CLUBS AND PARTIES

Junior Woman's Club

Mrs. Frank K. Allen was hostess to the Junior Woman's Club and additional guest, Mrs. George Allen, on Tuesday afternoon. Ivy and greenery was used in pleasing decoration for the meeting.

During the business session, over which Mrs. R. T. Williams, the president, presided, plans were discussed for the sponsoring of a bridge tournament in February, and final plans were made for the President's Ball, which will be given Jan. 31, at the Country Club, under the auspices of the club. Also, discussed at this meeting was the tentative dance that will be sponsored by the club and directed by the Girl Scouts, the purpose of which will be to give the girls experience in planning and executing entertainment.

Mrs. Jesse Moye gave a report taken from the North Carolina Clubwoman publication, choosing as her subject, the character, Mrs. Clement Attlee, wife of the Prime Minister of Great Britain.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served delicious pineapple-ice box dessert, sandwiches, pickles and Russian tea.

Merry Matrons

Mrs. J. W. Parker was gracious hostess to the Merry Matrons and visitors, Mrs. E. R. Clegg, Mrs. J. H. Darden, Mrs. Cherry Easley, and Mrs. Charles Hussey, of Wilson, guest of Mrs. M. V. Jones.

Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. R. A. Fields.

Officers who will serve in the current year are as follows: President, Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt; Vice President, Mrs. J. M. Hobgood; Secretary, Mrs. John T. Thorne; and Treasurer, Mrs. A. C. Monk, Sr.

Mrs. Cherry Easley gave a comprehensive study of the life of Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, in the absence of the program chairman, Mrs. B. O. Turnage. Mrs. Easley interestingly told of the great heights of accomplishments and the great despair, that Madame Schumann-Heink, experienced in her life, and quoted in her closing remarks, Schumann-Heink's own summation, "It's a long, long trail—a long way I've come, a rough way in many places, but it has been a wonderful life, and I wouldn't have missed it, or changed it for any other, for I've learned something in these starving, working, bitter and golden years . . . and I've come at last, to the top of the little tree I planted years ago."

The hostess served delectable heavenly hash followed by demi-tasse, bird nest cookies, sand tarts, salted nuts, and mints.

New Deal Club

Mrs. W. Leslie Smith was gracious hostess to members of the New Deal Club and additional guests, Mrs. Pat Ruffin and Mrs. Wesley R. Willis, on Wednesday afternoon. The Smith home, on Church street, was pleasingly decorated with arrangements of roses, chrysanthemums and potted plants.

High score prize for clubmembers, dusting powder, was awarded Mrs. S. A. Roebuck, and Mrs. Wesley R. Willis won the guest prize, a crystal ash tray. The consolation, perfumed cigarette matches, went to Mrs. Pat Ruffin.

At the close of the progressive games, the hostess served a delectable pear salad, sandwiches, cookies and coffee.

Wednesday Afternoon Club

Mrs. John E. King delightfully entertained the Wednesday Afternoon Club this week with Mrs. M. V. Horton and Mrs. Edison Moore attending as special guests.

Hawthorne, in pleasing arrangements, and potted greenery made a lovely setting for the tables in play.

Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., was awarded the top score prize, a leather coin purse, and high score award for visitors, Hi-Jacs, was won by Mrs. M. V. Horton.

A salad plate with coffee was served when cards were laid aside.

Lantrad Club

Mrs. W. Alex Allen was gracious hostess to the Lantrad Club and additional guests, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. R. T. Williams, Mrs. T. S. Ryot, Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss, Mrs. Frank K. Allen, Mrs. George Allen, Mrs. Charles Duke and Miss Elizabeth Davis, on Friday afternoon, at which time the home was made attractive by the use of callenias and chrysanthemums in decorative arrangements.

When scores were added, Mrs. Duke was found to be the winner of the top score prize, ash trays.

Delicious tipsy cake, salted nuts, and coffee were served by the hostess.

In a reasonably well-built stable, a property installed fan system will be effective at all temperatures and under all conditions.

Frances E. Dupree Is Bride Of James Walter Redmond

Double Ring Ceremony Units Couple In Early Sunday Afternoon Rites

In early afternoon rites, characterized by dignity and simplicity, Miss Frances Earlene Dupree, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerald Dupree, Jr., and James Walter Redmond, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Redmond, of Meadville, Pa., were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony on Sunday, January 20, in Farmville's Presbyterian Church. Officiating minister was the pastor, the Rev. Edwin S. Coates.

