Every month, rain or shine, hell-or-high-water I'm sticking away a War Bond, a Bond that'll bring me back $4.00 for every $3.00 I put in.

Those Bonds are beginning to mount up now. And I'm going to keep them mounting up. For I've discovered what a swell feeling it is to be earning... on a plan that's regular as clockwork and twice as sure.

So I'm singing father's song a little different.

"Oh, sure as you War Bonds and put them in your box. And you'll always have tobacco in your old tobacco box."
