Additional Sugar Given Beekeepers

J. Myron Maxwell, Extension Entomologist at State College, says that beekeepers in North Carolina will be allowed additional allotments of sugar as their need arises.

The first allotment is for 10 pounds per colony for those bees needing feeding. This amount may be had by making application to the local sugar rationing office, Maxwell says.

In some counties, the permits are issued at the time the application is made, and in others, the applications have to be approved by the rationing board.

An additional 15 pounds per colony will be given after filling out a slightly more detailed application at the sugar rationing office. This application must be delayed for action by the rationing board.

In addition to these allotments, a provision for an emergency grant has been made, the entomologist says. This allocation provides for 15 pounds of sugar more, and is granted only if the beekeeper proves that his bees will die if they do not get the additional sugar.

All applications for this sugar must be approved first by the County U.S.D.A. War Board and then submitted to the OPA rationing board.

Plan Farm Shop Construction Now

G. W. Giles, agricultural engineer of the State College Experiment Station, urges all North Carolina farmers to have repair shops on their premises in which to repair their farm machinery this winter.

He offers these suggestions as a help in the construction of the shops.

First, he says, there is no standard type of shop. It might be a corner in the barn, or a separate building. The important thing is to set aside a definite location that provides a place for every wrench and bolt. However, the ideal shop is one partitioned off at the end of the machine shed.

Eighteen by twenty feet is the perfect size floor space, as it must be great enough to permit the repair of any size of farm machinery during bad weather.

A stove is essential for the repair shop. Otherwise, a farmer could not work in it during cold weather, when it is necessary that he be getting his machinery ready for the spring rush.

The entrance door should be at least twelve feet wide, that is, so that it will accommodate any size farm machinery. It must have plenty of light to provide good light and ventilation.

TOWN AND FARM IN WARTIME

(Continued from page 1) Industry, the greatest source of heavy scrap is the American farm. Mr. Jones said: "American farmers are doing the greatest food production job in history. However, if we are to insure ample steel for wartime production, millions of tons of scrap iron and steel must come from our farms in the next six weeks."

Fire Help For Truck Owners. Truck owners who have tire rationing certificates but are unable to get tires because local quotas are used up and those operators unable to get ration certificates because of depletion of quotas soon may get help through the Office of Defense Transportation. Instructions on procedure for reporting such cases soon will be ODT will clear shortages with the Office of the Rubber Director in an issued to the 142 ODT district managers. After cases are reported effort to get the necessary tires.

Corn Prices Set. Maximum prices for white ear corn are 2 1/2 cents per bushel less than shelled yellow or white corn of like quality and grade, under a recent OPA ruling. White snapped corn is 3 1/2 cents per bushel less. The Commodity Credit Corporation will continue to pay the corn producer for any advances in the maximum price of corn, through December 31, 1943.

Report On Third War Loan. Final figures for the Third War Loan showed $18,943,000,000 worth of bonds sold. Under Secretary of the Treasury Daniel W. Bell reported recently. Sales to individuals, the first objective of the drive, exceeded the five million dollar quota by $77 million dollars.

Extra Ration Points For Some. Persons who reside in remote areas and are unable to obtain their minimum nutritional requirements of fresh milk will be eligible to receive extra ration points to purchase additional amounts of rationed meats, fats, and dairy products, according to OPA.

Use Synthetic Rubber For Elastic Thread. Synthetic rubber may eventually be used in garters, suspenders, foundation garments, and underwear. All restrictions on the manufacture of elastic thread made with synthetic rubber have been suspended by WPB until April 1, 1944.

Irrigate More Farm Land. War food production will be increased materially by 1945 through the extension of irrigation service to nearly 800,000 acres of land on 13 Bureau of Reclamation projects in Arizona, California, Oregon, Colorado, Idaho, South Dakota, Utah, and Washington, the Secretary of the Interior announced recently.

More Pains For Civilians. Civilian requirements for essential paints and varnishes will be more nearly met as a result of the recent amendment of Food Distribution Order 42, the WPB has reported. The order increased from 50 percent to 60 percent the amount of drying oils that can be consumed in paints, varnishes, and lacquers.

56 Prisoners Of War Camps. More than 140,000 prisoners of war are now held in 56 permanent camps in the U. S., the War Department has reported. The ratio of Germans to Italians is approximately three to one. In addition to the permanent camps, there are many temporary ones set up to house prisoners in areas with labor shortages. Agricultural work done by prisoners includes harvesting fruit, tomatoes, potatoes, peanuts, cotton, sugar beets, and corn. Only a few prisoners have escaped and every one of them has been recaptured in a few hours.

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky responded for the states from which the workers came. Maine's potato crop this year reached an estimated 71 million bushels. This is 70 percent above normal and 15 percent of the country's total potato crop.

FAS Borrowers Repay Loans. Families buying farms under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act have repaid 28 percent more on their loans than the proportion necessary to pay out in full over the 40-year period, the War Food Administration has stated. These payments "ahead of schedule" are the result of a variable payment plan followed by 77 percent of the borrowers. Under this plan families are billed for smaller than average amounts in poor years, but are billed for larger than average payments when good incomes justify it.

Grade Eggs For Highest Prices

A practical, homemade egg candler can be easily made by boring a one-inch hole in the side of a wooden box and putting a 40 to 50 watt light bulb in the box, says T. T. Brown, Extension poultry specialist at State College.

Under the OPA ceiling prices, a grower can get about 15 cents a dozen more for graded eggs and this can easily be done on the farm. Eggs which are well handled will almost always measure up to the Grade A standard for interior quality, according to Brown.

In candling eggs, the poultry specialist explained that the large ends of the eggs should be placed against the hole in the box with the small end tilted down. Twirl the egg before the light and then quickly shift it so as to bring the small end before the light. Any blood spots in the egg will usually show up plainly.

After the eggs have been candled, they should then be divided into sizes. A pair of small egg scales will be of great assistance in doing this job.

For detailed information on official grading of eggs, Brown suggests that the grower get in touch with the county agent or write the Poultry Department, State College, Raleigh.

"Poultrymen can turn their spare minutes into dollars by candling and grading their eggs at home," Brown says.