The church was decorated with floor baskets of white gladioli, pom-pom chrysanthemums and lace fern, interspersed with fern-twined floor standards of cathedral candles.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, pianist, rendered a program of nuptial music, consisting of "Romance," by Rubenstein, Opus 24, by Schumann, "Elegy" by Massenet and "Confidence" by Mendelssohn. During the ceremony "Love Song" from Faust was softly played and the traditional wedding marches were used. Mrs. Hobgood wore a black velvet gown and a corsage of tallman roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of satin with a sweetheart neckline, seapleat trimmed. A fitted bodice, which fastened down the back with tiny self-covered buttons, had full sleeves fitted from the elbows and ending in a point over the hands. Her full skirt had a train. Her veil of illusion fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and extended the length of the train. She wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet of bride's roses and pom-pom chrysanthemums, was centered with a purple-throated orchid and showered with satin ribbon.

Mrs. Frank Titus Carr, of Ayden, was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a dress of heavenly blue marquisette over satin, made with a shirred bodice and a sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves and a long full skirt. Her headress was of matching maline. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and carnations tied with pink ribbon.

The best man was Frank Titus Carr. Ushers were Frank Gerald Dupree, III, brother of the bride, D. Emerson Smith, Robert P. Pierce and Carol W. Modlin.

The mother of the bride wore a brown crepe dress and a corsage of Tallman roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a black crepe dress, sequin trimmed, and her flowers were red roses.

The bride, a young woman of charming personality, is an alumna of Georgia State Teachers College, Milledgeville, Ga. After graduation in 1942, she taught in the Atlanta city schools, but for the past year and a half has been connected with the Welfare and Social Service office at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The bridegroom, a graduate of electrical and chemical engineering at Pennsylvania State College, has been associated for the past three years with the Clinton Engineering plant, at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained the bridal party, members of the families and out of town guests at a buffet luncheon.

Mrs. Redmond has been the inspiration for a number of lovely presential courtesies since announcement of her engagement in December.

Thursday evening, preceding the wedding, Mrs. R. T. Williams charmingly entertained at a dessert-bridge party honoring the bride-elect.

Refreshment tables were laid with bridal appointments in a setting of white pom-pom chrysanthemums, gladioli and white tapers, which effectively carried the traditional nuptial colors of green and white. A miniature bridal scene decorated the mantel. Fruit gelatine, topped with cream, cakes iced in valley lily motif, mints, nuts and coffee were served after the guests had arrived by the hostess, assisted by Miss Ruth Smith.

In the progressive contract games, Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver compiled high score and was awarded a set of individual refreshment trays; Mrs. Alan Drake retained the floating prize, floral nothings, and Miss Janie Blair Cox, of Winterville, received the consolation, bridge ash trays.

The honoree was presented, china in her chosen pattern by the hostess, who remembered also Miss Cox, bride-elect, with silver; Miss Marian Lucille Davis, bride-elect with handkerchiefs, and Mrs. David Emerson Smith and Mrs. Robert D. Rouse, Jr., recent brides, with linen towels.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Bergeron, uncle and aunt of the bride-elect, were hosts at a cake-cutting following the rehearsal, Saturday evening. The bridal party, members of the families and out of town friends were in attendance.

The table was spread with an Irish lace cloth and centered with a bridal scene encircled by eucalyptus. The tiered bride's cake, with its miniature bride and bridegroom, was placed at one end of the table and illuminated by white candles in crystal candelabra. The bride was assisted by Mrs. Charles F. Bancom in serving the wedding cake. Mrs. Mabrey B. Pollard, aunt of the bride-elect, served bridal teas from the other end of the table. Serving mints and salted nuts were Mrs. Virginia B. Howerton and Miss Hazel Taylor.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Munden announce the birth of a daughter, Miriam Elsie, born Friday, January 18, at the Woodard-Herring Hospital, Wilson.

ATTEND DANCE

Young ladies from Farmville, Raleigh, Wilson and Kinston attended a formal dance given at the Seymour Johnson Service Center, Goldsboro, for enlisted personnel, on Monday evening of this week. Mrs. G. M. Shirley and Mrs. B. J. Skinner chaperoned the local group.

ATTEND GREENVILLE MEETING

Mrs. B. Stroeter Sheppard, Mrs. John T. Thorne, Mrs. Ernest Barrett, Miss Betty Joyner and Miss Tabitha DeViventi, members of the Farmville Garden Club attended a special meeting of the Greenville Garden Club, which met at E. C. T. Co., in Greenville on Friday. A Red Cross Nutrition exhibit was displayed and the slides in natural color, entitled, "Highway Beautification" were shown.
