Walstonburg School War Stamp and Bond Rally. In cooperation with the National Third War Bond Rally that is now in full swing throughout the nation, the Walstonburg School is sponsoring a War Stamp and Bond Rally of its own. We are trying to do our part in helping the nation in its effort to meet its quota of fifteen billion dollars and Greene County in its effort to meet its quota of two hundred and fifty-five thousand dollars. We are encouraging our pupils to buy as many stamps and bonds as possible, and asking them to encourage their parents and friends to do their part. The children are responding in a splendid way. Buy stamps and bonds and make it possible for your children to buy stamps and bonds in their name. Let's determine that we shall do our part to help our boys win the VICTORY. Back the attack by buying War Stamps and Bonds. The rally in our school will be brought to a close on Friday, October 1. On that date we plan to have a program in the school auditorium which will bring the rally to a close. The patrons are invited to the program and are asked to come and buy stamps and bonds. A bond salesman will be present to accommodate those wishing to purchase bonds. There will be a street parade and the official raising of the school flag. The honor of raising the flag for the first time will be given to a representative of the room buying the most stamps and bonds based on the enrollment of the room. So, buy stamps and bonds for your child so that his room will have the honor of raising the flag. Be sure and attend the final rally at the school on Friday, October 1, at 10:30 A. M. We will be looking for you.

STATE COLLEGE ANSWERS TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS

QUESTION: I notice that some of my hens stop laying early in the summer, while others continue until late in the fall, why is this? ANSWER: As summer advances and fall approaches, more and more hens begin their annual molt and quit laying eggs. Dr. C. H. Bostian, poultry breeding specialist with the State College Experiment Station says that those hens poorly developed by breeding will stop in early summer, while those with a high level of persistence will continue laying until late in the fall. QUESTION: What causes my figs to drop off before ripening? ANSWER: E. B. Morrow, horticulturist with the Experiment Station says the chances are you have a seedling of the Smyrna fig, these figs do not develop their fruits to maturity as a rule except when pollinated by the wild Caprifig. To get pollen from the Caprifig to the Smyrna a small insect which will not live in the South is needed. Morrow's advice is to replace your Smyrna fig tree with a Calimote or Brown Turkey variety. QUESTION: How should I store my sweet potatoes, in sacks, bulk or in rigid containers, as crates? ANSWER: Horticultural specialists at State College recommended using the rigid containers. They will lose much less from spoilage than will those in sacks or bulk. For example, studies have shown that the loss through shrinkage and spoilage amounts to 25 percent by weight during storage here in North Carolina, whereas those stored in crates lost only 5 percent.

ment in one or more of the following: production record and extent by which the county exceeded 1943 goals; overcoming adverse handicaps; extent of shifts to vital war crops; improvement in farm production efficiency; fuller use of land and labor resources. One award may be in each state with others in proportion to the state's ratio of the total U. S. farm population. Probably most of the awards will be made in November. A similar award will be made to seasonal food processors with outstanding production records.

CERTAIN SEEDS UNDER PRICE CONTROL

Buyer prices on processed and unprocessed seeds of alfalfa (Northern, central, and southern) red clover, alsike clover, sweet clover, and timothy have been restored to approximate levels paid last spring. At the same time, OPA has assured producer-farmers somewhat higher returns than last season, reflecting parity prices or better on sales of these seeds to them.

SAFEGUARD GOVERNMENT CHECKS

Despite repeated warning, records of the Bureau of Naval Personnel show a steady increase in the number of allotment and family allowance checks stolen or lost after delivery. To prevent loss, the following suggestions have been offered: (1) be sure your name is on your mail or door; (2) if you move, notify your postmaster and either the Allotment Division or the Family Allowance Division of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, Cleveland, Ohio.

CUT FOOTBALL TRAVEL

All school, college, and other football teams have been asked by the Office of Defense Transportation to confine the sale and distribution of tickets to the residents of the local area of the cities in which the games are to be played. By so restricting sales, ODT pointed out, football games can be held without increasing the already heavy load on intercity buses and trains.

GIVE SOLDIER'S SERIAL NUMBER

The public is asked to use a soldier's Army serial number in every case where inquiries are made to official agencies concerning either officer or enlisted personnel. Much time and material is wasted if the number is not given, according to the War Department.

OPA SETS GRAPE PRICES

Maximum prices for Concord grapes and California juice grapes have been set by OPA at levels substantially lower than prices that had prevailed. Meanwhile the War Food Administration allocated processed Concord grapes as follows: 60 percent for jams, jellies, and fruit butters; 20 percent for grape juice; and 20 percent in reserve for future allocations.

U. S. CASUALTIES TO DATE

Announced casualties of the United States Armed Forces from the outbreak of the war to date (whose next of kin have been notified) total 105,205, according to War and Navy Department reports. This total includes: dead, 20,104; missing, 23,226; missing 32,905; prisoners of war 23,970.

ONE CORPORAL GETS FIVE JAPS

An Army corporal, who failed to get the order to withdraw, recently killed five of an attacking eight-man Japanese patrol, then found to his astonishment that he had been left alone far in advance of his Marine companions. Corporal Henderson, whose home is in Cannonville, Utah, explained: "I figured they were still with me, so when the Japs came in sight I opened up with my tommy." After he had killed five of the Japs, the other three ran. It was then Corporal Henderson discovered he was alone. He spent the night in the jungle and walked in for chow the next day.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

While we have not heard so much about them, our air-borne command is inferior to none. We have thousands of these especially trained troops and the glider is a necessary factor in their successful operation.

We build gliders in three types and their capacity is a military secret. The type shown here weighs about 125,000 each. Buy War Bonds with at least ten percent of your income every payday and help pay for these gliders for our intrepid fighting men. U. S. Treasury Department

Next morning PX PROFITS EQUIP CHAPELS

Profits of $4,800 from Army Post Exchanges in Africa are being used to provide religious equipment for the Army's five permanent chapels there, the War Department has reported. The money, spent by American fighting men on soft drinks, candy, and cigarettes in the overseas PX's, is buying organs, hymnals, Bibles, and other religious supplies for all denominations.

ARMY SPENDS MILLION FOR RECREATION

The Army is spending more than a million dollars a month for recreation and athletic equipment for its fighting men at home and overseas, the War Department reports. Equipment is provided for the favorite outdoor sports of the fighting men, particularly baseball and football. Those preferring less active recreation have the choice of cards, dominoes, darts, chess, checkers, backgammon or bingo. Included among the purchases are musical instruments.

PURCHASE PERMITS FOR GASOLINE

Purchase permits instead of ration coupons will be issued for all special rations of 20 gallons of gasoline or less, according to a new OPA ruling, effective September 29. This enables boards to issue rations according to the applicant's exact needs and will be useful to servicemen on furlough travel.

ANTI-FREEZE NOW AVAILABLE

"Permanent types" of anti-freeze will be available for use in passenger automobiles throughout the nation beginning October 1, according to a recent WPB amendment of Limitation Order L-51.

MORE LEATHER FOR SHOE REPAIR

More leather will be available for repair of civilian shoes, as the result of a recent WPB order.
