

STATE COLLEGE ANSWERS TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS

QUESTION: What is the best date for sowing Italian Rye Grass seed?

ANSWER: A successful growth of rye grass can be obtained over a wider range of seeding dates than in the case with most of the winter legumes, says Dr. E. R. Collins, in charge of Agronomy Extension at State College.

If planted with crimson clover, the planting date should be suitable for the clover. Crimson clover should never be planted except when the ground is moist, or the seed will germinate and die due to a lack of sufficient moisture.

War Series Bulletin No. 22, "Italian Rye Grass," will give detailed information on the growing of this crop. Write to the Extension Editor at State College for a free copy.

QUESTION: Why do my sliced apples for pies always shrink in canning and leave a space at the top of the jar?

ANSWER: This shrinkage is in all probability due to packing the apples in the jars raw, according to food conservation specialists of State College. The heat of canning drives the air out of the sliced apples and they settle in the jar as they become soft. This shrinkage can be reduced if the apples are precooked before being put into the jars.

QUESTION: What is the proper seeding rate for winter legumes?

ANSWER: The rate of seeding for winter legumes should be about as follows, according to E. C. Blair, Extension Agronomist at State College: Austrian Winter Peas — 25 pounds per acre drilled, 30 pounds broadcast; Vetch—20 pounds per acre drilled, and 25 pounds broadcast; and Crimson Clover—20 pounds per acre drilled, and 25 pounds broadcast. Use slightly more Crimson Clover seed when they are sown in the hull.

QUESTION: How should corn syrup and sorghum be used in replacing some of the sugar for canning fruits?

ANSWER: Sorghum syrup is not a good sweetener for fruits. Its flavor is apt to crowd out the delicate flavor of the fruit. You can use corn syrup, however, to replace one-third of the sugar in any fruit-canning recipe.

DISCHARGED MEN RETURN UNIFORMS

Many honorably discharged enlisted men of the Army are voluntarily returning this issued clothing to the Army, thereby saving clothing stocks, according to the War Department. Former soldiers desiring to return their uniforms should address a package to the commanding officer of the Army installation nearest their homes. The box should be marked "Attention: Quartermaster, Clothing and Equipment Classification Officer." Those who do not desire to pay the cost of transportation may return the clothing by turning over any properly addressed package, not over 30 pounds, to the nearest Railway Express Agency office for collection shipment at government expense.

DRUGGISTS CONTRIBUTE QUININE

With the compliments of the nation's druggists, more than 11 million five-grain doses of quinine are now on their way to join the war against malaria. Because seizure of the Netherlands East Indies cut off 90 percent of the source of quinine supply, the Army called upon the nation's druggists to make contributions. An appreciable quantity of the quinine donated was produced by Germany and Japan, and it now will assist in the war to defeat these nations.

BLIMPS HELP FISHERMEN

Navy blimps, on the lookout for enemy submarines and surface craft in northwestern waters, also are helping the war food program. Under an agreement worked out between the Office of the Coordinator of Fisheries and Vice Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher, Navy commandant in the Seattle area, blimps which sight schools of fish will communicate the news by short waves to fishing vessels. The patrolling blimps can easily spot schools of fish which might take fishermen hours to locate.

SEARCH FOR WAR MINERALS

The most extensive exploratory program ever undertaken in the United States and Alaska for war minerals has been launched by the Bureau of Mines. The Bureau is sending its crews out in quest of nearly a score of minerals needed to supply the armed forces, according to Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior. States in which exploration will be conducted are: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

MAKES HIGHEST PARACHUTE JUMP ON FIRST LEAP

WASHINGTON, D. C. — U. S. Army Official Photo—Suffering only a frozen hand caused by loss of one glove, which was caught by shroud lines when his parachute opened, Lt. Colonel William Randolph Lovelace, 24, made the highest parachute leap on record in this country—49,200 feet on his first jump. He made the leap to test emergency equipment. He was photographed, above, at the War Department.

Life raft and life boat on Army transport vessels are being protected from the effects of salt water by the same type of cover that protects pistols, rifles, and machine guns in landing operations. Curiously enough, the covers used for pistols are of exactly the right size for copies of the Bible, and have been adopted by the Chaplains Corps as a standard protective covering for them. The covers were developed by the Quartermaster Corps from a pliable, transparent, waterproof film known as vinyl. They are buoyant enough to float the Bibles if they are accidentally dropped overboard or washed out of the rafts in heavy seas.

PUBLIC MAY GET COPPER WIRE

The public may purchase copper wire without restriction from retailers, electricians, radio repair men and others who sell it. Under a new War Production Board regulation any retailer or repair man may order up to $100 worth of copper wire for delivery during any calendar quarter. Civilians must use this wire with care, WPB officials pointed out, as it will be needed to cover all essential repairs for general public use.

SOLDIERS OVERSEAS MAY BUY GIFTS

Soldiers overseas may order Christmas presents for their families and friends at home. A catalog of Christmas gift suggestions, prepared by the Army Exchange Service, has been sent to overseas units with instructions on how gifts may be ordered. The catalog lists several hundred gifts for men, women and children—all of them items for which soldiers have shown a marked interest in previous selections of gifts.
