To the People of this Community

Take a tip from your favorite retail merchant. His Christmas counters are stocked for the first time since 1918 with commodities you dreamed about in the darkness of war. Had you and his employees will go the limit today in telling you for your own good to buy something else? First.

As a war-wise thrifty American you need not be told that the name of this product is Victory Bond, that it can never be worth less than you pay for it, that it will return $4 for every $3 invested when held to maturity 19 years hence, that it is your personal servant at the same time it is serving your country's current needs, that it will assure you not only a merry Christmas this year but help to make Christmas merry in the years to come. Your merchant knows a great product. That's why he is putting every effort to stuff the Christmas stockings of this community with extra Victory Bonds.

IN "CIVVIES"

It did one's heart good to see Archie Cayton in his "Civvies", Monday, walking up and down the street shaking hands with everybody and declaring that he felt that he was at home at last. In remarking on the strange feel of his civilian attire, he said his hat was going to be the most difficult to become accustomed to as he felt all the time as if he were under a porch roof.

It was in December of last year that we received news that Archie had been wounded in Germany, and then after several anxious days that he was recuperating from a foot injury in a hospital in England.

This Christmas will find many hearts gladdened by the return of loved ones and we know the Archie Cayton home will be filled with the radiance of pure joy and that the benediction of peace will rest upon its portals at last.

The freezer locker plant at New Bern is considering the freezing of asparagus next year. It has been suggested that 30 families plant 1/2 acre each.

The basic answer to farm prosperity is found in high domestic consumption and a healthy export market, says J. B. Hutson, Under Secretary of Agriculture.

Brushing with a medium-stiff brush is better than rubbing those extra-soiled places on delicate fabrics, when washing by hand, say Extension Service home economists.

At a recent sale of purebred Guernsey heifers at Siler City in Chatham County, many of the animals went to 4-H club members at an average price of about $150 a head.

With the exception of one year, the U. S. Cotton crop is the smallest since 1899.

Headquarters of the Rural Electrification Administration are being moved back to Washington after a sojourn at St. Louis, Mo., during the war.

The farmer received about 40 cents of the consumer's food dollar in pre-war years. In 1943 he got 52 cents out of that dollar. What about the future?
